Stone's Settlement.

From Our Own Correspondent.
January 1901.

It would appear by the slim attendance of ratepayers at the school meeting on Wednesday last that public interest in school matters are on the decline in this section. In years gone by the annual school meeting was attended with as much interest as the municipal election, and why there should be less interest taken in so important a matter as heretofore, we fail to conceive. Mr. D. Harrow, the retiring trustee, was re-elected for another term, as was also Mr. A. J. Kennedy as secretary-treasurer. The contract for supplying firewood and lighting fires was awarded to R. Whittaker.

We are informed that Mr J. J. Lyness has let the contract for building his new barn which will, when completed, be the most spacious and convenient barn in this section. I believe Mr. John Whitten has the contract for the woodwork, but I have not heard who does the masonry. Mr. William Patterson is also preparing to build a new barn on an improved principle. These barns will add materially to the appearance of this line, which already studded with good substantial outbuildings, and we anticipate that a few years hence log buildings will be things of the past.

The teachers and children of our Sabbath school drove over to Priceville on Christmas eve to join with that Sabbath school in their anniversary and Christmas tree. We hope the Pricevilleites will return the compliment next year, that is providing our new Sabbath school house be completed by that time.

Miss Annie Harrow spent the Xmas and New Years holidays at home and will return to the Owen Sound collegiate next week.

Mr. Ben Stone has been at home during the holidays. Miss Flossie, having finished her term at the model school, Durham, will commence her duties as teacher in the Wellbeck school on the reopening. We predict a successful career for Miss Flossie.

Miss Jane Lyness, after a six weeks' visit with friends in Bruce, returned home last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fee of Holland visited the home of the latter's mother, Mrs. R. Stone, in the holiday season.

Mr. Henry Holman and daughter, Miss Laura, spent a day last week with the former's sister, Mrs. Henry Stone. Miss Rosina Robinson returned with them to spend a few days with her uncle and aunt.

Dundalk

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mr. Editor you will be thinking that by our long silence that this town has nothing to write.

The anniversary given by the Methodist S. S. was a genuine success in every particular. The singing and drills were rendered in first class style, showing that great care had been taken in the training for the same. The proceeds amounted to $70.

Dundalk appreciates its council and have re elected the same men for another year. This is as it should be.

We expect a race for school trustees.

There are watchmeetings in the three churches to-night (Monday.)

Miss Ada Hanbury spent Xmas at home. She has a position in Niagara.

Miss Tena Symington is visiting friends in Tara.

Miss Maud Hanbury is spending her New Years with her parents.

The A.O.U.W. held their election of officers on Friday night last and also initiated two new members.

Miss Ethel Symington, who has had typhoid fever is at home at present recruiting her strength.

The English church concert which is to be given to-night (Tuesday) promises to be a grand success.

We wish you Mr. Editor and all your readers a happy New Year.

Town Line A. and E.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The revival services that have been conducted here for some time past were closed on Friday evening last.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Erskine have given up housekeeping for the winter and are at present dominicled with the former's father.

Mr. W. Freeman, who has been away working near St. Marys for the last two years, returned home last week.

Miss Kerr of Duncan spent the Xmas holidays with the Miss Davis's.

Mr. J. Brodie was for the fourth time re-elected trustee for the Vandeleur public school.

Private F. Beverley Rorke, of Thornbury, brought unexpected Christmas greetings to his parents and family on Tuesday. He was not expected home, as his father thought he might go on to Winnipeg with his Company. But Beverley was anxious to get home, and leaving the special C. P. R. train at Montreal he caught the G. T. R. fast express, which landed him in Toronto in time to catch the morning train for Thornbury. He purposely sent no word that he was coming as he said he wanted to avoid any demonstration. His brother Ormie happened to be at the station when the the train arrrived, and was the first to greet him. When he reached his home he completed the Christmas joy of the household, which had all its members once more under the parental roof. He describes the reception in England as something magnificent. He had the pleasure of seeing the Queen and hearing her speak to the troops. While she is somewhat feeble, yet for her age she seems in good health. He had the pleasure of dining with the Princess Louise. He says to go to England as they did is to make a man a thorough Britisher for life When amid the hardships of war, Mr. Rorke says he often wondered how the British government could get men to enlist for service in the army, but when they returned to England the matter was plain to him. It was not the Canadians alone who were right royally received, all the soldiers were greeted in splendid fashion, and everything possible was done to honor those who risked their lived for the Empire's sake. Mr. Rorke looks hale and hearty, being feted in England, and hobnobbing with aristocracy seems to have agreed with him.—Clarksburg Reflector.

BALD SPOTS

Without help, a bald spot never grows smaller. It keeps spreading, until at last your friends say, "How bald he is getting."

Not easy to cure an old baldness, but easy to stop the first thinning, easy to check the first falling out. Used in time, baldness is made impossible with — Ayer's Hair Vigor

It stops falling, promotes growth, and takes out all dandruff. It always restores color to faded or gray hair, all the dark, rich color of early life. You may depend upon it every time. It brings health to the hair.

$1.00 a bottle. All Druggists.

"I have used your Hair Vigor and am greatly pleased with it. I have only used one bottle of it, and yet my hair has stopped falling out and has started to grow again nicely."
