4½ per cent. private money loaned on easy terms of repayment by Geo. Rutherford, Shelburne. Expenses low. Communications receive prompt attention.

The officers of East Grey Agricultural Society met on Monday to revise the prize list, appoint committees, etc. The meeting was most harmonious throughout.

If the person that took the Spring Tooth Harrows from J. H. Heard's farm do not return them to J. H Heard's shop there will be some trouble over them very soon

Mr. Robt Purvis of Eugenia lost his little son, aged 6 years, on Tuesday morning. The little fellow had been ill for some time with a complication of diseases. The funeral took place yesterday, Wednesday.

A beautiful and long-continued rain on Friday and Saturday last made everyone's heart rejoice. It just came in the nick of time as the ground was becoming badly parched

Mrs. Bulmer met with a painful accident one day last week. While passing through a gateway she stumbled and fell, and the gate, a heavy iron affair, closed suddenly upon her hand, cutting it to the bone and laying bare all the tendons on back of the hand. Dr. Christoe dressed the wound.

Flesherton I. O. F. Band has been engaged by the banner L. O. L. of Toronto for the Twelfth of July demonstration in that city. This carries with it a fee of fifty dollars, and is a matter of pride to every member of the band and should also be to the citizens generally. It is a tribute to Flesherton talent which should be appreciated.

Sealed tenders will be received by the undersigned for the remodeling and shingling of the Presbyterian Church, Markdale. Plans and specifications may be seen at Frank Graham's implement shop. Tenders will be opened on Friday the 8th of June at 7 o'clock in the church. T. H. Wilson, Sec., Markdale, May 30th, 1900.

While in Maxwell last week the Advance had the pleasure of a visit to Mr. Wm. Guy's small fruit farm and nursery. Mr. Guy has 1½ acres planted in small fruit of nearly every kind, and what he does not know about growing these is small indeed. He expects to have an enormous crop of currants, gooseberries, etc., this year.

The wool market has been lively during the past week. There is strong opposition on the market this year and prices are above what is being paid in surrounding towns, consequently unusually large quantities are being offered. Prices have ranged from 16¼ to 17⅞ cents. Mr Sheppard bought a thousand pounds on Saturday, and M. Richardson & Co. also bought a large quantity.

For fresh Strawberries, Oranges, Lemons and Bananas, also Shelburne and Markdale flour, go to F. Bunt.

Prof. Stafford, Ph. D., of Toronto University, Mrs. Stafford and family are visiting the former's sister, Mrs. J.F. Ottewell.

The merchants in town are closing their respective places of business at 7. p. m. on week days excepting Saturdays for the summer season. The early closing movement is general in this district and we're glad to see so many in line.

Bro. Ramage of the Durham Review has an artistic eye and knows a nice thing when he sees it. In his report of the teachers convention he says: "Flesherton village and people were as cordial as ever. Its romantic streets, not held down by straight lines, glimpses of water and woodland, give it a charm of its own, while its churches, residences and business places seem fresh and fair."

Road Job

To let—On Saturday, the 9th day of June, at 6 o'clock p.m at the drill shed, Flesherton, about 200 rods of gravelling, 9 feet wide and seven inches thick.

Smith, Clinton and Christoe.

Personals

Miss Alice Joy is at present in Toronto Junction superintending the preparation for her brothers wedding.

Mrs. Skinner of Great Falls, Mont., is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Strain.

Mr. W. Talon, Toronto, spent a few days of the past week with Mr. R. N. Henderson. Mr. Talon is the oldest conductor on the Toronto street car system.

Dominion Day at Flesherton

Flesherton has at last decided to indulge in a holiday demonstration, and will do it on a thoroughgoing plan, too. The citizens' committee, which was appointed last week have their arrangements almost completed for one of the best day's sports ever given in this county, and it is not to be a money-making scheme, either. The citizens have gone down deeply into their pockets to subscribe to this event and give the public something better than they ordinarily get on similar occasions. The program is not yet quite completed. Among the sports we may mention a trades procession, swimming races, walking pole, tub race, greased pig, ten-mile bicycle road race, foot races, running, jumping, putting stone, etc. Bills giving full particulars will be issued shortly and in the meantime do not make any other engagements for Dominion Day.

