Flesherton may regard herself as superloyal in the matter of honoring the King's Birthday. All business places were closed up tight here on June 3rd, while all other places in the county were conducting business as usual. The day was not observed anywhere excepting by banks and schools. The 24th of May is still observed in memory of good Queen Vic., and it is felt generally that this is sufficient recognition of the royal family without celebrating individually for King, Queen and Prince of Wales. Flesherton will probably remember the little facts next year.

DR. D. JAMIESON KNOWS CONDITIONS

SOUTH GREY MEMBER COMES IN FOR PRAISE FROM THE FINANCIAL POST

The Financial Post in an editorial in its issue of May 17th has some worth-while praise for Dr. D. Jamieson, M.P.P. for South Grey. The Post says:

Ontario has a legislative committee studying the agricultural situation with the object of recommending policies that will improve conditions. Already facts have been brought out showing that farmers can double incomese without increasing costs or working any harder than they do now. It is merely a matter of applying business princples. If all farmers would run their farms wtih the same intelligence as do our sucessful business concerns, the farmers would be equally prosperous. A great many of them are.

The government made what would appear to be a wise choice in putting the member for South Grey, Dr. David Jamieson, at the head of the committee. He knows Canadian conditions from all important angles. He has proved by his own career that with reasonable intelligence, reasonable industry, any Canadian boy can get all the comfort and satisfaction he desires without crossing the border. The doctor is a farmer's son who has lived his life, practised his profession, developed industries. all of them successfully, in a rural community that is unblessed by nature with little but a rocky soil, yet is most prosperous. The main stream that traverses his constituency is known as the "Rocky" Saugeen. Under his inspiration and business guidance, associated with a former member of the Legislature, Charles Bowman. and some local talent, there has brown up in his riding one of the largest furniture factories in Canada. That being well organized and prosperous, the doctor has turned his medical practice over to his son and is devoting his activities to public service and is making a hobby of reforestation and game propagation. He has acquired several hundred acres of cut-over land in which he is planting thousands of young trees, among which are bred partridges, English pheasants and waterfowl. All with the object of showing the farmers of the district another source of revenue.

The doctor believes, from association with them, that all the average Canadian farmer wants is to be shown how to make the best out of his farm. He is ambitious to beat the world in quality of his products and wants to be protected by laws from the few who breed scrubs, grow inferior grains, make low-grade cheese, sell rancid butter, cheat in the packing of fruit and other wooden nutmeg and non-British methods.

With such a chairman, with a good committee, and with a successful farmer as minister of agriculture to understand and carry out the recommendations of the committee we ought to have some very profitable results from the inquiry.

TAKING OUT POLES

During the past few weeks some very fine cedar telephone poles have been brought through town, the property of Mr. W. A Armstrong of Flesherton. In past years we have seen some real large timber brought out, but these poles are as good as any of former days. They were cut around the 8th, 10th and 12th of Osprey. Some of them reach sixty feet in length, while others are slightly shorter. but they are all fairly straight and of fine quality. This part of Grey county has been noted for its timber, but while it has been nearly all cut over there are parts where some excellent timber can be secured.

IN MEMORIAM

GUY—In loving memory of our dear mother, who departed this life May 30th, 1921.

Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Though she died three years ago;
She has gone, but not forgotten,
Never shall her memory fade,
Sweeter thoughts shall ever linger
Around the spot where she is laid.
Ever remembered by her daughter.
LIZZIE

A car, owned by Fred Gibson of Thornbury, ran into a cow on the 8th line, Collingwood, and both car and cow were badly damaged.

A cchken uew into a coal yard the other day and laid an egg in one of the bins of coal. The people around here say chickens can read, because in front of the office there is a large sign bearing this advice: "Now is the time to lay in coal."
