From Our Own Correspondent

Here we are again after a long silence, but we hope to do better in the future.

Some business changes have taken place here very recently. The firm of M Richardson & Co. have disposed of their stock to the firm of Benson Co. of Markdale and Indian Head, who, we understand, are going to open up in the store on main street, formerly occupied by J. Gardiner.

It is rumored (and we hope it's true) that Mr. A. M. Gibson of Flesherton and his son, A. M., who has been manager for the late firm here, are going to start business in the stand where M. Richardson & Co. recently kept.

At a recent meeting of the session of Erskine Presbyterian church, the following officers and teachers were appointed to conduct the work of the Sabbath school for the ensuing year: Supt. and Bible class teacher, J. W. Whitly; Mrs. Sinclair, Mrs. Rev. Buchanan, Miss Moorehead, and Mr. D. Campbell who is assistant supt; Allen Montgomery, sec. treas. and librarian.

Mr. Dave Noble of Markdale, together with his sister, Miss G. and Miss L. Walker are visiting friends in town this week.

Lewis Bush, foreman at Anderson's, Woodstock, has a son, William, who is well known in Walkerton, being a brother of Mrs. George Rife, with the United States army in the Phillippines. Mr. Bush got a letter from his son last week, in which Wm. tells of a hair raising experience he had. Bush wrote his letter propped up in bed in the hospital as the result of it. Wm. and a comrade were out scouting together and found a Filipino soldier lying in the woods. He was bleeding, and looked as if he were about to leave for the happy hunting ground by quick transit. The two United States soldiers raised him up and decided to take him back to camp. The Filipino couldn't walk, at least he let his captors think so. Each looked around and found the man's rifle and propped it under his arm so he could use it as a crutch. The moment Bush let go of the rifle the Filipino raised it like lightning, and, levelling it at Bush, pulled the trigger. The Woodstock boy saw the move in time to throw up his arm, and the bullet struck his hand and knocked off some of the fingers. The Filipino quickly fired again, and the second bullet struck Bush on the leg. It was all done in less time than it takes one to think. Bush's companion, who had been dazed by the perfidy of the prisoner, came to his senses, however, finally, and pulling out his revolver shot the ungrateful rotted dead. He assisted Bush back to camp, the latter using the late Filipino's rifle as a crutch.—Bruce Herald.

A terrible accident occurred at Proton Station on Wednesday of last week by which a young man named Robert Williamson, age 23 years, lost his life. Deceased and Mr. Thomas Wauchob were engaged killing a beef, and when turning a windlas one of the handles broke, the next succeeding handle striking Mr. Williamson on top of the head, crushing in the skull. A doctor from Dundalk was sent for, but the young man ceased to breathe about an hour and a half after the accident. Deceased was a son of Mrs. Christena Williamson, a widow woman, and was her main support. Dr. Bibby, coroner, investigated the case but decided that no inquest was necessary. The funeral took place to Flesherton cemetery on Friday afternoon last and was very largely attended. The tragedy has created a deep impression in the community and much sympathy is expressed for the widowed mother and family.
