A SNAKE IN THE GRASS.

Come listen awhile to me, my lad,
Come listen to me for a spell!
Let that terrible drum
For a moment to dumb,
For your uncle is going to tell
What befell
A youth that loved liquor too well.

A clever young man was he, my lad
And with beauty uncommonly blessed,
Ere with brandy and wine
He began to decline,
And behaved like a person possessed;
I protest
The temperance plea is the best.

One evening he went to a tavern, my lad,
He went to a tavern one night,
And drinking too much
Rum, brandy and such,
The chap got exceedingly "tight,"
And was quite
What your aunt would entitle a "fright."

The fellow fell into a snooze, my lad,
'Tis a horrible slumber he takes—
He trembles with fear,
And acts very queer,
My eyes! how he shivers and shakes
When he wakes,
And raves about horrid great snakes!

'Tis a warning to you and to me, my lad
A particular caution to all,
Though no one can see
The viper, but he—
To hear the poor lunatic bawl,
"How they crawl
All over the floor and the wall!"

Next mornin he took to his bed, my lad,
Next morning he took to his bed,
And he never got up
To dine or to sup,
Though properly physicked and bled;
And I read
Next day the fellow was dead!

You've heard of the snake in the grass, my lad
Of the viper concealed in the grass;
But now you must know,
Man's deadliest foe
Is a snake of a different class! Alas!
'Tis a viper that lurks in the glass!

JOHN G. SAXE.

Old Times Called Back.

HOW A BROCK COPPER PAID A DEBT OF OVER $500.

(Belleville Ontario.)

In the year 1816 there lived in the Town of Kingston a wholesale merchant, named Samuel Achroyd. He had furnished a country merchant, named S. Harrow, with goods for upwards of two years, and on settlement Harrow owed him a little over $500, which he refused to pay, alleging that he had already paid more than the goods were worth. Achroyd sued him and put him in gaol, saying he would pay a dollar a week for five years unless sooner paid.

When Harrow had been in gaol about a month, the following advertisement appeared in the Kingston newspapers:—

"Whereas, there are large quantities of spurious coin in circulation, known as Brock Coppers, which are not a lawful tender, and of no value, therefore, we, the undersigned, for the purpose of protecting ourselves and the public against imposition, do hereby agree that we will not receive any of the aforesaid Brock Coppers in payment for any articles that we may have to sell, nor offer them in payment for any articles that we may purchase, and we respectfully request the cooperation of the public to banish them from the Town."

It was signed by sixty-four merchants, hotel-keepers, grocers, mechanics and public dealers of the Town, with Samuel Achroyd's name at the head of the list.

About ten days after the publishing of the afore mentioned advertisement, Achroyd went to Montreal, expecting to be absent from Kingston ten days. He left one dollar with the sheriff to be paid to Harrow. On the following Monday the Sheriff went to the gaol, and meeting the gaol-keeper's wife, Mrs. Dulmage, at the door, he handed her some money, saying, "Here is Achroyd's dollar for Harlow; it is now nine o'clock, and he must have it before ten o'clock." Mrs. Dulmage went to the debtor's room and said, "Here is another dollar sent to you by Achroyd." Harlow answered, "All right; let me see it." Mrs. Dulmage said, "Take it." Harlow said, "Count it to me." "Well, here are three fifteen penny pieces, a Halifax shilling and six coppers, which makes just a dollar." Harlow looked sharp and noticed one Brock Copper, but said nothing in particular about it, but told her that if he had to live on a dollar a week, Mr. Achroyd must give him all white money; it was beneath his dignity to receive black money. Mrs. Dulmage put the money on the cupboard, telling Harlow that the money was ready for him. Harlow waited until twelve o'clock, and then sent for his lawyer. The lawyer came and asked her to show him the money. She did so, and the lawyer asked her if she was willing to make affidavit that it was the same money that the sheriff gave her; she replied in the affirmative.

The affidavit, the money, and Achroyd's advertisement were sent to headquarters to the Court of Judges, and in ten days the Sheriff received an order to "discharge Harlow from gaol," as the creditor had failed to pay him the money required by law, and Harlow walked out a free man.

Thus a Brock Copper cancelled a debt of over five hundred dollars.—T.S.W.

A common cough or cold should never be trifled with; often when neglected it is converted into a serious and generally fatal pulmonary disease. The more prudent, aware of this, promptly use "Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers," a curative which has sustained its reputation for over twenty years—they are always efficacious and exert a most beneficial influence on all the bronchial and pulmonary organs. Sold by all Druggists and country dealers. Price 25 cts. per box.

How to make Money.—A horse dealer residing in the vicinity of Keyport, N.J., and who buys up horses for the New York market, purchases 'Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy' by the dozen and feeds it to his horses; he says it is superior to anything that he has ever used as a condition medicine, that the horses are so much more improved by its use to sell more readily and command higher prices. Two other horse dealers, one residing at Huntingdon the other at Glen Cove, L.I., also purchase it by the dozen and for the same purpose; these men, as well as many others similarly engaged, know too well the value and importance of this medicine ever to be without it. Remember the name and see that the signature of Hurd & Co., is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.
