THE RACE PHANTOM.

An anonymous writer in the Durham Review has the hardihood to repeat the statement that the race and religion cry did duty in the past campaign in South Grey. This writer, replying to our article of week before last, says:

"The editor even denies this. Does he not know that in every platform in Artemesia the slogan of his party was Tarte, he was the master of the administration. Will the editor deny this? Will he pretend to say that he does not know what this cry means? He will hardly be so bold as to do this when everybody knows that this was a crusade against the Catholic minority in this riding, it was a campaign of bigotry and intolerance, it was a cry that no patriotic man or no loyal party would ever adopt. Setting race against race and creed against creed is never done by either christians or patriots. Desperate men longing for office will sometimes stoop to desperate measures to attain their object, regardless of the consequences that must inevitably follow."

Did anyone ever read a more quixotic argument? Tarte was the slogan, according to this man, and therefore because Tarte was assailed it must of necessity mean that his race and his religion was assailed through him, and consequently, there was a crusade against the Catholic minority in this riding! Such rot. We were always under the impression, however, that it was Laurier and his broken promises that formed the bulk of argument in the recent contest. In the event of Mr. Tarte's name having never been mentioned the same charge could have still been laid with just as much justice, because of Mr. Laurier's nationality and creed. Or wherever a candidate of other than Canadian birth was an aspirant the same ridiculous argument might be used. The charges laid by the writer quoted above are a base calumny, and utterly false. There was no bigotry or intolerance shown. Since the election, however, a few bigots and intolerants have come forward with bitter and unjust accusations, but these are all on the other side of the fence—men to whom defeat is gall and wormwood and who cannot contain themselves without hurling bitter invectives against the men who beat them in a fair and square and honorable contest. They blind themselves to the real facts and refuse to be comforted. No wonder the writer referred to above is ashamed to sign his name. No newspaper in the county has made the charges which he has made, and we fancy that not one of them, and few of the Review readers are "bigoted" enough to believe his rank and reckless assertions, or to do more than laugh at his peculiar methods of reasoning.

The local elections in Quebec were sprung upon the people recently notwithstanding that the government had two more sessions to run, and the result is that only five Conservatives have been elected out of 69 members. Was this an aftermath of the race cry in Quebec? Just think it out.

An Enquiry

To the Editor of The Advance:

Now Mr. Editor, as the council of the Township of Artemesia has resolved to take a plebisite on the matter of commuting the statute labor in the township, and I consider wisely so, as I think all important questions should be so submitted to the people for their decision, I would like to ask who is to vote on this important question? Is it the township as a whole, or is it the township outside the village of Flesherton? The village having their statute labor already commuted, and that without the farming community having any say in the matter, should the village now dictate to the farmers what way they should do their work? It seems to me that such a course would be unfair to the intelligent farmers of this township. Ratepayers' letter in your recent issue seems to me as though it was some sore head that wanted to get a crack at the council on their charges for spending the money entrusted to them for road improvements. Now I think this is unfair to the council, as I am a contractor and have done a great deal of work under the commissioners, I fail to see where they overcharged in any one instance for services rendered to the township. What we want is a fair discussion on the benefits that will be derived by commuting the statute labor based on facts, so that we may be able to use our franchise intelligently on election day. As far as we are concerned in this part of the township, the present system has proven to be a decided success. We have roads that are a credit to us. For the last fifteen years it has been our object to build good roads. We have worked as hard as if we were paid one dollar a day. Now if the work is commuted at 50c per day the township will be at a loss of 50% of the work now done, not alone in this road beat, but in several surrounding beats, therefore we think that if the council could adopt some system of making pathmasters perform their work in such a manner as would give good value for the number of days allowed their separa e beats, or charge the deficiency to the property interested, or the parties neglecting their duty. I think that if something like this could be done that a greater benefit would be derived than by commuting the statute labor at 50c per day, which would only amount to a trifling thing in lieu of the work now done in general throughout the township.

Lovers of first class music will have a rich treat if they come to hear Miss Tilla Labatnikoff at the English church annual entertainment in Victoria Hall, Dundalk, on New Years night. Those making up parties had better secure reserved seats by writing at once to Charles Lamon, Dundalk. Miss Labatnikoff's selections will occupy the first part of the programme so that those wishing it may catch the night train north. Read the almost extravagant praises of her singing in the Toronto press.

