In Memoriam

Lines written in memory of Donald Currie, a member of the Scots Greys Camp, Sons of Scotland, Priceville, who died Feb. 24, 1902.

There's sorrow in the Scots Grey's Camp,
One of her number is no more ;
Turn lower still the burning lamp,
While tears outrun our eyelids o'er.

With saddened hearts, our feeling corbed,
We gaze upon the vacant chair ;
This badge and bonnet, undisturbed,
For Brother Currie is not there.

And now we miss his genial face,
His pleasant smile and gentle tread ;
When in the Camp he took his place
We always liked whate'er he said.

Goodnatured Donald, kind yet bold
In working for whate'er was right ;
Truth was to him more choice than gold,
And righteousness preferred to might.

With sound sense and sobriety,
Not polished o'er with fading gloss,
Our brother in society,
We Sons of Scotland mourn his loss.

But though we shed the bitter tear,
And though deep sorrow rends each heart,
And though we wish he still were here,
Yet 'tis God's will that we should part,

And to God's will we'll be resigned,
Though human nature earthward clings.
Study God's word and there you'll find
The happiness transition brings.

To his dear relatives who mourn
The loss of him they loved to see,
Who now has passed beyond the bourne,
We tender heartfelt sympathy.

We ask them but to trust in God,
And yet their loved one they will meet;
To keep the path our Saviour trod,
On that bright morn He will them greet

In that bright land, where angels sing,
Where all desires are satisfied,
Where we shall reign with Christ our King
Who once for us was crucified.

Turn up the light and dry each tear,
And let us take a heavenward look ;
Through faith we'll see our brother dear ;
His name was written in God's book.

We would direct the attention of our farmer readers to an article in another column on horse breeding for profit. The article is very timely just now. Too many of our farmers go in for cheap foals without any thought for future profit. This looking for cheap things, and especially in the horse line, is a mistake that few wise men will in future make.

The news from South Africa is of a more hopeful nature than it has been for a long time. The Boer commanders in the field have been consulting together during the past week at Krugersdorp and Pretoria and negotiations have been entered into by them with the British cabinet. It is perhaps too much to say that peace is imminent, but the general impression appears to be that such is the case.

The Bibby vs. Davis Case

To the Editor of The Advance

DEAR SIR—Kindly allow me space in your paper to reply to the piece in the Standard, headed "Correction," and labelled "James R. Fawcett," re Bibby vs. Euphrasia. He seems annoyed at a report which he says was made, stating that it could have been settled for two hundred dollars, which he says is not correct, notwithstanding that he himself says the informer said at first. He leaves his moral training and tries to mislead us as of yore, and does not say this was about three months after, as the small pox was on the eighth of June first noticed, and the minutes say that Mr. Davis got the money, $85.90, on September the ninth, which was tendered Dr. Bibby after that date in the way Mr. Fawcett says, and I asked Mr. Fawcett on the twenty-seventh of September myself why they did not offer more. He said they dare not, so your friend must have been jesting with the doctor, or you with me. The writer speaks of proving a bargain at Owen Sound. We do not say he did not prove a bargain; but what we do say is that he did not convince the judge, for His Lordship, in giving judgment, says "for damages and wrongful dismissal." Therefore we claim he did not prove a bargain. Again he refers us to Mr. Wm. Stuart, J.P. I would ask Mr. Fawcett if he brought Mr. Stuart to Owen Sound at the expense of the township and knew he was possessed of such knowledge, and why did he not ask for it there?

D. WALLACE.

Killed at Thornbury

On Wednesday afternoon Mr. Samuel Andres of the township drove to Thornbury station accompanied by Mr. Francis Lambe. Mr. Lambe got out of the wagon to hold the horses by the head while the former was doing some business inside the station. The gravel train came along at the time and frightened the team. In their efforts to get away Mr. Lambe was knocked down and the wagon wheels passed over his chest. The team ran down through the station yard and were not captured until the wagon was badly damaged. Medical aid was immediately summoned and Mr. Lambe was removed to the home of his son-in-law, Mr. W. R. Phipps. Everything possible was done but the unfortunate man only lasted a few hours, having succumbed to his injuries about 8 o'clock the same evening. Deceased had been a resident of this locality for a great many years, and was engaged in farming on the townline of Collingwood and St. Vincent until a few years ago, when his sight failed and he was compelled to give up the business. The funeral took place from the residence of Mr. Phipps on Friday to Hurlburt's cemetery, townline. Deceased was 68 years of age.

