TWO BIG CONVENTIONS

Two very important conventions were held in Toronto last week. First came the Dominion Alliance meeting to deliberate upon the referendum. This measure was unmercifully handled and did not have a champion. Mr. Ross' pledges were read to the meeting and the manner in which he had failed to keep them was made clear to every delegate. The Alliance considers the referendum not only a shameful waste of public money but a distinct refusal on the premier's part to keep his sacred word. There is a feeling among temperance people at large that it would be wise to utterly ignore the referendum as though it had never been hatched in the fertile brain of scheming politicians. If Mr. Ross can discredit his own word in such an important matter, what would he not do in a minor matters. The man who breaks his solemn pledges would certainly wink at election frauds to perpetrate the hold of his party in this province. These words are not written from a political motive but are simply voicing the opinions of all temperance people (secret or otherwise) regardless of party leanings.

From politics to religion is a far flight. They are as wide apart as the poles. Yet they came very near touching shoulders in Toronto last week when the temperance convention was closely followed by a gathering of 1000 delegates from far and near who represented the Volunteer Missionary Movement. The delegates represented 32 different countries, 57 colleges with 1789 students, and many other institutions. Its object is to advance missionary work. The chairman at Massey hall on Sunday evening asked those who hoped to go to foreign fields during the year to stand, when 125 rose to their feet. The fields they purposed going to encompassed pretty near the whole world. The closing moments of this convention were made impressive when the young men and women told the audience of 5000 where and why they were going. The gathering was undenominational and has resulted in awakening in Toronto a wonderful enthusiasm for the forward movement in missionary work. It is said that twenty-five of Toronto's churches have each pledged themselves to support a missionary in the foreign field as a result of this great meeting.

Pain in the Back

Makes life miserable. Can't it be cured? Yes, in one night. Polson's Nerviline gives a complete knockout to pain in the back, penetrates through the tissues, takes out soreness and pain, invigorates tired muscles and makes you feel like a new man. Nerviline cures quickly because it is stronger, more penetrating, more pain-subduing than any other remedy. Don't suffer another minute, get Nerviline quick and rub it in, for as sure as you are born it will cure you. 25c.

An exchange says that a school ma'am of Watseka, at the Iroquois County Institute, during a lesson in physiology, made the following reply to the instructor's query : "Describe the mouth." "The mouth is the front door to the face. It is the aperture to the cold storage of anatomy. Some mouths are like peaches, and some are like a hole in a brick wall. The mouth is the hotbed of toothaches and the tunghole of oratory. It is the common gateway to the liver. It is patriotism's fountain and the food chest of pie. Without it the politician would go down to an unhonored grave, and the office-seeker would become a wanderer upon the face of the earth. It is the grocer's friend, the stump speaker's prade, and the dentist's hope. It puts some men on the rostrum, and some in jail. It is temptations much counter when attached to a woman, and a tobacconist's friend when attached to a man. Without it the Teacher's Institute would be a dream, and a school ma'am would lose half of her attractions."

Signor Marconia, who arrived at New York on the Philadelphia, received a wireless message of four words from the Cornwall station when the ship was 1,351 1-2 miles from the point. This regards wireless telegraphy across the Atlantic as assured.

Joseph Batho, of Kenilworth, on Wednesday of last week sold to Mr. Hershey, cattle buyer of Mount Forest, four steers aging three years, at $70 each, a total of $280 for the brute animals, which, as may be imagined, were very fine ones.—Mt. Forest Rep.

Good profits can, says the American Agriculturist, be made from poultry if one will give the proper care and attention. A New York school teacher, broken down in health, started with 50 hens and had $400 at the end of the year. He gave his entire time and attention to the business, and in one particular month he marketed $90 worth of eggs, receiving 18 cents a dozen. He gradually got a few thoroughbreds, and in four years built up a business paying $400 a year, part on thoroughbreds and part on market poultry and eggs.

Last week some of our exchanges announced that in the case of Biboy v. Township of Euphrasia, tried in Owen Sound last week, the Dr. got $180 and the township paid all costs. This was not correct, as the judge reserved decision on certain points and has not even yet given out his finding.

The new catalogue of Flesherton public library is now in the hands of the librarian, Mr. Armstrong, and can be secured at the library. It makes a book of 28 pages and owing to cost of printing the directors have found it necessary to charge a small fee of five cents per copy to members. This will scarcely cover cost of printing.

Inflammation of the lungs appears to be quite epidemic in this part at present. First the editor's 10-year-old son, Arnold, was stricken with it, then Wesley, the 18-year-old son of school trustee Wm Davis, was attacked, followed by Reeve McTavish's eldest son, Charley, 12 years old. The first named is recovering nicely, but the two latter are still in a dangerous condition.

Our Priceville correspondent gives details of the death and funeral of Mr. Donald Currie of the South Line. Mr. Currie taught school for a number of years, having to give it up on account of ill health. We had known him for a number of years and found him to be one of nature's noblemen. Truly, as our correspondent says, he has gone to his reward. A bright and promising life has been cut off at the early age of 34 years.

At the Division Court last week in Dundalk T. Chislett of Ceylon sued Jas. Ashdown for $20 damages for assault. The case grew out of a charge laid last January against Mr. Chislett of selling tobacco to minors and tried before Magistrate Vanduzer. It was during the trial of this case that the alleged offence took place. The judge decided that as the act complained of took place in the magistrate's court he did not care to make the Division court a court of appeal and entered a non suit.

