From Nebraska in a Wagon

Mr. W. Sparling, a brother-in-law of Mr. Valentine Bauer, of Bentick, arrived here on Thursday last, having driven all the way from Dewitt, Nebraska, a distance of between 13 and 14 hundred miles. He was accompanied by his wife and seven children. They left on the first day of May intending to be here by the first of July, but owing to delay in Michigan they were a week late in arriving with friends in Normanby where he pulled up a week before his arrival here. He was nine weeks on the road and the horses are in exceeding good condition, having lost only thirty pounds since leaving home. His wagon was specially built for the trip by Mr. Sparling himself, and is filled with beds, stove, water tank and all conveniencies. The total weight of the outfit is 32 hundred pounds, and rides as easily as an ordinary buggy. Mr. and Mrs. Sparling are natives of Normanby, having left Ayton for their western home seventeen years ago. They made money out there and of course like the place well. To meet an emergency the company was fortified with a first class dog and revolver capable of shooting sixteen times without reloading, but such was unnecessary as no harm befel the travellers on the whole trip in the course of a couple of months. Mr. and Mrs. Sparling, we understand, are well off, and desiring a summer's leisure they adopted this plan which will certainly commend itself in many ways. In no other way could they get a betteridea of the country, and in no way of travelling can they exercise greater independance and have greater freedom to enjoy the family circle. They can go when they please, rest when they please, sleep when they like it. In short it seems an ideal way to make an independant visit.—Chronicle.

Miss McNally, a daughter of Mr. Wm. McNally, near Travesmon, died last week after a few days' illness. A few days before she was visiting relatives here and in good health. She was about 19 years of age and was an attractive and amiable young lady whose loss will be greatly deplored even outside her own family and relatives who have the sincere sympathy of the community.—Review.

The hotelkeepers in some Ontario towns are taking as much interest in enforcing the regulations affecting their business as any of the temperance organizations. The Cobourg Post says that the hotel men of Cobourg have agreed among themselves to strictly observe the regulations of the License Act regarding the selling of liquor between the hours of seven o'clock Saturday night and Monday morning, and last week the good resolution was put in force. Any hotel man breaking the agreement will have to submit to a penalty imposed and subscribed by the dealers themselves. At Berlin the hotelkeepers' association have similar regulations in force.

Will Peterson, son of Mr Henry Peterson near Hawkesville, on Tuesday morning of last week, met with an accident that resulted fatally. He was cutting hay with a mower and left the team in the field while he went to the house. He saw the team come running towards the barn, and made an attempt to stop them by catching them by the head. The guard or knife of the lower mower caught his leg, injuring it severely, and he was internally injured besides. The young fellow lingered until Wednesday afternoon without having recovered consciousness. Death resulted from concussion of the brain. The deceased was 18 years of age.—Mt. Forest Rep.

The type setters are not the only blunderers that star le people. A telegrapher tells of a case in which an operator's error caused a poor man no end of anxiety. This man's wife was visiting at a distance from home when she was taken ill, and of course wifely regard sought to break the news gently to her husband by means of a telegram from the physician. As the husband received the message it read "Wife has been quite ill, but is doing well now. She has had a child, but we hope to prevent her from having any more." The husbands natural alarm was not allayed till he learned that the word that the operator had made "child" was in the doctor's writing, "chill."

The little town of Paisley is all excited over the arrest of Malcolm McDonald on suspicion of being implicated in the poisoning of a number of cattle belonging to H Rudolph a few days ago. Several of Rudolph's cattle died under circumstances that led to the belief that they had been poisoned, and an investigation was instituted. Quantities of poison have been found here and there in a field, and other evidences of intentional poisoning have been discovered. McDonald purchased a ticket for Dakota and was about to depart, leaving his harvest uncut, when he was taken into custody. He had in his possession a loaded five-chambered revolver which he was prepared to use, and protested he knew nothing concerning the death of the cattle. The police claim they have strong evidence against McDonald. The prisoner was taken to Walkerton and will appear before Police Magistrate Millar.

Polson's Nerviline Cures Rheumatism.

The remarkable strength and marvellous soothing power of Nerviline renders it quite infallible in rheumatism. Five times stronger than any other remedy, its penetrating power enables it to reach the source of the pain and drive out the disease. Nerviline is stronger, more penetrating, more highly pain-subduing in its action than any other medicine heretofore devised for the cure of rheumatism. Sold in large 25 cent bottles everywhere.
