That Kimberley Smallpox

To the Editor of The Advance:

DEAR SIR,—Please allow me space in your paper to correct some false statements made in connection with the smallpox case which we have in our village, which came to our notice Saturday, June 8th, in the evening. I sent notice to Dr. Danard, medical health officer, and also to Markdale for vaccine and did not get any. Afterwards I sent to Meaford and secured enough for about 50, which Dr. Bibby used on June 9th. June 8th Dr. Danard called a meeting of the board for June 10th at 5 p.m. and left a telegram for me to send to Dr. Brice, P. M. H. O., to attend the board meeting on June 10th. Dr. Brice failed to attend. The board authorized the reeve to issue a proclamation compelling every person in the township to be vaccinated and also authorized me to have the smallpox patient isolated. He was removed to a cottage built for the purpose on June 12th. Others who came in close contact with the patient were ordered not to leave their house. The house where the patient left was disinfected. Mr. Thos. Smith was appointed police officer to carry out the wishes of the board. There are no new cases to report. Don't be afraid if a man or woman goes up from Kimberley to do business in your town nor yet be afraid to do business at any of the business places in Kimberley. These are the facts of the case.

Obituary Notice.

The Holland (Man.) Observer gives the following obituary notice of the late Alice Wells: The people of this vicinity have been called upon, during the past four months, to pay the last sad tribute of respect to a number of citizens. On Thursday evening, May 2nd Miss Alice Wells, the only daughter of Rev. John Wells, crossed the dark border land, and entered into eternal rest in the land where pain is forgotten and where sorrow cannot enter. Deceased had been an invalid for the past eighteen months, but within four months of her demise, strong hopes of her recovery were held out. The disease, consumption, had become finally seated and as is usual with its many victims who survive the severe winter weather when the grass was showing green and the buds bursting, the passed away. Miss Wells was a very popular young lady and will be greatly missed in social and religious circles. A talented musician, an excellent and intelligent conversationist, she was excellent company; while the church in her found a zealous and earnest worker. When on Friday morning the news of her death spread, gloom was depicated on every face. After a short service, conducted in the house by the Rev. R. A. Scarlett, the body was taken to the station to be conveyed to Nairn cemetery, Ont. The remains were accompanied by her sorrowing father. In their sad bereavement the aged parents have the sincerest sympathy of the entire community.

Purely Personals.

Goderich, June 27.—Rev. Mr. McKay has recovered from a very severe attack of Throat Irritation. Of course everybody knows Catarrhozone cured him, and Mr. McKay says Catarrhozone is an excellent remedy. For Minister's Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Lung Trouble and Catarrh, there is nothing in the world today that cures so quickly and permanently as Catarrhozone. It cures by inhalation, without danger or risk, and is most agreeable to use. Two months' treatment, $1.00; small size, 25c. Druggists or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Brown—Davidson

The home of Mr. Robt. Brown, Feversham, was the scene of a very pleasant event on Wednesday, June 19, when his daughter, Emma, was united in marriage to Mr. Thomas Davidson of Toronto. The bride was assisted by Miss Gertie Paul of Feversham and the groom by his brother, Mr. Will Davidson of Collingwood. The bride was dressed in a lovely gown of white muslin and carried a beautiful bouquet of white roses and carnations. The bridesmaid wore white muslin and carried a bouquet of pink roses and carnations. After congratulations the company sat down to a sumptuous repast, after which the bride and groom took their departure for their home in Toronto. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents, among which was an organ from her mother.

"It is mighty queer," says the Scranton Gazette, "how some people will rear up on their hind feet and paw the air when some item of news happens to be a little off facts; yet these same people would not tell you the item before the paper was printed. Then there are some people from whom you could not draw a local with a corkscrew—they absolutely don't know any news. But after the paper comes out they will say you are misinformed about some local happening and wonder why you can't get things straight." Scranton is not the only place where this class of individual is to be found.

The ordinary business man has about as hard a row to hoe as any body on earth, says an exchange, and has got to look pleasant and hang on to the hoe handle no matter what happens. If a pastor's salary is a little short the business man must fix it. If John Jones lose a horse he must help get another. If somebody meets with an accident or is burned out, the business man must chip in. If a new church is being built he is expected to give a handsome subscription. If a celebration is going on he must dig up some more. If a beggar comes along he is the first one tackled. If he responds to every call he goes broke. If he refuses he is pounted a hog. Still some will send away from home for goods occasionally.

