3 TRYING TIMES

In a Woman's Life.

There are three periods in a woman's life when she is especially in need of the heart strengthening, nerve toning, blood enriching action of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

The first of these is when the young girl is entering the portals of womanhood. Very often at this time she is pale, weak and nervous, and unless her health is built up and her system strengthened she may fall a prey to consumption, or be a weak woman for life.

The next period a woman needs Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills is motherhood. The drain on the system is great and the exhausted nerve force and depleted blood, require replenishing. These pills supply the system with the very elements needed to make rich red blood and create new nerve tissue.

The Change of Life is the third period in a woman's life when she is most liable to heart and nerve troubles. Often there is nervousness, hysteria and melancholia; palpitation, dizziness, feeling of "pins and needles," hot flushes and general weakness. Every woman approaching this eventful period should fortify her system by the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and thus safely tide over an epoch in her life fraught with so much danger to her health.

LETTER FROM RIVERSIDE.

MISS ROSE WRITES FROM CALIFORNIA.

Her Return From Kingston Marred by Illness—Fruit Ripening in the Warm Sunlight—A Fashionable Wedding in Which Canadians Figure.

One of Miss Rose's always entertaining letters from Riverside, Cal., speaks of her warm welcome back from Kingston, but the pleasure of return was marred by a severe cold, which grew steadily worse, till she became seriously ill. Matthew Gage and his daughter took her to their summer home at Coronado, and nursed her back to health, in spite of a relpse. It took two months of great care to restore her to her former health. All of Miss Rose's pupils, which she graduated this year, have attained excellent positions. She has been nine years making a reputation, and now hopes to begin to make money. Miss Rose adds these items of interest:

We had very stirring times here at the election, a gay show when "Teddy's Terrors," came. A yelling throng of juveniles went out on the track ever so far and ere the train was in sight we heard the pistol shots of the cow-boys. It was a sight when they reached the depot, fyled off and marched in procession to the Rubidoux Block in which the Republican club have their rooms. They were dressed in khaki colored buckskin, with broad sombrero hats and pistols in their belts. They had a band, and as they marched they discharged their pistols and some minature cannons in perfect time and rhyme with the music. It was a din. But they were a magnificent looking set of men. All looked like "King Saul," head and shoulders above ordinary men. Then the picturesque bandit-looking dress, with capes slung over one shoulder, made a picture I shall not soon forget.

For three days we have had the grandest of California rains and every one looks glad and bright. Our crop was never better and we will have some lovely fruit for thanksgiving trade.—I had a delightful drive since my return to work, out to the Chase Pleasure drive. The Chase family have great nurseries here and are the same family noted in that line in Rochester, N.Y. They have land as far as the eye can reach here, out at the foot-hills, protected by these hills and by arroyas (our Spanish name for ravines) from frost. The sight of their fruit out there was enough to make one well and these men are making this valley out at East Riverside to rival if not surpass the Arlington Heights and Victoria avenue, where the Gage lands are. The grapefruit, oranges and tangerines were kissed by the sun into a golden glow in their beautiful ranches, and they are not selfish, as they have made two fine roads high above the grounds to enable the public to share in the delight by driving at an elevation around all their beautiful groves. One road is higher than the other, and you go by one and return by the other. They have blasted huge rocks, and have the cold spring water oozing out for the passers-by.

We are soon to have a fashionable wedding. The second daughter of William Irving, Miss Eva, is to be married in January, to Stewart Malloch, of Hamilton, Can. He is a cousin of John Mylne, formerly of Smith's Falls, and a graduate of the Royal military college, who married the eldest daughter of Mr. Irving, Miss Lella. He is engineer of the Gage canal system here. The wedding ceremony will be in our pretty Calvary Presbyterian church, and as the Malloch family are all coming out to the wedding, it will be the social event of the season. Miss Eva is the beauty of the Gage and Irving and Smart connection.

Two Cases Of Piles.

That Defied Every Treatment and Caused Intense Misery Until Permanently Cured By Dr. Chase's Ointment.

A worse case of piles than the one recorded here would be difficult to imagine. In vain was the search for a cure, and the victim endured intense misery from the terrible itching and burning.