Flesherton Celebrates Again

On Thursday morning last when news was received that the Boers had thrown up the job, hasty preparations were made to celebrate the occasion in fitting style, and an invitation was extended the pupils of Mr. Reid's school, south of the village, and the Ceylon pupils to participate, which invitation was accepted. At 2 p. m. a procession of over 200 children formed at the Baptist church, headed by "Gen. Bobs" on a grey charger, and followed by "young Canada," (Miss Maudie Henderson) dressed in tasteful style. Next followed the I. O. F. band and the 200 pupils. Popular military songs were played by the band as the procession paraded the streets finally bringing in the park, where a program of short, but interesting speeches, etc., was rendered. Mr A. S. VanDusen was honored with the chair. The band played the National Anthem, the school sang "For Queen, Flag and Country," the chairman followed with a short, instructive and appropriate speech. At this juncture Dr. Murray rendered a strictly original song, composed by himself on short notice, which took the crowd by storm. We quote the verses and can vouche for their originality:

Kruger had an army that he thought could beat the world
So he challenged dear old England and her
Paul gathered in for officers some Germans and some French,
Some Austrians and Russian bears, and built some hard wire fence.
They took the scratch at Elandslagte, but there they met their match,
For White with his few hundreds wiped them out with quick dispatch.
And Ladysmith was sure to fall, so Kruger shouted then,
But didn't count on Buller with ninety thousand men.

CHORUS

Kruger's shots that struck were only lent;
Our lyddite to his trenches quickly went,
Scaring some, smothering some, others died who tried to run,
Any kind of sprinting went when Kruger left his tent.

Well, White and men at Ladysmith were not any easy prey,
With Buller licking Joubert's men they knew they'd win the day,
And Cronje fought at Kimberly, but Kekewich did check,
And Plumer with colonial boys made Cronje try to break.
But there he made a sad mistake—his plans did not succeed,
For Canada was to the fore—they always took the lead.
They led him to our little Bobs, who met him with a smile,
And sent him for a holiday to St. Helena's Isle.
Then Roberts made for Bloemfontein, the capital to take
Which soon surrendered to his flag and Steyn began to quake,
While Baden Powell at Mafeking just more than held his own,
This proved to Paul and all the world that, Britain had backbone.
Again Canadian soldiers, their emblem maple leaf,
Made Kruger's men capitulate to Sayman' bitter grief.
Johannesburg was next to fall, the Boers had out in vain,
Then on to the grim Pretoria, But Kruger skipped again.
Paul Kruger, like John Gilpin, was a man of great renown,
But it took the British army to roast him good and brown,
To day he is a fugitive from all that justice claims,
But Brittain is a friendly foe with no vindictive aims.
So here's to dear old England, and may her flag long wave
O'er both Free State and Transvaal, now won by Brittain's brave,
And here's to something near and dearer than them all,—
Our own Canadian soldier boys, who, too, can fight and fall.

Mr. J. W. Frost of Owen Sound then delivered the speech of the day, and during the course of half an hour led his hearers over the now familiar ground. He contrasted the Canadian with British soldiers and showed wherein the value of the former lay in this war. He touched upon the burden Buller had to bear, and believed that he had fought valliantly against fearful odds. The school children now sang "The Maple Leaf" and the audience joined in the chorus. Other speakers who followed were Dr. Christoe, the new Baptist minister, Mr. Grimshaw and M. Richardson. Songs were also sung by Mr. Ritchie and Mr Barnhouse. This constituted the program. In the evening a huge bonfire was lit on the square. Some thoughtless young man rang the fire bell at 12 o'clock, which frightened the villagers very much. This feature of the celebration should certainly have been left out.

Messrs. Henry and William Whittaker of Sydenham, have fallen heirs to a tidy fortune, By a decision just given by the Court of Chancery in Dublin, Ireland, they are declared to be entitled to a fund which has remained in court since 1860. The sum involved is about $10,000. The two parties together with the heirs of a deceased brother in Weston, have been proved to be the heirs of George Whittaker of Drumcullen, County Fermanah. It is about five years since the litigation was entered upon and an order has been made for the payment out to the parties named. Mr. H. G. Tucker has had charge of the matter for the Whittakers.—O. FLESHERTON

Has only five more weeks of selling goods to make up two years since we came to Flesherton and we want to wind up the year with an extra spurt in selling goods, so we have decided to give you some extra bargains for that time. We will place for your inspection a lot of choice goods at prices that will surprise you. We have an extra large stock all bought at the old prices, and as you are aware most all kinds of goods have advanced very much in price. It means a great saving to be able to buy at the old prices.

We have quite a number of odd lots which we will clear out at much less than old prices.

SUMMER MILLINERY

We must give a little special mention to our Millinery which has been a great success. Since branching out into this line we have been more than pleased with our sales and the way the ladies have been pleased with their hats. We would ask all the ladies who have not yet bought their millinery for spring and summer to call and see us.

BOOTS & SHOES

We might mention that we have just received the balance of our large order of Spring Shoes and we are now able to suit any lady with the cheapest and the finest.

Ready-to-wear Summer Clothing—Clothes that will fit, wear and look well at very close prices.

We have an extra stock of white, colored and soft shirts—a beautiful selection. Something extra choice in a soft shirt with silk front, the very thing you want for summer.
