Spring Assizes

The following cases were heard before Chancellor Boyd at Owen Sound last week:

Young vs. Owen Sound Dredge Co. and Dr. Horsey.- This case occupied the the whole of Tuesday afternoon and the greater part of Wednesday. The action was brought for $5000 damages for the death of Thomas Young, who in June last was drowned off the tug Rover, which was working in connection with the dredge plant. The negligence as against the defendants was the piling of wood on part of the deck of the Rover, which constitutes the passage ways, and the plaintiff strove to show that it was as a result of the wood being carelessly piled that Thomas Young fell overboard. The defendants denied any negligence, claiming that the wood was solidly and carefully piled, and that there was no place else to carry the wood in going on the journey to Byng Inlet. They also stated that Young, who was stated to be going from the rear of the tug to the forward part for the purpose of going down into the fire hole could have gone along the side of the deck which was next to dredge, and would have had a safe walk four feet wide had he done so. The plaintiff also claimed that the necessary life-saving apparatus was not in connection with the tug. The defendants denied this, claiming that the law was complied with in every respect. The action was dismissed as against the Dredge Company, and the case left to the jury as against Dr. Horsey, who owns the tug. The jury, after being out four hours, returned with a verdict of $300 for the plaintiff, and on being asked by his lordship in what way they thought the defendant was negligent they said they thought that the wood was unnecessarily piled in the passageway. Costs in part of the Dredge were ordered to be set off against the plaintiff's costs, and judgement entered for $300, a stay of thirty days being allowed for the purpose of allowing an appeal to the Court of Appeal. W. J. Hatton for plaintiff; A. G. MacKay and H. E. Sampson for defendants.

Miles vs. Miles was an action for slander. The defendant had some two years ago gone to the States and obtained a divorce in one of the New York Courts, and afterwards married in this county. His former wife brought an action against him for damages for slandering her, claiming nominal damages under the act which provides for this. Verdict for the plaintiff for $1 damages and costs. MacKay and Sampson for plaintiff; Lucas, Wright & Bateson for defendant.

McBain vs. Campbell was a seduction action brought by the mother of Fanny Isabel McBain against Wm. George Campbell of Holland. The plaintiff alleged that the defendant had been keeping company with her daughter for several years, and that they were engaged to be married prior to her seduction. Verdict for the plaintiff $800 and costs. McKay & Sampson for plaintiff; Lucas, Wright & Batson for Deft.

Cole vs. C. P. R. was an action for damages arising out of John Cole's death through falling over the dock last summer, and was settled out of court. W.J. Hatton; Wells & McMurchy (Toronto), for Defendants Torry vs. Long was a seduction action, and settled out of court. H. P. O'Connor of Walkerton paintiff; McKay & Sampson for defendant.

Lloyd & Scully vs. The Rat Portage Cold Storage Company—Is an action to recover the value of two shipments of butter, and was spoken to pending settlement, and stands for judgement. MacKay & Sampson for plaintiffs; Boyce & Draper (Rat Portage) for Defendants.

Dow vs Mutual Reserve.—An Action to recover the amount of an insurance policy, was settled out of court. W. J. Hatton for plaintiff; Wells & McMurchy for defendants.

McPhee vs. Dow—An action arising out of the former one; also settled out of court. J. Birnie (Collingwood) for plff; W. J. Hatton for deft.

McKendrick vs. The William Kennedy Sons (Limited).—This was the last action tried at the court and was brought by Peter McKendrick against Kennedy & Sons to recover damages for personal injuries received from the falling of a weight in defendants' foundry. The action was under The Workmen's Compensation Act. Judgement for plaintiff for $10.0 and costs. W. J. Hatton for plaintiff; J. H. Denton (Toronto) for defendants.

NOTICE

At my sale on 1st March, 1900, I learned that Mr. R Plant had posted a notice on the road leading to my place stating he had cattle for sale, and thinking at the time that his notice might imply injury in some degree to my sale, in this state of feeling I accused Mr. Plantt of getting his living in such ways. I hereby retract and apologize to Mr. Plantt for such statement.

Stone's Settlement.

From Our Own Correspondent.