Road Instructor Campbell addressed an audience of probably 100 farmers, representative men from all parts of the township, in the town hall on Tuesday evening. Space forbids a lengthy report. Mr. Campbell's remarks were listened to with deep attention. One gentleman voiced the sentiment of all when he said, "That beats anything I ever listened to on road making." It is a great pity that more of the ratepayers could not have availed themselves of the opportunity of hearing Mr. Campbell. The lecturer made the following statement: "If the people of this township vote to do away with the statute labor I will stake my public reputation that they will never regret it, and if they do not find conditions improved I will come back next fall and advise a return to it." A committee of four gentlemen, comprising Mr. Boland, D. McMillan, Jos. Pedlar and M. Richardson was appointed by the meeting to confer with the council and draft a plan so that the ratepayers will not be voting blindly. Mr. John Boland gracefully presided over the meeting.

Killed on the Track

A sad accident occurred on this line of railway, about eight miles north of Flesherton Station, on Wednesday evening of last week. Mr. Thomas Brown, who lives on the Toronto and Sydenham road, 1½ miles north of Markdale, owns land on both sides of the T. & S. R., and the C. P. R. crosses the western section of this lot. Mr. Brown, for convenience, has a private crossing over the railway, and on the afternoon in question had driven some cattle over the track to pasture, and was returning home when the accident occurred. It appears that while crossing the track something attracted his attention and he stood at the side of the track to examine it. At the moment the afternoon express bore down upon him and some part of the engine struck him near the hip, throwing him a considerable distance. The train was stopped and the injured man, who was insensible, was picked up and brought to Markdale, where medical aid was procured, but proved unavailing, death ensuing about an hour and a half after the accident. One arm was broken in two places, the head badly injured and the body terrible broken and bruised. Mr. Brown was an old man about 65 years of age and somewhat crippled. He leaves a widow, one son and two daughters. Dr. Christie, coroner of this place, was notified, but did not think an inquest necessary. Deceased was an uncle of Mr. Fred Brown, who lives near Flesherton.

Wesley Church Reopened.

Wesley Methodist church at the Meaford Road has been undergoing extensive repairs during the past summer. A fine basement has been added and ten feet added to the length of the building. Other minor improvements have also been made. These are not all completed, but the renovated building was reopened on Sunday when Rev J. C. Buchannan of Markdale preached two excellent sermons, morning and evening, and Mr. Pickell of Markdale addressed the Sabbath school in the afternoon. The audiences were not large, owing to the bad condition of the roads. On Monday evening a fowl supper and choice program was given in the church, the chair being occupied by M. Richardson, M. P., and was patronized by a large crowd of people from far and near. Flesherton had nine representatives present. The ladies had prepared a magnificent repast of fowl and other delcacies to which the crowd did ample justice. An excellent program of music, speeches, recitations, etc., was rendered, the speakers being the chairman, Rev. Buchanan and Rev. White. Choice music was supplied by the Vandelour string band and the choir. Some of the other specially good things were a duet by Messrs. Birch of Wodehouse and Barnhouse, Flesherton, recitations by Master Howard Holly and Miss Bertha Fulden, and a solo by Miss Maggie Davis. Mr. Geo. Shannon presented the financial report of the building operations, showing receipts of $575.72, and expenditure $491.04, balance on hand $84.68. There was still $67.76 of subscriptions unpaid. The proceeds of the evening amounted to $33. It is just 31 years on the 13th inst. since the church at this place was first opened for public worship. A further subscription was taken up when over forty dollars extra was realized.

The township of Nottawasage lost one of its most energetic, prosperous, and well-respected farmers in the person of Mr. Alexander S. Bannerman, who died at his house on lot 19, concession 4, on Saturday, December 1st, of cancer of the stomach. Deceased was 44 years of age. He was born in the township of Percy, Northumberland county, and when he was a small boy his parents moved from there to Osprey, County of Grey, in the year 1867. In 1873 he married Miss Christina Cameron, of Osprey, in which township they engaged in farming until 1878, when they came to Nottawasage. Since then he has operated his farm and engaged in the square timber business. He also successfully conducted the veneer factory at Eugenia Falls, township of Artemesia, for some years. Mr. Bannerman was well liked by all who knew him as he as an honorable business man and a kindly citizen. He was a member of the local lodge of Ancient Order of United Workmen. A widow and six children, three boys and three girls, are left to mourn his loss. The funeral took place to the Stayner cemetery on Tuesday afternoon.—Stayner Sun.

Dr. E. A. Little, dentist, will be at the Munshaw House, Flesherton, the 3rd Saturday in each month from 8 to 11.30. a. m.
