We've Get 'Em Here

Here comes an alderman from Windsor who wants a law passed to prevent the use of motor cars for spooning purposes because he claims that in one night no fewer than seventeen cars being used for the purpose. The very idea! What's the matter with the alderman anyway? Windsor hasn't any monopoly of the spooning in cars business. There isn't a cross roads hamlet or a big city with all the other sixed places between them that hasn't its fair share. But when the Windsor alderman gets into statistice it is clear that he has been snooping if he knows just how much spooning is going on. And that reminds me that only a few days ago a citizen came to me with a similar story. But I would like to know what's wrong with young folks spooning in cars if they want to? Is spooning in an automobile any worse than doing it in the darkened recesses of a verandah or on a seat in the park? Spooning was invented before cars were, yes, even before a lot of people were born, and will be after they are dead and gone. Let the young folks spoon if they want to. Besides its a great saving of electric light bills.—Port Elgin Times.

The share in the trout preserve and farm at Rowbottom's belonging to the estate of the late S. Bell was sold at auction in Dundalk to R. W. Brett of Shelburne.

JUNIOR AGRICULTURE

Boys' and Girls' Live Stock Club Work.

Some Specialize In Calves, Sheep or Pigs, Others Generalize — Banks Accept Notes of Juniors In Regular Business Way.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

THE Boys' and Girls' movement bids fair to rival school fair work as the most popular feature of agricultural extension work. Perhaps this is due to the fact that boys and girls literally love animal pets — things that are alive and respond to care and kind treatment. Moreover, because they can call the calf, pig, or sheep their very own, and because some day they hope to sell their animal at a profit and spend the money as they wish, it sustains and animates their interest.

Wherever these live stock clubs have been organized the representatives have the active support and co-operation of the live stock men in the community. This augurs well for the future of Ontario's junior farmers. The boys are commencing early in life to get into the pure-bred live stock business and it is confidently hoped that they will receive every encouragement from their parents and others.

The first live stock clubs for boys and girls came into being in the early months of 1919. Counting those which were formed previous to the period covered by this report and those that were organized in 1919, there are 6 calf clubs, 10 pig clubs, 2 sheep clubs and 2 live stock clubs or a total of 20 boys' and girls' live stock clubs with a membership of 450. This is a small beginning, but a number are now in the process of formation and the work will soon spread to every county in the province.

In the purchasing of animals, arrangements are usually made with the local banks to advance the necessary funds on the security of a note from the boy or girl for a definite period at a fixed rate of interest. These notes must be endorsed to the satisfaction of the bank by their parents or guardians. As a rule nothing but pure-bred animals are purchased and these are registered in the name of the boy or girl owner. As a protection, the animals are insured until such time as the notes are paid at the bank.

Both Beef and Dairy Calf Clubs have been organized. The Dufferin County Shorthorn Calf Club has regulations similar to those of other calf clubs formed in the province but there was no special day set apart for distribution of the stock.

In other Shorthorn Calf Clubs organized, heifers from 8-15 months have been distributed to the members. The initial cost in this case was not so great, yet a greater length of time will elapse before any returns are secured.

In some of the Shorthorn and Holstein calf clubs, auction sales were held in order that the members might secure money to pay off their notes. The members had the privilege of bidding in their own animals if they wished. An auction sale for club work has its advantages and disadvatnages. If the animals turn out satisfactorily, they should be kept in the members' hands. It defeats the very object for which it was organized, and hence these now being formed are not considering the question of auction sales at all. There is a point in favor of auction sales, and that is that it gives the club a great deal of publicity.

In the Halton County Calf Club, the 27 heifers distributed in February were sold at auction on August 20. A fair was held previous to the sale at which special prizes were awarded.

The Peel County Calf Club held a show and sale just one year after the dairy heifers were distributed to the members, when $85 was offered in prize money by public-spirited persons.

All members in the Peel Dairy Calf Club had to submit records of feed and milk together with a financial statement showing the profit on their enterprise.

There has been only one sheep club formed during the past year and that was the Albion Sheep Club in the County of Peel.

In the previous sheep club formed in Peel a year ago, two Oxford Down ewes in lamb were distributed to each member. Unfortunately some of the ewes proved not to be in lamb and others lambed unexpectedly in the middle of winter. This proved a hardship to some of the club members though the breeders from whom the ewes had been bought very kindly exchanged those without lambs for two shearling ewes each with a ewe lamb. The 14 members each with 2 sheep had 25 lambs and after the transfers had been made the average was just over 1 lamb per ewe.

In an endeavor to avoid the early lamb misfortune of last season, the representative from Peel organized a breeding flock in connection with the Albion Club. The shearlings were shipped in and flocked with a good pure-bred ram on Nov. 12 which resulted in lambs being born at a time when the weather was more favorable.

There are two live stock clubs formed in the province, one in Waterloo County and the other in Brant County. They are confined to pure-bred animals, but they differ from the calf, pigs, or sheep clubs already mentioned in that all classes of animals are included.—R. S. Duncan, Director Agricultural Representatives.

It is estimated that every year forest fires in America destroy more than $200,000,000 worth of standing timber.

Insurance Is Good, But—

Insurance will, in a measure, repay you for loss from fire due to lightning.

But it will not prevent the fire.

It takes the DODD System of Lightning Protection to do that.

In the past thirty years over 300,000 buildings have been rodded by the DODD System and in not a single instance is there a record of the DODD System properly installed, having failed to prevent damage by lightning.

The fact that you haven't yet suffered loss by lightning only means that you are fortunate, not that you are proof against it. Ask us today what it will cost you to have DODD protection.
