Banquet at Eugenia

On Saturday, May 5, Eugenia was favored by a visit from the Councillors of Artemesia, who met in the Orange Hall and transacted business, a report of which meeting appeared in our columns last week. After the day's proceedings were over a goodly company repaired to the elegant dining room of mine host Munshaw who had provided a sumptuous repast for the occasion, to which the Council as a body was invited by the citizens of Eugenia. After ample justice had been done to the good things provided Mr. Kells was requested to take the chair, which he did, and proceeded to give the speech of the evening, referring to many matters of public interest in the township, especially noting the many advantages of Eugenia's water powers, both developed and those yet undeveloped, and recognizing the great need of railway communication, electric or otherwise, to aid in the development of magnificent energies that are now lying dormant, locked up in those unsurpassed waterpowers which, if developed, would be a source of revenue to the township and wealth to the people. Mr. Kells expressed his very great pleasure at his visit here with the council, and proposed a toast to the Citizens of Eugenia coupled with the name of Mr. T. W. Wilson. Mr. Wilson replied in a very happy strain, making note of the many good things the former speaker had said of Eugenia, and the matters affecting the public good and industrial advancement. Mr. Wilson hoped that measures would be taken to induce parties who hold undeveloped properties in the immediate neighborhood of Eugenia to sell at reasonable price—properties which if developed, would be a source of profit and advancement to the place, and of substantial assistance to the township—which properties are now rather a source of hindrance to the general welfare because the owners will neither develop them themselves nor offer them for sale at such rates as would induce capitalists to purchase and develop them. And yet, the owners are exceedingly anxious that the assessment on these properties shall be a mere nothing. Mr. Wilson was glad that some of the properties were passing into the hands of younger and progressive business men and the town was feeling the impulse of vigorous effort and life. He hoped the council would see their way clear to often call here.

Mr Walker Sloan made some pointed remarks, giving elaboration to the stand taken by Mr. Wilson regarding vacant undeveloped properties. He was also pleased at the action of the Council in paying Eugenia an official visit, and said "Come again."

Mr. Solomon Turner made a neat little speech, voicing his pleasure at the turn of events and believed it presaged better things.

Mr. Wilson proposed a toast to the worthy Reeve and Councillors, coupled with the name af Mr. Bellamy, the respected Clerk, who replied in a felicitous little speech that captivated everyone.

Mr. McTavish, the Reeve, gave some pointed practical remarks and ended with expressions of pleasure at the visit of the Council to Eugenia, noting that this was the first time the Council had met for deliberation in Eugenia in forty years, and hoped it would not be forty years again before they paid another such visit, and was delighted at the reception given the council by the Eugenia citizens.

Councillors Thompson and Muir made some practical and pleasing remarks.

Mr. Kells here proposed a toast, "Our army and navy," coupled with the names of Mr F. T. Carr and Mr. John Boyd. Mr. Carr rising to reply was taken very much by surprise and somewhat at a disadvantage, but staggered through as best he could, reviewing somewhat the features of the empire's present war in South Africa and the achievements of our army there, aided so nobly by a very small but gallant and able portion of the marines. The pent up enthusiasm of the company was let loose in ringing cheers, causing the speaker to stop until Canadian loyalty and patriotism of the company present had given expression to the full at the mention of the heroic deeds of our Canadian boys who are fighting the empire's battles shoulder to shoulder with the regiments of the imperial army and under the greatest general of modern times. Our gallant Canadian volunteers are given the place of honor at the head of the British army, leading the van.

Mr. Boyd followed, recounting the incidents leading up to the war, and in a neat, well put-together speech carried the crowd along with him in his review of the army and navy.

A toast by Mr. Kells to "Our hosts, Mr. and Mrs Munshaw," was replied to in a sensible way by Mr. Munshaw, who hoped that the Council might often take an outing and spend a day here.

Several songs were sung throughout the course of the evening and a very enjoyable time was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem.

Crushed in a Quarry.

