What might have been a very serious accident occurred on the hill just west of the village on Wednesday night of last week. Mr. Roy McDermid was driving into town in his buggy when a car travelling west, going up the hill, crashed right into the horse and buggy. Fortunately Roy saw it come and jumped out of the buggy or the result might have been much worse. It was a miracle that no one was hurt.

New Postmaster At Proton Station

Proton Station Correspondence

For eleven years Postmaster Corbett and wife have given faithful and efficient service to the patrons of the Proton Station post office, but we are sorry to say they have grown weary in well doing and have resolved to retire from the position. For several weeks tenders for the post office have been in the hands of the Department and official notice was received recently that Mr. Neil McCannell was the successful tenderer. Mr. McCannell needs no introduction to the public, as he had charge of the office for ten years before Mr. Corbett's appointment. We are confident that we express the sentiments of the village and community when we wish Mr. and Mrs. Corbett a long and happy evening of life and extend to Mr. and Mrs. McCannell a hearty welcome back to the post office.

Fire At Shelburne

When Mrs. J. Guchardi stepped out of the back door of the Guchardi place of business on Main Street, about 7.30 Thursday night last, she was horrified to find the frame garage and storehouse at the rear shop was in flames The fire alarm was immediately sounded and within a few minutes the fire brigade had a line of hose trained on the flames, which had made rapid headway. Strenuous work kept the fire from spreading to adjoining buildings. Mr Guchardi got his automobile out safely, but other contents of the building, including a soda fountain and equipment, were destroyed, only the frame of the building being left standing. Mr. Guchardi's loss will be in the neighborhood of $1,000 or $1,200 In removing the automobile of Mr. T. S. Harris from the Harris stable the rear of the car was well scorched, as it had to be backed into the flames from the burning building in order to get it turned into the lane. It is not known how the fire originated. Much more damage might have resulted had the fire not taken place at an hour of the evening when assistance in fire fighting was immediately available.—Economist.
