The Argonaut rowing club of Toronto, and a Winnipeg crew, went over to Philadelphia last week to row in the international races and both clubs succeeded in beating the Americans thumbs up. The home-coming reception at Toronto was most enthusiastic.

Dr. Bibby, of Kimberley has a nice bill against the township of Euphrasia. Whether he will be able to collect it or not belongs to another story. When Smith, the smallpox patient, was isolated, the Dr. was put in charge, but the authorities discovered that his charges were ten dollars a day and his services were dispensed with. The Dr. claims, however, that they were unable to do this and has made up his bill, we believe, to the tune of 560 dollars. No doubt the doctor's practice was injured owing to his connection with the case and he doubtless can collect a tidy sum from the township, but whether he can secure all he demands remains to be seen.

Toronto has one institution upon which it has reason to pride itself and that is the new city hall. This magnificent structure was built at a cost of about a million dollars and took fifteen years to complete. The clock tower rises up 300 feet from the pavement, and the view obtained from this elevation is simply sublime. It is a near approach to ballooning. Laid out at one's feet are miles and miles of city, green trees giving it the appearance of having been built in a forest. The harbor, island and lake before one, with their flying sails and steamboat traffic, give contrast and variety to the scene. On a clear day Niagara river and the mists rising from the falls can be distinctly seen, as can all the south shore from Oakville to Hamilton. The great clock and bells of themselves are worth seeing It is certainly worth any one's time to visit this point when in Toronto

The Government has now refused to allow newspaper postage to be paid by postage stamps. The big dailies have been in the habit of buying large denomination Jubilee stamps from speculators at a discount from face, and using them for the payment of postage, and in this way revenue has fallen short during the past year. The way the government ran that jubilee stamp business was a piece of sheenyism disgraceful to any self-respecting government. They sold these high value stamps to the public, knowing them to be practically useless, and now by this latest ordnance have made them utterly so. They simply traded on the credulity of speculators, and now have dropped the speculators in the hole. Of course no tears are shed for the speculators, but it was a small business for a government to be guilty of.

To Kill "Herrick"

W. Doherty, Professor of Botany and Zoology in the Agricultural College, Guelph, was in Belleville recently, and was interviewed by an Intelligencer reporter.

The Professor's mission in the district is to conduct experiments looking to the destruction of the wild mustard or "herrick" which infests many parts of Ontario.

"Tell us something about your method, Professor," said the newspaper man.

"Well," said the Professor, "I am sent out by the Ontario Government with a view of letting the farmers see for themselves what can be done. One practical demonstration, you know, is worth any number of bulletins. I do not claim to have discovered the receipt; in fact, I got it from a French journal. A man had been spraying his apple-trees with this solution and he noticed that the solution, as it dropped off the trees, fell on some wild mustard, which subsequently died. I thought it might be used in Canada with good results."

"What is the solution?" he was asked.

"Ten pounds of copper sulphate to forty-five gallons of water. This is sufficient to spray one acre. The best time to spray is when the mustard is about four or five inches high before it blooms. At the period eight pounds of the sulphate would be sufficient. Later on, when the plant matures, it will take ten pounds."

"And the solution doesn't injure the grain planted?" asked the newspaper man.

"On the contrary," said the Professor, "we claim that the benefit to the grain crops will be large enough to pay the cost of spraying the mustard.

"How long does it take to kill the mutard?" he was asked.

"On the third day the weed will be dead," was the answer.

"And how do you account for the solution killing the herrick and not injuring the grain?" asked the scribe.

"Well," said the scientific man, "the mustard has a porous surface, into which the poison soaks. The oats or wheat has a smooth surface, from which it runs off without injury. Anything with a porous surface would be killed by the solution, burdock for instance."

"Will it kill burdocks?" said the newspaper man, eargerly.

"It will," said the Professor.

And the newspaper man man made up his mind to at once try it on some exceedingly healthy specimens which flourish in his garden.