Orangeville, Ont., May 11.—A terrible accident occured in the Owen Sound Company's quarries, in Mono. A number of workmen were engaged removing the surface material which covers the quarry stone. One of them, James McKitrick, was using a pickaxe and was in the act of loosening a piece of rock, when a mass of conglomerate fell from the overhanging wall of earth and stone. The unfortunate man was borne to the ground by the falling mass and pinned there, his head and shoulders alone remaining free. The men who were close at hand ran to his assistance, but were unable to remove the boulder of clay and stone, which weighed probably half a ton. More help had to be secured before McKitrick could be released from his terrible predicament. Then it was found the unfortunate fellow's left thigh was broken and the bones in the lower part of the trunk shattered and crushed. The weight of the fallen earth had forced the limbs apart and partly torn the body asunder. He cannot recover.

At the meeting of Orangeville Presbytery on May 1 the clerk read the statistical report for 1899, showing marked improvement and progress over the previous year, there having been reported increases as follows: in number of families in connection with congregations 93; communicants, 224; in amount paid for educational purposes, $1,213; in amount paid for all purposes, $2,446 It was resolved in accordance with recommendations in the report to adopt special means to increase the amount subscribed toward the schemes of the church. Mr. Bell reported having secured the following grants, for Corbetton and Riverview, $5 per Sabbath; Maxwell $100; Balinafad, $800 (to be reduced next year) St. Andrew's, Caledon, $50; The Maples, $50; (to be $25 after Oct 1st) Tarbert and Keldon, $100. Rev. Mr. Matheson and Mr. Curry, elder from Laurel, were appointed substitute delegates to the General Assembly. Mr. McMillan tendered his resignation of pastoral charge of Camilla and Mono Centre. The resignation was received and the congregations ordered to be cited at the July meeting.

The question everyone is asking himself this week is "What shall I do or where shall I spend the 24th? Public opinion seems to favor Markdale, where they are celebrating in grand style.

Mr. Wilson opened his creamery last week and we understand that this week things are working full blast. The prospect is bright for a prosperous season in the butter line.

New goods just in at the Trimble millinery rooms, and the milliners are this week displaying their art in some very beautiful midsummer creations in stylish headgear.

The I. O. F. Band has been engaged to attend the demonstration in Owen Sound on May 24. Many of our citizens will no doubt attend the sports at Markdale while others will accompany the band to the county town.

The extreme cold of last week has given place to regular summer heat this week and as a consequence foliage has burst suddenly into life. The trees are now clothed in their tender green and fruit blossoms are unfolding to scent the air with delicate perfume. Our rare song birds have also again arrived, and the whip-poor will can be heard whistling his plaintive song in the dusk of the evening, while in early morning Sir Oriole greets the unfolding green with his glorious love song. The annual renewal of life is with us, and while a mystery to all is ever enjoyable.

Markdale's 24th of May celebration will wind up with a grand concert in Marsh Hall, commencing at 8 o'clock p. m. The program is being arranged by Prof. J. H. Dundas and an enjoyable time is guaranteed. The prizes won at the sports will be presented to the winners between the first and second parts of the program.

Six prizes will be given to the winners of Markdale's ten-mile handicap bicycle road race. It is estimated that at least fifty riders will take part in this race as the youngest and greenest will be given as good a chance as the best. The race will consist of two trips around a five-mile block and the riders will be started in minute groups according to their handicap.

At the annual meeting of Flesherton Cemetery Trust, held on May 9th, 1900, it was resolved that the Secretary send an invitation to every plot holder to turn out on the 24th of May to improve his own plots, and the cemetery grounds in general. The Trustees will be glad to see all interested there to do what they they can towards beautifying the grounds.

Could Mr. Smith, operator at the station, throw any light upon the following mystery from the Owen Sound Times:—A good joke is being told at the expense of three well known young men about town. On Friday they boarded the C. P. R. train on a trout fishing excursion and got off at a station not more than a hundred miles distant. The vinicity is famous for its trout fishing, and the boys were not long in locating themselves at a spot whose very appearance was refreshing in its suggestion of speckled beauties. Their hooks were baited, their lines thrown in, and visions of a return with well filled baskets were arising before their minds, when suddenly a cloud loomed large in the neighborhood. It appeared in the form of a constable, who arrested the trio for illegally poaching on a reserve. Entreaties and even offers of the green had no effect on the obdurate limb of the law, so taking their rods to pieces, the disconsolate anglers, guying their captor to keep up their spirits, accompanied him to the village beak, where they settled to the tune of $5 and costs at least this is what their friends say. The young men themselves are painfully reticent on the subject. Very inquisitive persons are advised to enquire at Flesherton.

