Notes on Foreign Missions

The powers have practically withdrawn from China, but the interest in China has not subsided. Every intelligent man, who longs for the betterment of the world must continue to fix his attention upon a country that contains one-quarter of the world's population.

The latest and most encouraging news is that the Empress is quietly enacting the very laws she so violently suppressed a few months ago. The report is that there is to be in every provincial capital a college of western education. The reformers before the out break were advocating this very thing. They wanted the old heathen temples converted into schools and colleges established, in which China could be so educated as to be able to stand beside civilized nations. The proposal startled and aroused conservative opposition and hence the fearful havoc of last year. China has been taught by affliction. Now it seems the schools are to be established by imperial decree.

Who are to be the teachers in these schools? China cannot for some years furnish them herself. The missionaries will be asked, indeed have already been asked to take charge of China's education. But the missionaries cannot turn aside from their own work. What remains but that they should ask the home church to send out more men? And they will. Probably never before has such an opportunity and responsibility come to the church. If we can supply christian teachers who can take the control and give a christian complection to the education of China for some years, who can estimate the results.

The missionaries who were driven out of China have now nearly all returned, and have been kindly received by the Chinese. The native Christians rallied about them as might be expected. These native christians have gone through the furnace, and by the discipline of affliction will be better and more consecrated men, and more efficient workers among their own people. In that respect the mission will be more prosperous because of what has happened.

From central India word comes that rains have again failed. Only six ceu inches of rain fell instead of the ninety inches usual in that province. As a result the crop has not been sown, and there will be no crop in March. There is fear of both bread and water famine. It may be appeals will come again for help, and no doubt Canadians out of a plentiful harvest will respond as generously as they did last year.

Even so dreadful a calamity has been overruled to the conversion of many souls. Many thousands of children gathered during the last famine, are under christian instruction. They are also taught industrial arts by which they can support themselves. We have in this office at the present time specimens of beautiful rugs of oriental patterns woven by these children. They find a large market in England for such work.

All things are working towards the world's uplift and evangelization.

W. A. Muir, of Lima, O., says:—"I was one of the countless victims of early vice at 15 years of age. The drains on my system were weakening my brain as well as my sexual and nervous system. For ten years I tried scores of doctors, electric belts and patent medicines. Some helped me, none cured. I was giving up in despair, in fact, contemplating suicide when a friend advised me as a last resort to give the New Method Treatment of Drs. K. & K. a fair trial. Without confidence I consented and in three months I was a cured man. I was cured seven years ago—am married and happy. I heartily recommend Drs. K. & K. to my afflicted fellow men."

From Our Own Correspondent

Osprey Council met on Monday for the last meeting this year. We wish the members all success for the new year. We are sorry to hear that Councillor Morrison is giving up municipal affairs.

We are sorry to state that Jimmie Scott has been very ill with inflammation of the lungs.

Prof. Stewart has been giving concerts here for the last ten nights. Among the novelties introduced was the giving away of a beautiful lamp to the most progressive farmer. Louis Kerton was the lucky man. The Professor goes to Dundalk from here. We wish him every success as he is a jolly good fellow.

The Presbyterians of our town intend having a teameeting on Christmas Eve. They expect a good tea and a grand program.

Wedding bells are ringing around our burg. Full particulars next week.

Miss Jessie McIntyre and Mr. B. McLean visited at W. H. Guy's on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Anderson of Gladstone, Man., visited the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James McDonald, south line, last week.

A number from here attended the wedding at Ceylon last week and report a splendid time. Peter Murdhur, our young piper, favored the gathering with some lively selections. Why do the S. O. S. send to Toronto for a piper when we have two of our own in town?

Joseph and Maggie Wright of Collingwood are visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dugald McLean, and other friends around here.

Frank P. Reiley is home from Owen Sound for his Xmas holidays. Frank has been working in the freight sheds all summer and has secured winter employment and will return shortly.

Maud Riley is visiting friends at Boothville this week.

W. J. Blakeston, our former teacher and citizen, has been engaged as principal of Dundalk school. We wish W. J. success.

Every person, young and old, should attend the Presbyterian Xmas tree entertainment on Xmas eve, for they will miss a rare treat if they don't.

Edith Muir is ill with inflammation of the lungs at Mr. Vause's, south line, and Will Mathers is down with grippe. But under the care of Dr Dixon we hope to see them both around again soon.

Mrs. E. J. Grier visited her brother, D. A. Brown, Bunessan, Friday last.

Jennie McArthur spent a few days with friends near Pomona last week and took part in the school concert on Thursday evening last. Several from here also attended the pie social and we believe paid too much for their whistle.

Eugenia

From Our Own Correspondent.

The holidays are at hand and what with concerts and teameetings our young people have their hands full. Salem Sabbath school holds theirs on Thursday evening, this week; Eugenia Methodists on Friday evening, and the Presbyterians on the 27th. With the wedding bells also ringing, the people here ought to spend a happy Christmas time.

Mr. D. Clark took a run down to Trenton for a few days last week.

Posters are out announcing the annual entertainment of the Methodist Sunday school on Friday evening, Dec. 20th. The choir and the little folks have been getting in some hard practice lately and are trying to make it the event of the Xmas season.

Rev. Wilson of Flesherton, assisted Rev. White in his revival work here last Friday evening. The inclemency of the weather prevented many from coming to hear a sincere and forcible sermon.

Rev. White has his horse bandaged up as a result of a runaway near Kimberley last Saturday night.

Eugenia as a village is blessed with an array of talent quite beyond the average, and this will be shown to advantage at the Presbyterian Sunday school entertainment on Friday Dec. 27th. The choir is in one grand symphonious chord of classical anthem music.

The Presbyterian choir went out to Mr. Madill's on Monday night, and with a full number had the best practice that has been.

A very interesting gentleman lately visited this part, in the person of Mr. Stewart, who served as an officer in South Africa with the second contingent. His store of incidents of the war seemed to be inexhaustible. He endured his full share of privations and sufferings, having frequently gone four days on a bran diet and slept on the veldt with the rain falling in "chunks," as he said it does in South Africa. He fought in numerous engagements, including some of the leading battles, and escaped with only a slight wound on his cheek. He was here in the interest of the Massey-Harris Co., of which he is the general agent, his headquarters at present being at Orangeville. He carries with him as a much prized trophy a medal received from the hand of the Duke of York when in Toronto, also a gold watch presented to him on his return home.