A good story is going the rounds against the members of the legal profession. In a certain community a lawyer died who was a most popular and worthy man; and among other virtues inscribed on his tombstone was this: "A lawyer and an honest man." Some time afterwards an agricultural exhibition was held in the town, and one of the delegates, being of a sentimental turn, visited the "silent city," and, in rambling among the tombs, was struck with the inscription, "A lawyer and an honest man." He was lost in thought, and when found by a fellow-farmer, who, noticing his abstraction, asked if he had found the grave of a dear friend or relative said: "No; but I'm wondering why they came to bury these two fellows in the same grave."

Warning—In future all animals that I find in my premises, the Flesher property, I will put in pound. The fences are deliberately torn down and I do not intend to either herd nor pasture the village cattle. It is the duty of every owner of stock to look after them and if they want to save trouble and expenses they had better do so.—W. G. Pickell.

Rev. J. Little of Chatsworth will conduct anniversary services in the Presbyterian church on the first Sabbath in July. services to be held at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. The managing board have decided to dispense with the usual festival on Monday evening and have asked for a contribution of not less than $35 on Sabbath. This is a simple way of raising the amount needed and it is to be hoped there will be a liberal response from the congregation.

Mr. Allan Park handed us this week a curiosity in the shape of a piece of stone carving, which he plowed up on his farm near Proton Station. It is of hard green stone and was evidently intended for a dog and was no doubt used as a charm by the aboriginal who made it. It is about three inches long, with head, ears and tail. There are two perforations on the under side for attaching a thong to hang around the neck. It is a neat little thing in Indian relics. Those who are curious can see it at this office.

The daily papers one day last week reported a case of smallpox from Flesherton. In subsequent issues this was corrected. The mistake was caused by the telegram reporting the Kimberley case having been sent to Dr. Bryce through this office. There certainly was no shadow of ground, with the exception of the above, for such a statement. There is no sickness of any kind in Flesherton. Neither have any more cases developed at Kimberley, nor are there likely to be any more.

R. N. HENDERSON, ESQ.

The above is an excellent likeness of the energetic president of our Dominion Day Celebration committee. Mr. Henderson has already earned a reputation for shoving things which he undertakes. Fertile in imagination, full of expedients and energetic, he was just the man to place at the head of a demonstration of this kind, and Monday next will prove the wisdom of selecting him.

Mr. Rumstadtler purchased the May butter from the Flesherton factory last week, the price paid being a quarter of a cent higher than the Durham or Holstein makes sold for. There were 7280 lbs. in the lot.

The hoop and veneer mill at Eugenia has been responsible for a number of accidents this spring, the latest being a young man named Fred Gosley, who had the end of a fore finger taken off one day last week. Dr. Carter dressed the wound.

Miss Irwin, teacher of the second form in Flesherton public school, has handed in her resignation, to take effect immediately. This will necessitate the engaging of two more teachers as Miss Meredith of the Junior form intends attending normal after holidays.

Mr. Fred Ryder's broncho created some excitement on Saturday. The animal could not hold back a load going down a grade and got mad. His heels flew in all direction and he plunged until thoroughly exhausted, when he fell over on his side and lay there until calmed down. The harness and shafts were badly broken and the wagon demoralized generally.

The Flesherton Forresters turned out in a body on Sunday morning and marched to the Methodist church, headed by the band, where an excellent sermon was preached by the Rev. Jos. Ward from Proverbs 18-24: "A man that hath friends must show himself friendly; and there is a friend that sticketh closer than a brother."

Rev. Jos. Ward preached his farewell sermon in the Methodist church on Sunday evening, taking for his text second Corinthians, 13-11: "Finally brethren, farewell. Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you." There was a large audience present, and the discourse was pronounced one of the best ever delivered by the rev. gentleman since coming to Flesherton.

What might easily have been a fatal runaway accident occurred at the noon hour on Tuesday. As Trimble's bus, which was occupied by Percy Trimble and another lad, was passing the corner at Heard's blacksmith shop a horse and buggy belonging to Mr. Will Armstrong came dashing down the side street without a driver, and finding the bus in its way the animal sprang clean over the dashboard, which it carried away. The wheels of the buggy then struck the bus, and the latter was turned completely over on the street with the boys under it. Percy, who was driving, had not seen the animal coming and the whole thing was done so quickly that the first he knew he found himself on the road with the bus turned over him. Neither of the lads were hurt a particle, but the same cannot be said of the two rigs which came in contact nor of the horse. The latter had several abrasions and bus and buggy were damaged to a considerable extent. Mr. Armstrong had just got out of his buggy to put the animal in the stable when it took a notion to run away with the above exciting, but comparatively harmless results. Every person who saw the accident thought it a miracle that the two lads, who sat in front, were not killed outright or badly injured when the animal jumped over them.