On Sunday last a memorial service was held in the Methodist church, Kimberley, in memory of the deceased Mrs Philips of Thessalon. Rev. T. R. White preached a very encouraging sermon from Matthew 12: 24, "Verily, verily I say unto you, except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone, but if it die it bringeth forth much fruit." A large and sympathetic audience, who sympathise deeply with the bereaved, were present as Mrs. Phillips was a well-known and highly esteemed resident of Kimberley for a number of years.

F. T. Hill & Co., Markdale, have shipped to Montreal during the present month 1353 boxes of butter, or 77,121 lbs., also 107 barrels roll butter of 135 lbs. each, a grand total of 91,566 pounds, for which they received an exceptionally good figure. This is by far the largest shipment of butter that has ever been made by one firm from our local station and speaks in no uncertain manner of the tremendous volume of business that is being done by this firm.—Standard.

The union services which commenced on Sunday last are being well attended and the interest is steadily increasing. Messrs. Bethune and White are proving themselves all that were expected of them. On Sunday next the services will be held in the Methodist church. Mr. White will preach in the morning and Rev. Mr. Bethune in the evening. Arrangements are being made for a Temperance Mass meeting, consisting of addresses and temperance songs at 3.45 p. m. The general public are cordially invited to all these services.

Obituary.

Mr. Robert Fawcett of Kimberley passed peacefully away at his home there on Saturday morning last at the patriarchal age of 83 years, 9 months. Mr. Fawcett immigrated from Enniskillen, Ireland, sixty years ago, settling near Hamilton, but subsequently moved to Bolton, where he remained a few years. Fifty-seven years ago he was married to Miss E. Rutledge of Enniskillen who survives him, and by whom he leaves a family of six sons and three daughters. After leaving Bolton he took up a farm near Heathcote in Collingwood township, becoming a pioneer of that section, where all but two were born. About twenty years ago he gave up farming and moved to Flesherton, and for sixteen years was an esteemed resident of this place. Mr. and Mrs. Fawcett, in order to be near one of their sons as extreme old age crept upon them, moved to Kimberley, where for some time the deceased gentleman has been awaiting the call to cease from labor and be at rest. Gradually he has been failing for a long time, and as the end approached it had no terrors or pain for him, and his last moments were sublime with the illumination that comes from the clear knowledge of a life well spent in the service of his Master to the extent of his ability. For many years he had been a zealous and steadfast member of the Methodist church. Five of his sons and a son-in-law bore the remains of an honored father to their last resting place in Thornbury cemetery on Monday of this week. The deceased leaves, in addition to his aged partner, with whom the parting will be short, the following children: Edward Fawcett of Heathcote; Mrs James Hall, Heathcote; J. R. and Will, Kimberley; John of Dawson City, Alaska; A. R., Toronto Junction; Geo. Irwin, on the old homestead; Mrs. S. C. Rowe, Hancock, Mich.; and Mrs. Henry Down, Flesherton. A memorial service will be held in the Methodist church, Kimberley, on Sunday next at 10.30 a m.

Clever Old Age

A Eugenia correspondent sends The Advance the following item: We have noticed by the Flesherton correspondent to an outside paper an allusion to two very aged lady citizens of whose residence in their midst Flesertonians are justly proud, and we respectfully salute and stand to attention in the presence of such august personages, over whose honored heads the snows of 76 and 83 winters, respectively, have fallen. But in passing we would notice that Eugenia is in advance of Flesherton as the tale is told by count of years. There is at present sojourning, for a time, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Carr, a lady over whose heavy head has rolled 92 years, and still she is as spry in her movements as most people are at 60. This lady—Mrs. McIver, mother of Mr Wm. Hogg, late of Eugenia—has no trouble to read large print without glasses, and her mind is so bright that she can quote from the master poets, choice selections, and bring them to review one after another, such as Wordsworth, Scott, Burns, Byron, Shakespeare, Milton and others, and tell of what country and where they were born and what other notable ones of the past lived and exercised force and influence at the same periods with them. To hear her recite at this late day of her life The Drunkard's Raggit Wean and Dark Lochinvar, and then in flights of enthusiasm fire at you choice but momentous bits of Canadian history and talk learnedly of Wolf and Montcalm, Quebec and the memorable Plains of Abraham, and of the gallant Brock and Queenston Heights, one is not simply interested but astounded and marvels at the wealth of so bright a mind and the riches of so grand a memory. And still long may she live.

Address and Presentation

On Wednesday evening, Feb. 19, Mrs. McMullen was taken by a pleasant surprise when a few of the friends gathered to present Miss Norma McMullen, who is about to depart for a time from our midst to continue her education, with the following address which was read by Miss Badgerow, the gift being presented by Mr. Jacob Williams.

Miss Norma McMullen

DEAR FRIEND,—On learning of your intended departure from among us, we, a few of your friends of Eugenia Methodist church have met to spend an evening at your home. It is with feelings of regret and also of gladness that we are present here—of regret that you are leaving us for some time—of gladness that it is your privilege to continue your education. For some time you have favored us as organist of our church, and we desire to express our appreciation for such, and ask you to kindly accept this token and our sincere gratitude. You have faithfully discharged the duty that you accepted, and have always given your services cheerfully, and shown a deep interest in the service of song in connection with our service. We also extend to you our best wishes for success in your course of studies, and you may be assured that we shall always have a deep interest in your welfare.

Signed on behalf of your friends and pastor,

Rev. T. R. White,
P. H. Badgerow,
Mrs. H. Fenwick,
Mr. J. A. Williams.
