AN UNWELCOME GUEST

The family of Alfred Petit, electrician of Cargill, was treated to a small circus performane, at their own home there the other day, when as they were seated at dinner, the family cat walked into the room carrying in her mouth a live snake, 2 1-2 feet in length, and deposited it at their feet. In the excitement which followed even the feline pet scampered nervously from the room, leaving the members of the family to battle with the reptile. It was finally coralled by the means of a shovel and escorted to the lawn, where the usual process of execution was carried out.

The Late D. Neely Ex-M.P.

Dr. David Bradley Neely, ex-M.P. a native of Markdale and for some years a resident of Toronto, died on Sunday, May 3rd, at St. Petersburg, a despatch from that place announces. Dr. Neely was graduated in medicine, with a gold medal, from the University of Toronto in 1889 and practised for a time thereafter in Markdale. He moved thence to Saskatchewan, where he practised his proffession and interested himself in public affairs. He was elected by acclamation to the first Legislature of Saskatchewan after that province was constituted in 1905. Subsequently, he resigned from the Provincial assembly and was elected ot the Dominion House of Commons as the Liberal member for Humbolt Sask., in 1908. He was re-elected in 1911. He was one of the Western Liberal members of the House of Commons who supported the war policy of the Borden Government and of the Union Government. Yet he did not present himself as candidate for re-election in the general election of 1917. He became medical officer of the 9th Canadian Mounted Rifles in that year and went overseas with his unit. Since his return from overseas, Dr. Neely had not enjoyed the best of health. He is survived by his widow, who was Miss Amelia Hill, of Markdale, and one son; by two sisters, Mrs. John Cronin, of Markdale, and Miss Margaret Neely, and by his brothers W. J. Neely, of Calgary, and Thos. Neely of Owen Sound.

A great advertising company says: "Never hesitate as to what medium to use when country trade is wanted. There is but one which will accomplish the purpose; the local weekly newspaper. ,It is read thoroughly by everyone in the town and district. It has more influence with its own people than all the dailies combined."

SPORTS

Geo. Mitchell Is Pres. Of The Baseball Club

W. G. AKINS SELECTED AS THE MANAGER—WILL ENTER TEAM IN CENTRE GREY LEAGUE

Baseball will be the popular sport, with the exception of horse racing, in Flesherton this year when the Centre Grey Baseball League will again operate and Flesherton will have a team to represent this place. On Wednesday evening last the Flesherton Ball Club was organized and a good gathering of players and fans were present to start the game going. Officers were elected as follows:-

Pres., Geo. Mitchell.
1st Vice, M. Wilson.
2nd Vice, J. Wright.
Sec.-Treas., F. J. Thurston.
Manager, W. G. Akins.
Executive Com., S. E. DeCudmore, W. Turney, G. B. Welton, R. Down, G. A. McTavish and F. Thurston.
Grounds Com., E. Best, H. Freeman and F. J. Thurston.

The League organization meeting will be held at Dundalk on Friday evening of this week and W. Turney and F. Thurston were appointed delegates with G. Akins as an alternate. The ball grounds are being put into shape although nothing extensive is being undertaken. The boys are looking for a good year in baseball for 1925 and will commence to practice this week. It will be a youthful team that will represent Flesherton but any team will have to watch their steps at that, so don't think there will be any easy pickings to win a game.

Ball practice will be held to-night in the Memorial Park at 6.30 sharp. All those desirous of making a place on the team will be given every opportunity to make good.
