Mr Andrew McKean, of Gibralter, had the great misfortune to have his sawmil, burned to the ground on Wednesday night last. This will be a great loss to Mr McKean as he had one of the best equipped mills in the country. The cause of the fire is unknown, the mill being burned about 11 o'clock p m. Mr McKean had been down to the mill an hour before his loss looking around. The loss will be between ten or twelve thousand dollars. The whole countryside sympathizes with Mr. McKean.

Quite a number from here attended a party at T Gilliland's, Eugenia, and report a good time.

Here is a judgement with a lot of horse sense to it. A Kincardine lad stole some scrap metal and sold it to a junk dealer. He pleaded guilty before the court. Thereupon an uncle gave a bond for the boy's good behavior, good for one year. Tacked to it by Judge Klein was an agreement that the boy was to cut out the movies, visit the public library reading room at least twice a week, go to Sunday School regularly, and at the end of the twelve months report back to the judge.

The price of the papers was $4 cash. A number subscribed, paying him the cash. He claimed the International Printing Co., Toronto, was the firm which did the work for all these papers. Getting into communication with the Mail & Empire they said they had no such agent authorized to do business for them and they also made a further investigation and could find no trace of any International Printing Co. in Toronto doing business. No doubt he will visit other towns and villages doing the same work, and we believe this matter should be given wide publicity.
