Grit Prospects.

The Halifax Herald of Thursday concludes an able article on the Grit prospects by the following:

Look at the manner in which the Government have been acting towards public men whom they feared!

They offered a renewal of his term to Mr Tilley—he refused.

They offered Mr King a Judgeship—he refused.

Both these men are now Opposition candidates.

They were delighted that Governor Archibald consented to accept another term; since he knew that Colchester would be carried.

They have not succeeded in getting candidates in Montreal West.

They have only just succeeded after several unsuccessful meetings in forcing Mr Power to accept a nomination again in Halifax.

Mr Laurier dares not fulfil his promise of going back to Drummond and Arthabaska.

There is not a sane man in the Lower Provinces who does not feel that Palmer, Tilley and King, will be elected in St. John.

It is felt, even among the Grits, that this time Halifax is lost to the Government.

It is known that hardly a single Grit candidate will secure election in Cape Breton.

In Prince Edward Island a man would be laughed at who imagines that even one Grit would be returned.

In Quebec it is absurd to suppose that the people will send members to support Mr Huntington and Mr Laurier, no matter how they may have felt about the Joly Opposition.

All this nonsense about the Grit success, and the Grit hopefulness is most ridiculous. We do not see how any sane man can be deceived by it. It is the merest bombast. And it is felt to be so by those who declaim most loudly and who prophesy a victory with most assurance.

THE ORANGE QUESTION.

At two o'clock the usual crowd of interested persons had gathered in the Court of Queen's Bench room, and while anxiously awaiting the entrance of Mr Rrehaut, Police Magistrate, they were surprised by hearing the names of the principal Orange witnesses called, and the persons called were ordered to meet in the Grand Jury room, where the examination was continued before the interested parties only. The cross examination of Sir Francis Hincks was continued by Mr Jos. Doutre, Q.C., as follows:

Q. According to the constitution of the British Empire is not the sovereign the head-fountain of the Church and State? The Sovereign cannot belong to any other church but the Protestant Church? A. The sovereign must belong to the Protestant Church as by an established law, but if the meaning of the question is to ask my opinion as to the Sovereign maintaining Protestant ascendancy, I refer to the resolution of the House of Commons on the 23rd of February, 1837, in the following words: "Resolved, That an humble address be presented to His Majesty, praying that His Majesty will be graciously pleased to take such measures as to His Majesty may seem advisable for the effectual discouragement of Orange Lodges, and generally of all political societies excluding persons of a different religious faith, using secret symbols and signs and acting by means of associated branches;" and the King William the Fourth replied to the said addresses, as follows: "I willingly assent to the prayer of my faithful Commons, that I will be pleased to take such measures as may seem to me advisable for the effectual discouragement of Orange lodges, and generally of all political societies excluding persons of a different religious faith, using secret signs and symbols and acting by means of association branches. It is my intention to discourage all such societies in my dominions, and I rely with confidence on the fidelity of my loyal subjects to support me in this determination."

Q. Has this been followed by any legislation on the subject. A. I cannot say positively whether the Party Processions Act was enacted before or after the address of the House of Commons, but there was a Party Processions Act in force in former years.

Q. Is it to your knowledge that no such legislation has been in existence for several years before. A. I am aware that the Party Processions Act, which was specially directed against Orange processions, was repealed several years ago, but it seems to be the opinion of the authorities in Ireland that the common law affords ample means to the authorities to prevent processions calculated to endanger the public peace. I think that it may be well, with reference to an answer to a former question, to give more precisely the opinion of the Attorney and Solicitor-General of Upper Canada, in accordance with an address from the Commons of Upper Canada, asking for such an opinion, and which was dated 6th of April, 1836, in the following words:

"OPINION OF HER MAJESTY'S ATTORNEY AND SOLICITOR-GENERAL

on the subject of Orange processions:

"We are of opinion that all processions likely to endanger the public peace, and all processions as have such a tendency are illegal and may be suppressed by special authority. Persons engaged in the processions of the description mentioned are liable to be prosecuted for a misdemeanor. It may be sometimes difficult to determine what processions are in themselves illegal or have the tendency to a breach of the peace, and it therefore must rest with the legislators how far it is expedient to pass a law to suppress public processions of every description.

"All which is respectfully submitted.

"ROBERT S. JAMIESON,
"Attorney-General.
"CHRISTOPHER A. HAGERMAN,
"Solicitor-General."

Q. Was this followed by legislation on the subject? A. It was not followed by any legislation in Upper Canada. The House of Assembly, which passed this address, was dissolved very shortly after, and the House, less opposed to Orangeism, was elected, and continued until the Union in the first Union Parliament, passed an Act prohibiting party processions.

Q. Is that law still in existence? No, it was repealed, I think, about the year 1851-52.

Q. Were you a member of the House? A. I was a member of the House and also a member of the Government.

Q. You had a majority supporting you at the time? A. We had a majority like other Governments, but it was not deemed expedient by the Government to make the opposition to the bill an act against party processions. Members of the Government, among others Mr. Drummond, voted for the repeal, together with many Catholic supporters of the Government from Lower Canada, in the hope that it would conciliate Orangemen, and cause the discontinuance of their demonstrations. I myself voted against the repeal, as did Mr Lafontaine, the leader of the Government.

Case progressing.—Witness.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, Bible House, New York City.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

This preparation stands peerless as a remedy for all summer complaints. Have you diarrhœa? It will positively cure you. Have you cholera morbus? It will positively cure you. Have you colic or cramps in the stomach? It will positively cure you. Is your stomach sour? It will positively cure you? Are you going on a sea voyage? Be sure and take a bottle of the Strawberry in your haversack, for use in sea-sickness, vomiting and other irritations of the stomach and bowels; it will positively cure you. Every one speaks highly of it. "I have no hesitancy in recommending Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry."—G. W. EARL, St. Catharines. "I would advise any one suffering from summer complaints to give Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry a fair trial."—CARMAN M. GOULD, M.D., Castleton. "Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry gives perfect satisfaction."—THOMAS DOUGLAS, Cambray. "Can recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry with confidence." JUDGE S. S. PECK, Minden. "My customers bear high testimony to the virtues of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry."—T. STEVENSON, Orangeville. Milburn, Bentley & Pearson, Toronto.

A Stubborn Fact.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is, without a doubt, the safest and most reliable remedy in existence, for diarrhœa, dysentery, cholera morbus, sour stomach, sea-sickness and all summer complaints. It acts like a charm. Its effects are marvellous—relief instantaneous, cure speedy. Physicians and all who use it recommend it. It should be kept in every home at this season, for use in cases of emergency. For sale by all dealers. Milburn, Bentley & Pearson, Proprietors, Toronto.

IN THE HARD DRY COUGH OF CHRONIC BRONCHITIS, with its difficult expectoration and laboured breathing, the demulcent properties of Robinson's Phosphorized Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, with Lacto Phosphate of Lime, manifests itself in its healing and soothing effect upon the irritated mucous membranes of the bronchial passages; the cough quickly yields, the breathing is eased, while nature, thus aided, reasserts herself, and where once gaunt Consumption stared the victim in the face, no hopes beckon on to life and health. Prepared by J. H. Robinson Chemist, St. John, N.B., and for sale by druggists generally. Price $1.00 per bottle; six bottles for $5.00.

This is to certify that my wife, having been troubled for a length of time with asthma and general nervous debility, and having been treated by medical men and used many preparations, finally tried a bottle of Victoria Hypophosphites, and realized the most immediate and permanent benefit she ever got from any previous medicine. She felt like a new person.—Yours truly,
R. G. SCIDMORE.
