GENTLEMEN,—I beg leave to offer myself as a Candidate for your suffrages at the approaching Election for the House of Commons. I, as you are well aware, have long taken a somewhat prominent part in the Municipal affairs of my native County, and if elected as your representative in the House of Commons of Canada, I shall endeavour to the utmost of my ability to aid in passing all measures that are for the benefit of our rising Dominion and oppose all that will be injurious to our interests.

If elected, I shall give the present Government a fair support, as I consider that their legislation on the whole has been advantageous to the country. It is my intention to see as many of you as possible before the Election, when I shall explain my views more fully to you on the great questions now before the country.

"The Party of Progress."

BY CONA.

(From the Globe.)

"Ours is the Party of Progress."—John A., in one of his late stump speeches.

"The Party of Progress! yes, yes—all serene!
No doubt, sweet Sir John, if through pathways unclean
Rough-riding post-haste to the devil you mean,
That yours is "the Party of Progress!"

Let others hold honor and truth in regard,
Such clogs to thy course never were on thy card:
No scruples of conscience thy plots ever marred,
Rare Chief for a "Party of Progress!"

The full Quarter-million thou didst spend
For service secret—not one to commend;
Thy Trunk should be search'd for the vouchers, all tend
To prove thine "the Party of Progress!"

"The Party of Progress!" all right, to a dot
A loyal man murdered—they call being "shot;"
Assassins they take by the hand—not the throat,
While work for a "Party of Progress!"

If plunder or place in the distance they spy,
"The deil take the hindmost" is always their cry
When gorged, how they turn up the white of their eye,
And swear they're "the Party of Progress!"

The "jobs" and Commissions—no end to them all—
These rascals back up with their votes, might appal
The Old One himself—each one hoping a haul
In his turn, lives this "Party of Progress!"

For jumping Jim Crow when such exercise pays,
For "organs" pap-ped, whose abuse is best praise,
For hoping for the truth from such lips as John A's,
Commend me this "Party of Progress!"

The progress of sewers that further filth gain,
The longer their course through our streets to the main—
Of rot in the pine-tree—of crows in our grain—
Such seemeth those harpies' grand progress.

Progression indeed! O, for scorping whips
Well salted in pickle, to lay on their hips
Whose record of sham gives the lie to their lips
So much for this "Party of Progress!"

THE AUTHOR OF ECCE HOMO.—Prof. Seeley, author of "Ecce Homo," is a smooth-faced, flaxen-haired, boyish man of small figure, but with a winning manner and a charming power of expression. At a meeting of Mrs. Howe's Peace Congress he made an admirable speech. He was repeatedly interrupted by a hundred-back in the audience who cried "Time," merely because he wanted to hear the women. Prof. Seeley was finally so much embarrassed that he sat down. He spoke about half an hour without moving his left arm once, or raising his knuckles from the table on which he had planted them to support his leaning body. He emphasized occasionally by a slight forward jerk of the head. In fact, he spoke very much like a talking pillar, without movement of any kind from head to foot.

THE HEAT.—It is stated that the death rate in New York city keeps even pace with the thermometer, rising as that rises. Last week the thermometer ranged seven degrees higher than the week previous, and the number of deaths was 167 more than the week previous. The Times calculates, therefore, that every degree which the thermometer reaches above the mean temperature, 70°, costs in one week the lives of fifteen persons.

"Every pleasure has its necessary pain."—This maxim of the Greek philosopher is daily verified during the summer season, when our pleasure in eating delicious fruits is somewhat dulled by the doleful prospect of colics, cramps, diarrhea, dysentery, cholera, and other disagreeable consequences of an over-feed. But the pain of anticipation vanishes and the present pleasure alone remains, when we reflect that "every bane has its antidote" and that all diseases of the bowels are checked and cured by the timely use of ARNOTT'S ARNICA ANODYNE.

Somebody Says.—"There is something peculiarly attractive in a horse. His intelligent eye and ear, his lofty carriage, his free and graceful motion, his vast strength, his obedient temper, and his indispensible use, all endear him to us. We have to look at his fine proportions, and take in the inspiration of his energy and power," but it is only when the horse is properly cared for—when he is free from disease or unsoundness of any kind that he will exhibit these points of attraction, and without which he is of but little value. A package of "Darley's Condition Powders and Heave Remedy," should be in possession of every man who owns a horse, to be used in case of emergency. Don't fail to get it. Remember the name, and see that the signature of Hurd & Co., is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all Medicine dealers.

Halifax, Feb. 10th, 1872.—Mr. Jas. I Fellow—Dear Sir: In order that some other sufferer may be benefitted, you are at liberty to give this letter publicity.

In the winter of 1869 I taken ill with Disease of the Heart, accompanied by violent palpitation, and from that time gradually became weaker, notwithstanding continued professional attendance, up to a few weeks ago, when your Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites was recommended to me. The use of it during a very short time enabled me to resume my usual work, and now I am as well, fat and hearty as I could wish to be. Yours very truly, W. Frank Cochran.

The Heart being a great muscular organ, requires vigorous nervous force to sustain it. As Fellows' Hypophosphites restores the nervous element, it will always strengthen the Heart weakened through loss of this element. The Inventor.

A Chemical Food and Nutritive Tonic.—Without Phosphorus no thought, say the Germans, and they might add, no action, since Phosphorous and its compounds are known to be the motive power of the nervous and muscular system. They constitute more than half the material of the human body, being found in every tissue, and their presence is absolutely essential to nutrition, as they promote the conversion of albumen in the food into fibrine, which is the vitalizing agent of pure, healthy blood. They are now coming into universal use in Europe and America in the treatment of Scrofulous, Consumptive and Venereal diseases, which are caused by impoverished or poisoned blood; in pale, puny children, and that condition of nervous and physical prostration resulting from bad habits, excessive use of stimulants and tobacco, and all that train of evils known as fast life. The great reliability and promptness in its effects in immediately and permanently restoring the devitalized constitution has made DR. WHEELER'S COMPOUND ELIXIR OF PHOSPHATES AND CALISAYA a great favourite with the Physicians and public. Sold at $1.00.
