DUNDALK GREY COUNTY'S BIGGEST STORE TORONTO

McFarland & Co.

MARKDALE

This is a Cool Restful Store These Hot Days.

In the building and planning of this store a great deal of time was spent on these two very important points

1. How to have this store thoroughly cool on Hot days.
2. How to give the most convenience to our customers.

You know how well we have succeeded. Take for instance our Basement—what a cool restful place it is. You'd almost think you were in a large refrigerator. Then wander up to first floor. What a large airy, cool place, with plenty of light, lots of easy chairs with each department, so easy of access. Then if you are tired our bathroom and waiting rooms are at your disposal. You can lie down if you wish or sit and talk with your friends. These conveniences are yours, made specially for you. Make use of them. Besides all this we cull the markets of the world to place before our customers the best in every line of merchandise. We carry a stock not equalled out side our cities. Just now we are clearing out some lines of summer goods at these special prices:

Big Snap in Skirts

Cool, well cut. Every skirt neatly and thoroughly made. These come in pique, trimmed with fancy Duck strapping—plain linen crash with row of brade trimming. Plain khaki duck, Regular prices have been $1, $1.50 and $2 00 we are clearing them at.....

G. O. THOMPSON

That Resolution

To the Editor of the Advance

DEAR SIR,—Will you kindly print the following resolution and contents:

Mr. Boyd moved, seconded by Mr. Thompson, That the police trustees of Flesherton are hereby requested to complete the hand railing at what is known as Flesher's pond, and likewise put in good state of repair the sidewalk at or near the Boyne bridge, as this council considers the places named unsafe for public travel. And should the said trustees fail as herein requested then this council shall consider it to be in the interest of this township to make the said repairs and retain amount required for such purposes out of funds coming to the said trustees.

It is evident that Councillor Boyd takes his medicine very badly indeed, and I suppose, out of sympathy for him the council suffered the above resolution to pass. The most honorable method, however, and the one usually adopted, is that after a refusal to do a necessary thing a threatening resolution like the above might be in place, that is if any legal authority existed for it, which is very questionable indeed, and would, if necessary, be tested to its utmost before any servile submission. But the said resolution carries its own condemnation, and to emanate from a body of men whom we are wont to esteem as gentlemen is the greater surprise. By statute the village is put into the hands of trustees and it don't lie in the hands of the council to interfere. At least this is the substance of a carefully written legal opinion. But what the council might have done was to kindly point out what was desirable and solicit the attention of the police trustees, who would have undoubtedly responded. Is it not strange that in the 25 years existence of the police village, the greatest harmony existed between the council and the village. Supposing the police trustees were merely pathmasters. There are nearly 100 pathmasters in the township who receive their lists after making affidavit, and they perform their labor where they like and cannot be disturbed. The utmost the council ever did was to suggest. No such nigger-driver resolution to them. Why, then, to the trustees? Are they not capable men, trusty men and honorable; have they not property at stake sufficient to make them careful? Perhaps those councillors forgot that a written agreement exists between the township and the village according to law, to which the trustees adhere, resolution or none nevertheless. This whole thing is an afterthought because the trustees refused to be treated uncivilly by one of its members. The facts are these regarding the works named: Some two months ago Mr. Smith and myself examined the place at Flesher's pond and we decided that we would extend the railing and block the present road to the creek and make a more substantial road, so that any person, to or from the station, might water their horses, all depending, however, on the funds to be had. Everyone knows the trustees did a very extensive piece of gravelling for such a small village, which exhausted its funds, or nearly so, and until the council levied the rates in August our hands were tied. We may now have funds to do it or we may not. In reference to the Boyne water sidewalk, the person employed to repair reports it in fairly good order and must necessarily be kept so where so many children are daily passing over it. Is it any wonder, then, with the facts as they exist, grown up, practical men refuse to comply with resolutions passed to satisfy spleen of a portion of the township council? One thing presses on me to mention: The unpleasant constitutional instincts of Mr. Boyd, not in a kindly manner to speak to his next door neighbors in the same village of the defects he happens to see—who, desiring no antagonism with any one would have reciprocated in a friendly manner and saved the trouble of these venomous resolutions. But of this he will hear again. POLICE TRUSTEE

Eugenia

From Our Own Correspondent

Eugenia has been favored with a larger number of summer visitors than usual this summer, showing that our romantic little town is still popular as a summer resort. The Eugenia house has not been able to accommodate the large number who applied for rooms. They come from all parts of the Dominion with their families. Not a day passes but there are picnic parties, some from a great distance, who all praise the natural beauty of the place and claim that for beautiful scenery it is unsurpassed.

Our highly esteemed postmaster, Mr. Meldrum, is favored with a visit from his brother-in-law and niece, Mr. John and Miss Janet White of Alboa, Clackmananshire, Scotland, who are travelling for pleasure.

Mine Host Munshaw and wife delighted their guests and other friends with a picnic one afternoon last week down at the Boyne bridge. The gentlemen caught the speckled beauties, while the ladies laid out a dainty repast. A most enjoyable time was spent by all.

The following Toronto visitors are with us: Miss Sarah Pedlar, Mr. J. Purvis, Mrs. Wm. Purvis and two children, Mr. W. Gordon, wife and two children, Mr. Willie Purvis, Mr. E. Shaw, Mrs. Turner and child, Miss Johnston, Mr. Clark, wife and child; Rev. Snider, wife and child, Simcoe; Mr. Clarence Madden and Miss Madden, Mrs. Sloan and son, Meaford.

Quarterly services were held in the Methodist church here on Sunday.

Maxwell

From Our Own Correspondent.

The marriage of Mrs. Almira W. Maxwell of Maxwell, Canada, and Mr. Wm. Ormsby of Liverpool, Eng., was celebrated at the home of the bride in Grant street. The bride, who was given in marriage by Mr. Thos. Heron, was gowned in white Swiss and carried white roses. Miss Edith Maxwell, the maid of honor, wore a pretty gown of white organdie and carried pink roses. The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Grant Elliot. After the ceremony a wedding supper was served to forty guests, the tables being prettily garnished with garden flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Ormsby arrived in our village Friday evening on their wedding trip and intend visiting the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Schenniman, and other relatives for some time.

Miss Bernice Glassford is home from Toronto spending a few days this week, accompanied by her friend, Miss Clark.

Miss Eva Small of Flesherton is spending a few days with Miss L. Guy.

Mr. Joseph Clinton of Flesherton was a caller in our village on Sunday.

Quarterly service in the Methodist church was well attended on Sunday, a number being present from other appointments.

Kimberley

From Our Own Correspondent

The season for huckleberries has come and gone but we have not heard of much success in picking Some of our young people got a bright and early start for the marshes one morning but returned with only a little more experience.

We regret to say that Mrs. Hugh Walton has been seriously ill but we look for her speedy recovery under the care of Dr. Bibby.
