GOOD NEWS ABOUT OUR TAILORING DEPARTMENT

We have secured the services of Mr. Ballard, who comes to us direct from Toronto, where he had charge of the cutting department in the establishment of Hobberlin Bros., King street. He is adept in the cutting of both Ladies' and Gentlemen's garments and all work performed by him will proclaim the wearer an individual of fashion. From now until January 1st we will give extra special prices on all lines of ordered clothing.

We devote a considerable amount of space this week to a discussion of the road work question. Much interest appears to have been aroused in the matter and good will come out of it whether a change is made or not. There appears to be a fear on the part of some farmers that Flesherton will act as arbiter and force the change upon them. This fear is groundless, as village ratepayers will not be given the privilege of voting. The question will be left entirely with those who are interested. The village already has a commutation of its statute labor and are thus placed in a position of neutrality and could not in justice vote in the matter. In addition to the letters published this week others will appear later and Mr. Campbell, public road inspector, will address the ratepayers as announced elsewhere. This it will not be for want of thorough discussion if the electorate is not prepared to give an intelligent vote when the time arrives.

Port Law

From Our Own Correspondent

BORN—On Saturday, Nov. 24th, to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McNally, a daughter.

Mr. Francis Arnott and Master Harry visited Collingwood last week on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Cameron of Eugenia visited friends in this neighborhood on Saturday last.

Miss McMaster and Miss Ward of Flesherton visited lately with friends here.

A slight error crept into our last budget, for which the compositor is responsible. It was Mr. James McLennan, (not Mrs.) who went to Lion's Head. However it is expected that James will strike it rich up there and will return in the near future for his prospective better half.

A great many farmers whose turnips appear to be doomed made a big push during the few mild days last week, and succeeded in housing the bulk of their "neeps," but some remain in the fields yet and also some potatoes which will likely be secured sometime next century.

The trustees of our school have shown their appreciation of our teacher, Mr. J. A. Hutchinson, in a practical way by re-engaging him for the coming year at an advance in salary.

At an early hour on Saturday morning last Mr. Geo. Thompson was awakened by some parties attempting to break into his store. Mr. T. had a warm reception awaiting, but something led the nocturnal visitor or visitors to hurriedly decide that business was urgent elsewhere.

Inistioge

From Our Own Correspondent.

Those who have been prophesying a mild winter were somewhat startled two weeks ago, but were pleased to see the snow disappear as hastily as it came.

We believe Miss McClocklin has resigned her position as teacher of Victoria school and accepted a more lucrative position elsewhere. Her many friends at Inistioge will be sorry to see her go.

Mrs. Bragg has returned to her home after spending a while with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephens.

Mr. W. Talbot has been sick but we are pleased to know he is recovering.

Miss M. Hutchison is spending a few weeks with her sister at Midland.

Mr. W. Taylor, is home from British Columbia on a visit.

Miss Susie of Mt. Zion visited at Mr. John Johnson's on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Johnson took advantage of the good sleighing week before last to visit Euphrasia friends. While they were away the snow melted and they found it necessary to return on wheels.

The home of Mr and Mrs. Robt. Achison was gladdened by the arrival of another little daughter a few weeks ago.

Mr Metherall of Dundalk conducted an interesting and helpful service in this church last sunday.

One of our young ladies is thinking of moving nearer Flesherton sometime in the near future.

Kimberley

From Our Own Correspondent

In spite of adverse circumstances our hamlet is still growing. Before winter is over we expect that two new houses will be finished. Mr Melvin Harris has his so nearly completed that he is now living in it, while Squire Stuart has the site for his new house staked out and commenced the foundation. The squire has rented his farm to Mr. John Drinkle and is coming to live retired in our village.

The home of Mr. J. R. Stafford has been gladdened by the arrival of a little girl.

Miss Lillian Gilbert has gone to Markdale, where she intends spending the winter.

Our genial miller, Mr. J. McGowan, had a visit from his brother from Priceville, last week.

The carpenters and blacksmiths are quite busy building sleighs for the coming winter. They have strong faith that there will be a winter, judging from their output of sleighs.

Mr. R D Carruthers sent a good shipment of hogs to Ceylon for transportation recently.

Communion service will be will be held in this church on Sabbath next and also on Jan. 6.

The Advance has decided to give a premium this year to every paid in-advance subscriber. You have your choice of one of the handsomest calenders ever made, or one of three different books—"The Days of Mahomet" by Anna May Wilson of Chatsworth, "The Wrestler of Philippi," or "Titus: A Comrade of the Cross. The calendars cannot be sent by mail. It will be necessary for distant subscribers to state which one of the books they desire. The calendars are in five different designs, and are beautiful works of art, suitable for the parlor. Only four hundred of these premiums will be given out, and the first who come will be first served.

