TORONTO RESERVE
A PORTION OF THE TORONTO ORDNANCE RESERVE will be offered to public competition on WEDNESDAY, the 28th day of January next, at the hour of TWO o'clock, p.m., at the Auction rooms of Alessis Wakefield Coate & Co.
This portion of the Reserve is divided into BUILDING LOTS, varying from 50 to 60 feet in front, and from 104 to 130 in depth. These lots are situate on the extension of King, Adelaide and Bloor or Wellington Streets West, and on Strachan Avenue, a new thoroughfare 80 feet wide, commencing at Queen Street, opposite the front of Trinity College.
A large number of most desirable Building Lots will also be found on Stafford Street, a new Street, lying parallel to, but to the east of, Strachan Avenue.
The new Streets and the extension of those of Colbor date, are in process of grading, and will be completed before the spring. An immediate and substantial income will accrue to the Proprietors of Duke and Wellington Streets.
Lithographed Plans of the Property, Streets and Lots, showing the dimensions of each and a Chart in progress and will be procurable at the Office of Messrs. Devins, Boulton and Co., Civil Engineers and Land Surveyors, 167 King Street West Toronto, on and after the 5th January 1857.
TERMS—One tenth of purchase money to be paid down at the time of sale; the balance in nine equal annual instalments, with interest semi-annually upon all moneys remaining unpaid, on 24th July, and 24th of January. Further conditions made known at the day of sale.

II.
THE EDINBURGH REVIEW (Whig.)
III.
THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW (Free Church.)
IV.
THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW (Liberal.)
BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH Magazine (Tory.)
These Periodicals only represent the three great political parties of Great Britain—Whig, Tory and Radical—but politics form only one feature of their character. As organs of the most profound writers on Science, Literature, Morality and Religion they stand, as they ever have stood, unrivalled, in the world of letters, being considered indispensable to the scholar and the professional man; while, to the intelligent reader of every class they furnish a more correct and satisfactory record of the current literature of the day, throughout the world, than can be possibly obtained from any other source.
EARLY COPIES.
The receipt of ADVANCE SHEETS from the British Publishers gives additional value of these Reprints, inasmuch as they can now be placed in the hands of the subscribers almost as soon as the original editions.

Coleridge's Ancient Mariner, Illustrated. The Rime of the Ancient Mariner. A Ballad Poem in Seven Parts. By S. T. Coleridge. Beautifully embellished after designs by Birket Foster, and other eminent artists. 1 neat vol. square 8vo, in fine extra cloth gilt, 4 50
—or, in morocco extra 3 00
The crowning flower of the genius of S. T. Coleridge, beyond a doubt, is his immortal poem of "The Ancient Mariner." Of this great work it may be truly said, that it is "of imagination all compact." Every line, almost every word, is suggestive of the grandest or most beautiful imagery. For this reason it has been called "the most wonderful of all examples of true, picture writing." It is consequently one of the finest of all English poems, for illustration by the imaginative painter. In the present unapproachable edition, it will be seen that a genius kindred to that of Coleridge himself has given to mind and reality to the poet's visions. The volume will be received as a priceless gem by the lovers of the Pictorial art.
The Doryman's Daughter. An Authentic Narrative. By the Rev. Leigh Richmond. With numerous illustrations by Birket Foster, and others. 1 neat vol square 12mo in extra cloth gilt, 1 50
—or, in morocco extra, 3 00.
"This exquisite Christian tale by the Rev. Leigh Richmond, may be regarded as upon the whole, the most charming, instructive, and popular work of its kind ever written. The gentle daughter of the humble cottager has become the religious teacher of millions. Her memory is embalmed in hearts, with the tender and pure reverence due to such a saint. Mr. Richmond's beautiful and touching memoir of her, is by the common consent of critics, reckoned among the classics of our language. The religious world will be gratified that such a production has been brought out with appropriate richness of typography and tastic illustrations. The book printed on fine vellum paper, of a cream tint, with engravings after Birket Foster and others, must become the religious souvenir of the season."