We are glad to state that the unpleasantness which exists in our P. School at the beginning of the year has been nearly obliterated by the smooth and harmonious operations of the last few weeks. A combination of kindness, patience and firmness on the part of a teacher forms an important feature in ruling a school.

The wave of juvenile enthusiasm which prevailed in our school on receipt of the news of the relief of Ladysmith was notably remarkable. Crayon pencils, manipulated by nimble little fingers were busily engaged in drawing miniature Union Jacks, little lungs belched forth big hurrahs for White, Roberts, and Buller, little throats were swollen in attempting to sing God Save the Queen (in five sharps) while little hands waved little Union Jacks with wild delight, even the old soldier declared that he felt ten years younger than he did three months ago, and proudly asserts, that age and infirmity are the only obstacles which prevent him from offering a helping hand to wind up old Kruger.

Some of our neighbors were so well pleased with the Patriotic concert given in Priceville last week that they have purchased tickets for the Flesherton concert to-morrow (Wednesday) night.

Miss Lizzie McArthur spent a couple of weeks with friends in Owen Sound. Miss M. A. and Mabel with their brother George spent Saturday and Sunday with friends in Proton.

A few young folks spent a very pleasant evening at the home of their schoolmate Miss Rosina Robinson, on Friday last.

Mr. Ulrick Stone who has secured a homestead in the N. W. T. will leave here about the end of the present month to settle in his new home. May success attend you, Ulrick.

Mr. Fred Gee, formerly of the regular army, has received an official letter from Ottawa, recognizing his claim to the Fenian Raid medal, 1866, which will be forwarded to him when the regular form which he has to fill up has been verified by the War Office authorities, London, Eng., and returned to the Canadian authorities at Ottawa.

Obituary.

On Wednesday, after a long lingering illness. Elizabeth Jane, beloved wife of James Cornfield Sr., Mt. Zion, passed quietly away to her reward.

Deceased was born in Chinguacousy Township, Peel County, on April 30th 1832, where she lived until about 3 years after her marriage to James Cornfield of the same Township, on March 21st 1850; when she removed with him to the home where she died, at Mount Zion, Grey County.

She expressed a wish a short time ago that she might be spared to see the 50th anniversary of her wedding-day, but, as was characteristic of all her doings the wish was made in submission to God's will.

About 54 years ago she united with the Methodist church, and since that time she has remained faithful and consistent, and through all her suffering, shone the light of God's love, and by her, His hand was seen through all. The remains were interred in Mt. Zion cemetery on Friday 8th inst., the Rev J. V. Plunkett pastor of Mt. Zion Methodist church preaching the funeral sermon from Ps. 115, 15th verse "Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of His saints." Behind, she has left the bereft husband and four sons—James and Robert of Mt. Zion, Joseph of Flesherton, and Newton of Toronto; and six daughters—Elizabeth (Mrs. S. Barron) of Kansas; Harriett (Mrs. John Rutherford) of Mulmur Twp; Nellie, (Mrs. Wilson) of Toronto; Maggie (Mrs. S. McGee) of Toronto, Louie, of Mt. Zion, and Mabel of Toronto. Two daughters preceded her to the home above: Frances, who died Oct. 3, 1883, and Mary, who died May 14, 1899. She was tired yesterday, but not today. The race she's run, not weary

His blessed way.
For she had His strength to stay her.
With His might, her feet were shod;
Now she's found the resting-places
In the promises of God.

Vandeleur

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mr. S. Boyd of Euphrasia, who purchased Mr. Wm. Kells' farm last fall, took possession last week.

Mr. Wes. Kells has moved to the homestead, which he purchased from his father.

Mr. A. Hutchinson of Feversham spent a few days last week with friends in this vicinity.

Mr. R. Cornett of Dundalk spent a few days last week in this vicinity working in the interest of the Canadian Order of Foresters, which resulted in nine new members being added to Court Vandeleur on Friday evening, with more to follow.

Born—On Sunday, 12th inst., to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Somers, a son.

THOUSANDS SURRENDER.

London, Monday, March 19.—Despatches from Cape Town and Bloemfontein indicate that the Free State Boers are increasingly ready to cease the contest. Organized military resistance in the southern half of the Republic is almost ended. The Bethulie and Norval's Pont commandoes have partly surrendered. The remainder, reported to number 2,000, have trekked to Dewetsdorp, south of Thaba'n Chu, to which place Gen. Roberts mentions that he has sent a force.