The Baptist Sabbath school picnicked at the beavermeadow on Friday afternoon last. Plenty of good eatables were provided, a football match was played, and the youngsters had a good time in general.

Cow Lost—Strayed from the premises of the undersigned, lot 1, 5th con., Osprey, on Thursday night last, one cow, part Ayrshire, dark red and white, large bag, black nose, short, thick horns, long slim body, head and neck. Finder will be rewarded by notifying Mathew Gillespie, Porthaw P. O.

Mr. T. Bannon met with a nasty accident, which, however, might have been worse. He was kicked on the forehead by a colt, cutting a nasty gash at the base of the nose. Dr. Carter was called on to dress the wound. Had the animal been shod Mr. Bannon would doubtless have been killed.

Little Alfred Whitten, 7 years of age, son of John Whitten of the suburbs, thought he could walk a fence rail as well as his father could walk a purline plate, but discovered his mistake when too late. He fell, dislocating and cutting his arm. Dr Carter set the limb but the little fellow still suffers much with the injury.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church will hold a lawn social on the parsonage grounds on Monday evening next, July 29th. Refreshments will be served from 6 to 8, after which a good program will be rendered. Let everybody come and enjoy a pleasant evening. Ice cream and lemonade will be on sale. Admission 15c for Adults, 10c for children.

Mr. R. N. Henderson succeeded last week in taking up a good sized subscription for the purpose of installing a telephone plant between the Methodist church and the residence of Mr. Jos. Blackburn. For years Mr. B. has been an invalid and unable to attend church but now, thanks to his many friends, and Mr. Henderson in particular, he will be able to enjoy some of the eloquent and telling sermons now being delivered from the Methodist pulpit by the Rev. Ivison Wilson.

Mr. W. C. Robinson of Manitoba, who was the guest of Mr. Wm. Strain, called on the Advance on Monday. Mr Robinson is a prosperous farmer at Hartney, Man., and left for the west nineteen years ago. He is a native of St Vincent township. To give some idea of the success he has achieved out there we might say that he has 750 acres of wheat and 175 acres of oats this year. He keeps 30 horses to do his work and uses a steam plow that will turn over 30 to 35 acres of land per day. It is run with a traction engine. He owns three steam threshers and five binders During the threshing season he employs 36 hands. Mr. Robinson informs us that the prospects for this year beat anything ever seen in the west, and he feels confident the yield will reach about 35 bushels to the acre. He has visited the Pan-American, and is at present engaged in endeavoring to secure men to go west to help secure the bountiful harvest.

Shingles for sale—A large quantity in stock at Rockvale Mills. Armstrong Bros.

Wanted—Good strong, smart, energetic boy to learn milling at John McGowan's roller mill Kimberley.

Just received, another lot of that celebrated machine oil, the same as we had last season. Everybody that used it wants it again. T. J. Sheppard.

FOR SALE—One good second hand 16 H. P. engine with locomotive boiler. Waterous manufacture. J. Hickling, Maxwell.

Mr. G. W. Slaughter has resigned his position as principal of Flesherton public school to accept a similar situation in the Listowel school at a better salary.

T. J. Sheppard has something special in muslins this week, some he bought at a bargain, and is selling them at about half price. They include Swiss spots and colored muslins.

Rev. Ivison Wilson will address the Sabbath School children on Sunday morning next, and in the evening there will be a song service, when the pastor will explain some of the hymnology of Methodism.

Robert A. Sproule died in Markdale on Friday last of consumption, aged 35 years He was a member of No 6 Co., 31st Battalion, and on Sunday the Company, under the leadership of Lieut. C. Richardson, assisted by Lieut. Ernest Armstrong of No. 5 Co., Owen Sound, attended the funeral in a body. The remains were laid to rest in Markdale Cemetery, a firing squad firing three volleys over the grave. The funeral cortege was a very large one.