Mrs. James Brown, of Hintonburgh, a suburb of Ottawa, states: "I have been a constant sufferer from nearly every form of piles for the last 20 years, and during that time both here and in the old country have tried almost every remedy.

"I am only doing justice to Dr. Chase's Ointment, when I say, I believe it to be the best remedy obtainable for bleeding, protruding piles.

"I strongly recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment to mothers or, indeed, to any person suffering that dread torment—piles."

Besides absolutely curing any form of piles, Dr. Chase's Ointment is a quick and lasting relief for the itching to which women are subject and positively cures eczema, salt rheum, and all kinds of itching skin diseases. It is of incalculable worth in every home.

Another interesting case was that of Mr. Joseph Jackson, of the Laurie Spool Co., St. Alexis des Monts, Que. Here is a copy of the letter received the other day from Mr. Jackson, wherein he gratefully acknowledges the unusual merit of Dr. Chase's Ointment. Mr. Jackson says:

"You can put my name to any praise you can give to Dr. Chase's Ointment for it has done me the most good of any medicine I ever used. I have been troubled for two years with bleeding piles, and after using Dr. Chase's Ointment I can say that I am entirely rid of this miserable disease. I must say that Dr. Chase's Ointment is a treasure for all persons suffering with piles."

False modesty prevents many from seeking advice or submitting to a local examination by a physician. Then, besides, there is the dread of the surgeon's knife, the only means which many doctors use to cure piles.

Before the discovery of Dr. Chase's Ointment there was no reliable cure for piles, no cure that would absolutely cure any case of piles, whether itching or protruding piles.

To-day nearly everybody in Canada and the United States, and very many in Europe, know of Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for piles.

It is a wonder of medical science, which has been frequently imitated, but never successfully. 60 cts. a box at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

TYPES OF THE HOUSE.

Men That Won in Spite of Every Obstacle.

Ainslee's.

The richest man in the house of representatives at Washington, is Connell, of Pennsylvania, who has accumulated over $10,000,000, and who has a single item of income of $500 a day. Connell is a coal operator—one of the largest in the United States. Fifty years ago he was working in the mines as a driver-boy at seventy-five cents a day. Closely approaching him are Levy, of New York, the owner of the Monticello, who inherited his wealth, and Sprague, of Massachusetts, who acquired his by marriage. Other rich men in the house, some of whom are in the millionaire class; are Sibley, of Pennsylvania; Stewart, of Wisconsin; Hitt, of Illinois; Cannon, of Illinois; Dalzell and Adams, of Pennsylvania; Ruppert, McClellan and William Astor Chanler, of New York; Babcock, of Wisconsin; Lovering, of Massachusetts; Wadsworth, of New York and Burleigh, of Maine. A great majority of the members have little besides their salaries, although there are few of them who could not earn more than their salaries if they were to retire from congress.

With comparatively few exceptions, both senators and representatives started in life as poor boys. Perkins, of California, was a cabin boy, shipped before the mast when twelve years old, and followed the sea for twelve years. Stewart, of Nevada, was a stage-driver. Thurston, of Nebraska, supported himself as a boy in Vermont by farm work and by driving teams. Needham, of California, was born in an emigrant waggon, in Nevada. He is one of the youngest members of the house. Adamson, of Georgia, worked on a farm and hauled goods and cotton. Lorimer, of Illinois, who, while still under forty, is supreme in the republican politics of Chicago, was a bootblack and a car-driver. Cusak, of Illinois, was a sign-painter. Smith, of Illinois, worked his way through college from a blacksmith shop. Robinson, of Indiana, was a newsboy, and worked in a shop from the time he was fifteen till he was twenty. Hangen, of Iowa, began to earn his own living at fourteen, and when he was eighteen had bought a farm. Hepburn, of Iowa, was a printer. So were Heatwole, of Minnesota; Young, of Pennsylvania and Amos Cummings, of New York. Weeks, of Michigan, had to buy books and study law through the intervals of teaching school. Brownlow, of Tennessee, earned his own living when ten years old. He was a tinner and a locomotive engineer. De Graffenreid, of Texas, was a brakeman. Otjen was foreman in a rolling mill. Mercer, of Nebraska, taught school, clerked in a store, worked on a farm and edited a newspaper. Robinson, of Nebraska, worked as a mechanic in a hinge factory. Gardner, of New Jersey, was a waterman. Daly, of the same state, was a moulder by trade. Spalding, of North Dakota left home at eleven years to earn his own living. Ryan, of Pennsylvania, was employed as a mule driver. Graham, of Pennsylvania, was employed in a brass foundry and enlisted at seventeen. Broussard, of Louisiana, clerked in a dry-goods store while studying law. Wheeler, of Kentucky, worked on a farm summers and attended school winters. Baker, of Maryland, worked on a farm until he was thirty-two. H. C. Smith, of Michigan, worked on a farm and in factories, and after he entered college did chores for farmers for his board, teaching school in vacation. William Alden Smith, was a page in the legislature. Tawney, of Minnesota, a leading member of the ways and means committee, was a blacksmith and machinist until he began to study law. Champ Clark worked as a hired farm hand, clerked in a country store, edited a country newspaper, and practiced law.