Miss Richardson Dead.

Edith Richardson, eldest daughter of M. Richardson, M.P., who has been at the point of death for a couple of weeks, passed peacefully away without pain at the home of her parents here on Tuesday evening at 9 o'clock, surrounded by the family. Edith had been an invalid all her life, but her bright, sunny nature made her a favorite with everyone and universal sorrow is expressed throughout the community that she should be taken away. For the past two weeks her brother, the doctor, has devoted his entire time to the vain endeavor to prolong or save her life, but this was beyond human power. The funeral will be held from the Methodist church to-day (Thursday) at 2.30 p. m.

Weary Brain Workers

All fagged out, ideas flow slowly as mollasses, snap and energy gone! The buoyancy that made work a pleasure, that gone also. A doctor would say you are run down, enervated, neither eating or digesting enough. It's Ferrozone you need to brace up that fitful appetite and improve assimulation and digestion so that lots of pure strong blood will be formed to nourish the broken down system. Ferrozone will drive away the tired feeling, restore your spirits and energy, revive your ambition and strength for work. No tonic or rebuilder like Ferrozone—try it. Price 50 cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50; at Druggists or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont. Sold by W. E. Richardson

From Our Own Correspondent.

On the evening of Wednesday, April 9th, a quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Menary, ninth line, when their second daughter, Rebecca, was united in marriage to Mr. E. R. Riddell of Lockport, Pa., the Rev. Dr. McLaren officiating. The bride, who was attired in a dress of cream cashmere trimmed with cream satin and silk lace tastefully made by herself, was attended by her cousin, Miss Etta Knott, while the groom was ably assisted by Mr. Andrew Menary, the bride's brother. After the ceremony a sumptuous wedding dinner was served when ample justice was done by all. The remainder of the evening was spent in a social manner. That the bride was highly esteemed was quite evident from the many useful and appropriate presents which she received. The young couple left on Monday for Lockport, Penn., where they will reside. Their many friends and acquaintance join in wishing them a prosperous journey through life.

A very painful and serious accident happened last week to Mr. Sandford Ward. He and another young man were wrestling in Mr. J. Ferris' mill when Sandford missed his footing and fell, striking his chin with great force on his own or the other young man's knee. He had his tongue out between his teeth and the great force of the blow drove his teeth through his tongue, almost cutting that member in two. All efforts to stop the flow of blood were unavailing so he was hurriedly taken to Dr. Danard. The doctor was out seeing a patient, and, as no time was to be lost, he was immediately sent for. When he returned he found the young man very weak from loss of blood and in fainting condition. Twenty minutes longer delay might have resulted fatally. The doctor tied the artery which was severed and put several stitches in the tongue. The hopes for recovery are as good as can be expected but if there had not been prompt action the result might have been serious.

Mr. George Proctor and his masons have commenced work again. They are noted for their good, reliable work.

Mr. John Plewis is up from Kirkville attending to his orchard and garden.

Miss Shaw is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. R. D. Carrathers, while Mr. Carruthers is away on business.

Mr. M. Bolger of the Grand Central hotel, Dundalk, met with a sad loss last week by the death of his wife. Mrs. Bolger was only ill a few days and her death was a peculiarly sad one. C. burial ground in Glenelg.

Last week the many old friends of Mr. C. J. Leitch, late of Wabigoon, New Ontario, were pleased to have him drop in on them to renew old acquaintance. Rev. J. S. Ivison Wilson closed his series of special evangelistic services in the Methodist church on Friday evening last and on Sunday morning a reception service was held in the church, when twenty-three persons, young and old, were received into the church as probationers. Inspector Campbell, who visited the Flesherton school on March 27, in his report says: "Heard several classes in each room and from the work done and the general tone of school I am of opinion that everything is going on nicely and good work is being done in every room. The work of teachers and pupils is quite satisfactory. The order is decidedly first class in all three rooms. Judging from the conduct of things in general, the staff is an excellent one."

Mr. Alex. McPherson, a young man 35 years old of this township, died on Sunday week at his home west of the station, of consumption, from which he had been suffering for some time. A few years ago Mr. McPherson worked in a silver mine out in Montana where the seeds of the deadly disease were sown. He leaves a wife to mourn the loss of a kind husband. Deceased was of a kindly nature and was much respected by all. He was a member of the Priceville Presbyterian church and the remains were interred in the Priceville cemetery on Tuesday of last week, when a large concourse of people followed them to their last resting place. The young wife has the sympathy of all in her sore bereavement.