P. S. Inspector Campbell, of Durham, who has been in town since July 1st in connection with the examinations, left for home on Tuesday evening. We regret to say that Mr Campbell is suffering from a severe cold in the head which he contracted over two weeks ago. He informed the Mirror before leaving that he had resolved to get rid of the cold somehow, and would not leave home again until he felt alright. The many friends of the popular Inspector will hope for his speedy restoration to health.—Mirror.

The Owen Sound I. O. F. excursion to Toronto on Saturday was poorly patronized from all points on the line down this way, Flesherton perhaps doing a little better than some of the other places. People were too busy in haying and harvest to "excurt." Altogether some four or five hundred people took in the trip. Last year the excursion had a Niagara end to the trip and was largely patronized but this year it was impossible to get this owing to the fact that the boats have all the traffic they can carry to and from the Buffalo show.

Mr. Collins has succeeded in organizing here a branch of the Chosen Friends. The first meeting was held on Friday evening and the following officers were appointed:—Past Councillor, Thos. Blakely; Chief Councillor, Mrs. M. Wilson; Vice Councillor, Mrs. Beaton; Recorder, Wm. H. Bunt; Assistant Recorder, Chas. Stafford; Treasurer, M. Wilson; Prelate, Mrs. W. H. Bunt; Marshall, Herbert Smith; Warden, Mrs. Blakely; Organist, Mrs. Slaughter; Guard, A. Wilson; Sentry, M. Beaton; Trustees, A Wilson, Thos. Blakely, M. Beaton; Medical Examiner, Dr. Carter.

Jean de Zakovenko, a learned engineer living in Paris, has excited the scientific world by taking out a patent upon certain machinery which he claims will enable him to cross the Atlantic in two days and a half. He is building a small vessel, which he hopes to have ready in a few weeks. Zakovenko claims that his vessel will go thirty knots an hour under water and sixty knots an hour over water. His engine will make the propeller revolve with extraordinary rapidity. Zakovenko is the man who found a Russian ship at the bottom of the sea containing vast treasures. He has had several interviews with the United States naval attaiche and hopes to interest Washington in his work

Clark, the smallpox patient from Orillia, who cost the town some $800, is showing his gratitude for the priffedy diet and care he received from the town by instructing his solicitor to enter an action for damages against the Medical Health Officer for detaining his wife in the Isolation Hospital. This very fresh young man, though cared for as a pauper patient, was both impertinent and ungrateful while in the hospital, and the town should make an effort to collect the cost of his keep. If he has money to spend in law he should be able to pay for medical attendance.—Enterprise.

The Grand Trunk authorities have investigated the alleged attempt to wreck the train upon which the Hon. Mr. Tarte travelled from Midland, and found that the obstruction was only a few small stones and a rotten plank, thoughtlessly left on the track by some children.

From Sarawak this week comes the story of the most thrilling escape of Mr. Alex. Nicoll from a horrible death. About eleven o'clock in the morning Mr. Nicoll, a well known bacheler resident of Sarawak, was strolling across the fields and hearing a stampede behind turned to see a large bull plunging in his direction, with head lowered to the attack. Almost before he could realize his danger the enraged animal was upon him and threw him fifteen feet, and commenced to gore him to death. That Mr. Nicoll is alive to-day is probably due to the fact that he fell between two knolls, which prevented the brute from doing vital injury. Mr. Nicoll became unconscious from the terrible ordeal, and the animal evidently thinking that the life had gone out of his victim, withdrew. Some time after Mr. Nicoll revived and was so badly injured that he had to crawl feebly to Mr. Cavers' house some distance away. Mr. Cavers' left with all haste for medical assistance, and Dr. Howey responded. On his advice the injured man was removed as quickly to the general and marine hospital, where he has since received every possible attention, and his physician now reports him to be out of danger. Mr. Nicoll's injuries consist of a factured rib and thumb, slight internal injuries, and the surface of his body is severely bruised.—O. S. Times.

The Maxwell Methodists will hold a lawn social at the parsonage on Thursday evening Aug. 1st.