A Treaty Arranged.

Washington, Dec. 3.—Secretary Hay for the government of the United States and senor Correa, Nicaraguan minister, for his own government, have signed a treaty whereby the latter government concedes to the government of the United States the necessary rights and provides within her bestowal for the construction of the Nicaraguan canal.

The Great Problem.

Omaha World-Herald.

The world is patiently waiting the advent of the man who can explain why a baby never wants to play in the coal scuttle until after it has been dressed for company.

There is some doubt of the recall of Sir Julian Pauncefote, British ambassador at Washington, when his second extension of time comes to an end next spring. His experience and long residence in the United States makes it expedient for him to remain, since foreign powers are now endeavoring to disturb the understanding which, thanks to lord Pauncefote, now exists between Britain and the United States.

ASTHMA CURED

AFTER 10 YEARS SUFFERING Physicians Could Not Promise More Than Temporary Relief.

Clarke's Kola Compound Cured

S. Till, 142 Dorchester street, St. John, N.B., writes:

"I have been a great sufferer from asthma for nearly ten years. Many months, night after night, I have been so bad that sleep was impossible, and at times I thought I would choke. I used different asthma remedies, and doctored with the best physicians in St. John, but my trouble became worse each year. About a year ago I purchased three bottles of Clarke's Kola Compound; then, I took three more, and since completing the treatment with this remedy have not had a single attack. I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. Clarke's Kola Compound, which I know has no equal for asthma. Since being cured, I have frequently recommended this remedy to others in our city, and they all speak very highly of it."

Clarke's Kola Compound is the only permanent Cure for asthma yet discovered. Over a thousand complete cures are recorded in Canada alone. All druggists sell it. Write for book telling all about Clarke's Kola Compound, to the Griffith & Macpherson Co., Limited, 121 Church street, Toronto.

CAPTURED GEN. OLIVIER.

Corpl. Filson Had That Distinguished Honor.

Trooper J. T. Duguid, formerly captain of the cadet corps of Harbord street school, Toronto, now a member of the Royal Canadian Dragoons, fighting in South Africa, in writing of his experiences, relates the following incident as showing the bravery of the late Corpl. Filson, Amherst Island, killed in action recently; the letter was written prior to the death of the brave Amherst Islander:

"While we were at Kroonstadt a party of Canadian mounted rifles was sent out on special duty, of which I was one. We left Kroonstadt at 5 p.m. and trotted all night till four next morning. Then we stopped for twenty minutes and fed our horses, and as soon as they were finished we mounted and trotted on until one o'clock in the evening. Then we fed again, had another twenty minutes' rest, and then we walked on until four in the afternoon. We then halted for an hour and then moved on, and about dark we surrounded a Boer house, went inside and captured Gen. Olivier and Gen. Botha's son, two very noted Boer leaders. They were asleep and in bed when we arrived, and were slightly surprised when Corpl. Filson held his revolver to their heads while I pulled the clothes off them. Besides these we caught several noted men and several of the Johannesburg police. We helped ourselves to what things were lying loose around the house, and I got the general's coat. Coming back five horses dropped dead beside the road, and the Canadians received great praise for the way we carried out that part of the programme."