Almost Fatal Accident.

On Thursday of last week Mr. Sam Thompson of the back line, east, while coming in from the station with a load of peas and oats, weighing 1200 pounds, met with an accident that came within an ace of being fatal. In some way he fell off the wagon, when near the village and a hind wheel of the vehicle passed over his abdomen, inflicting what was thought for a time to be fatal injuries. He was conveyed to the residence of Mrs. Jane Thompson, and in the absence of Dr. Carter, Dr. Boyle of Priceville was summoned, under whose treatment he is now considered out of danger, but is as yet unable to be removed to his own home.

Mission Band Entertainment.

The Mission Band of the Methodist church is a children's society under the wing of the Woman's Missionary society. Its members range in age from 3 to 16 years. The Band here numbers 51 members and is presided over by Mrs. W. H. Thurston with Master Charley Hales as Vice President. It is customary to give an annual public entertainment in order to augment the Band funds and make known the objects and aims of the society. On Friday evening last this event took place in the body of the church, Rev. Mr. Ward conducting the opening service and calling upon the President to take charge of the program. This she did in a creditable manner. The program was not lengthy, but included music, singing, recitations and speeches. The little folks acquitted themselves splendidly, and some of our best singers among the "children of a larger growth" also took part and rendered some choice pieces. Between five and six dollars were added to the Band funds, and this was highly satisfactory. The work being done among the little ones in this way will, we believe, be of lasting benefit.

Golden Wedding.

A most interesting and significant event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Buckingham, Kirkville on the afternoon of May 1st. The occasion was the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding day.

Of ten children there were present: Elijah, Sophia, and Elizabeth who are at home; Mrs. Thos. Hawton, Rob Roy; Mr. Jas. Buckingham, Maxwell; Mr. William Buckingham, Feversham; Mr. Robt. Buckingham, Stayner, and Mrs. W. Pentland, Kirkville. Mrs. Munro of Chicago was unable to be present and consequently her three children. The other missing link was John who, three years ago, joined the great family above leaving behind him the sweetest memories. Not only to his wife and children was he dear, he lives on in the memories of friends and relatives. There are twenty-six grand children, three of whom were absent. All of the fourth generation were present and are three in number. Besides the wives of the sons and the husbands of the daughters the guests were:—Mrs. Buckingham whose deceased husband was a brother of the groom; Mrs. Wilson, Collingwood; Rev. E. T. and Mrs. Douglas, Maxwell; Rev. H. Wellwood, Collingwood; Rev. Mr. Chapman, (Baptist) Collingwood, and Rev. Mr. Barland, Kirkville (Presbyterian.)

At an opportune time in the day's proceedings, while the bride and groom were seated in their easy chairs, the company surrounded them and sang "Rock of Ages." Mr. Geo. Buckingham (grandson) then read a very comprehensive, appropriate and touching address in behalf of the three generations and friends. Valuable gifts in gold and other costly articles were presented by the two eldest of the family, Mrs. Hawton and Mr. Jas. Buckingham. Rev. E. T. Douglas responded in behalf of the honored couple after which Mr. Buckingham spoke in a very feeling manner of their long, happy and prosperous life together under the Providence of God; making mention also of the obedience, kindness and Christian character of all their children. Rev. H. Wellwood now spoke in very fitting terms and was followed by Rev. Mr. Chapman and Mr. Barland both of whom unfolded thoughts most suiting the occasion.

The wedding dinner now was ready and the bright and cheerful bride and bridegroom, of fifty years standing, were happy as never before as they sat down with their own generations around tables laden as they were not fifty years ago. The aged pair were the centre of all eyes as they told the thrilling tales of their life happy and prosperous, in the face of the great difficulties; clinging always to the promises of God and endeavoring also to abound in the work of the Methodist church of which they are members more than fifty years.

Mr. and Mrs. Buckingham were born on the same day of the month, May 1st. He is seventy-one and she is seventy. To behold such happy hearts, and to witness the prosperity of the children was to see the fulfilment of scripture, "Know therefore that the Lord thy God, he is God, the faithful God, which keepeth covenant and mercy with them that love Him and keep His commandments to a thousand generations." Deut. 7: 9. The celebration having ended and the company having departed to their own homes the happy and honored couple must have sat down in the sweet consciousness that they had not lived in vain.