Fight hundred Free Staters have surrendered in Basutoland, while, according to a despatch from Bloemfontein to the Daily Mail, dated March 16, Boers are coming in at every station along the railway from Bloemfontein and Springfontein and surrendering their arms

The correspondent says that 2,500 rifles were surrendered on the day he sent the despatch.

Five hundred burghers have surrendered at Bloemfontein, all of them taking an oath when they surrendered not to take up arms against the British during the present war, nor to furnish assistance or information to any member of the Republican forces. They also swore to remain quiely at home until the war is over.

They are aware that if they break this oath in any respect they will be liable to such penalty as the custom of war prescribes. The rolling stock captured by the British at Bloemfontein consists of 25 locomotives, 13 carriages, 3 brake vans and 124 short wagons.

The S. S. Monterey sailed from Halifax for South Africa on Saturday morning with Strathcona's Horse and the contingent recruits on board.

The War fever, as was expected, has invaded the realm of millinery and we are told in the reports of the city openings in the Toronto papers how this line must be worked up, viz: The "Ladysmith" hat is a large slouch hat of khaki-colored straw such as the soldiers wear in South Africa. The brim is turned up at one side, and is underfaced by bands of red, white and blue velvet. About the crown a silken Union Jack is gracefully draped and fastened into place by means of red, white and blue pins. Besides the "Ladysmith" hat are the "Kimberley" hats, small turban shapes of khaki-colored panama, with a fancy edge. They are trimmed with folds of stiff mousseline de soie, in khaki-color, through which eagle quills are carelessly drawn.

On Saturday morning last the citizens of Meaford were horrified to learn that a well known character named Thos. Boyle was found lying dead in the Queen's Hotel stables on Friday evening about 6.30 o'clock. It seems that Boyle had been drinking heavily on Friday and in the afternoon was so badly intoxicated that he fell in a pool of water on Sykes street out of which he was taken and in that condition carried to the Queen's Hotel stables and laid down in an empty stall where he evidently died from exposure to cold. Coroner Hurlburt of Thornbury was sent for to investigate the case. He empanelled a jury, who after hearing the available evidence rendered the following verdict: "That Thomas Boyle came to his death from congestion of the lungs caused by exposure while under the influence of liquor and we cannot attach the blame to any person in particular." Thomas Boyle was a good farm hand and worked for many of the farmers, during the last twenty years, in St. Vincent and Euphrasia. He was not married so he leaves no dependents. He has brothers in this district who attended to his burial on Sunday.

Extremely fortunate is Miss Lucy McIntosh, a young woman who for several years has worked in Owen Sound and vicinity as a domestic servant, and who is now in the employ of Mrs. A. W. Dunard of Derby. Orphaned early in life she was thrown on her own resources when a young girl, and entered domestic service. Now, at the age of thirty, she finds herself heiress to a fortune of $14,000, bequeathed her by an aunt in Glengarry. Miss McIntosh will leave next week for that place. It is understood that Miss McIntosh is the sole heiress through some of the other relatives seem to believe they will come in for a share of the fortune.—O. S. Times.

We look into a cradle and behold a male child. At the age of ten he is a noisy kid with half the buttons off his pants and an eye to mischief. At the age of 15 he is a devil in a printing shop, at 25 the publisher of a country newspaper, at the head of every enterprise calculated to improve the town or enrich the business thereof, at 35 he is an emaciated and worried man, with holes in his pockets and a bald head, at the age of 50 he is a corpse in a cheap coffin and his only resources left behind are two cases of long primer type, a Washington hand press and a subscription book with 500 names on it. Some day he will line up and march past the coffin, saying, "He was a public spirited fellow but he couldn't save anything."

Lieut. Col. Telford, of the 31st Batt., received word from the Militia Department on Saturday last that the 31st. would be required to furnish eight men for garrison duty at the city of Halifax. The men are required to replace the Leicester regiment which has been ordered to South Africa. Up to Tuesday three applicants had been accepted. They are Joseph H. Staples, William McKinnon and James E. Thompkins, and all belong to Owen Sound.—Chatsworth Banner