Friday evening last was a gala night for Prince Arthur Lodge, A.F. and A.M., when the members received a visit from D. D. G. M. Orton of Bradford. There was a large attendance of members and a thoroughly enjoyable evening was spent. Among the visitors present were Bros. Rev. Newell of Markdale, Rev. Mills of Ceylon, Ennis of Markdale, R. Blackburn and G. Slaughter of Wyoming, Hunter of Feversham and McRae of Priceville. After routine business and speeches by the visitors an adjournment was made to the dining room, where the ladies had prepared a dainty repast, which was very highly appreciated indeed, and many thanks were expressed to the ladies who had made such ample preparation for the exemplification of the fourth degree. The D. D. G. M. expressed his satisfaction with the condition of this lodge, which is highly prosperous.

The Christmas number of The Christian Guardian, which will be issued on December 12, will offer many literary and artistic features. Among its many contributors are Mr. W. E. H. Massey, the manager of the Massey Harris Company, who, from his great business experience, writes of the "Dangers Which Beset Young Men;" Mrs Jean Blewett, one of the most popular of our lady writers, who tells "The Girl in Love" some things she ought to know, and Miss Maud Pettit, a popular story writer, who contributes a beautiful story entitled, "In the Face of a Child." These with a score of other articles, poems and stories, appropriate to the season of the year, will make the Christmas Christian Guardian a very readable number. The illustrations will also be numerous and attractive. In fact this paper has been noted for the artistic covers of its special numbers, the Thanksgiving issue being one of the most attractive pieces of work done in Canada. This high water mark will, however, be surpassed by the Christmas number, which will reproduce Bernard Plockhorst's beautiful conception of "The Angels and the Shepherds" Plockhorst, because of the character of his paintings, he has been called the twin brother of the famous painter, Heinrich Hoffmann. The Christian Guardian is one of the best all-round family journals in Canada and also the cheapest. A three months subscription costs only twenty-five cents, while the remaining issues of this year, including the Christmas number will be sent free to any one sending one dollar, the subscription for 1901. Publisher, William Briggs, Toronto.

Bailiff James Carson of Durham got a severe shaking up recently. Wm. Cameron and his son Cosmos live in different houses on the same farm in the township of Normanby, and they have lately had a quarrel about the ownership of the farm chattels. Last week Mr. Cameron, sr., induced Bailiff Carson of Durham, to come to the farm and endeavor to dispossess the son of the goods in dispute. On Thursday Mr. Carson visited the place and put a lock on the granary, and returning on Friday proceeded, it is claimed without any legal authority, to eject Mr. Cameron, jr., altogether. This resulted in a row in which the bailiff was roughly used, being attacked by the young farmer with a club. The Durham man sustained severe bruises and is also reported to have had a rib broken. Peace is said to have been finally restored by the appearance of Mr. Cameron, sr., with a gun. Mr. Carson has charged the young man with assault with intent to do grievous bodily harm and at the hearing on Monday of last week the defendant was committed for trial.

The Dundalk Herald says:—"Archibald McIntyre seems to be the hoodoo of the surrounding municipalitins. Two years ago he drove into a defective spot in the road near Flesherton and was injured. He received compensation, getting judgement for $200 against the township of Artemesia. On Monday McKay and Sampson, acting for him, served notice of action for damages on the township of Melancthon. It appears, that on the evening of Oct. 27th he was driving home from Dundalk, and at 200 S. R. on Con. 5, near the Union Church, he was thrown from his rig and has been confined to his bed ever since. The road at this place is corduroy and it has been the custom to drive to the side of the logs. The wheel of his conveyance struck the logs, throwing him into the ditch and causing severe injuries."

Some Snaps in Dress Goods

We cleared out a lot of the newest and most up-to-date dress goods in Toronto last week at less than half price. They are mostly ladies' costume cloth, cheviots and tweed, the proper thing for tailor-made suits, and while they last, we will sell them at 75c., which is less than half price. They are 54 inches wide and extra choice colorings.

FURS

Remember you will make a mistake if you buy a lady's or gent's coat before inspecting ours. In furs we are the undisputed leaders in price and quality. Every coat guaranteed.

We have been having a big sale this fall for our furs, but we have a nice stock left yet and we have a fresh lot coming in this week.

Visit Our Millinery Department

It is now pretty generally admitted that this store is an authority on anything pertaining to ladies' headgear. As a matter of fact we improve as we go along so that the display, which every reader of this paper is invited to see, will be the best the store has ever made.

CLOTHING SUPREMACY

The barometer tells very clearly that the men's trade of town and country is travelling towards this store. T. Sheppard's quality, T. Sheppard's prices tell with the shrewdest men buyers and we have at present an extra good stock of all kinds of goods for the men, such as ready-to-wear suits, overcoats, underwear, all kinds of tweeds and worsteds to be made up with tailors; heavy rubbers and sox.
