IN HONOR OF A GREAT EVENT

Birthdays are always important occasios, especially if one is very young or very old. Before long The Youth's Companion will be a hundred years old, and the event is going to be made a memorable one for The Companion's many friends. So, although the date is not until April 16, 1927, preparations will begin with 1926.

In honor of its birthday, The Companion will come to you next year at the new low price of $2. It will be dressed in its party clothes, with new cover designs, enlarged illustrations, new brilliantly clear type, and over 200 pages more than last year. It will contain 9 book-length serial stories, fascinating mystery stories, tales of adventure on land and sea, "Make it and Do-it" pages, radio, games, books and puzzles, increasing special articles and the ever-delightful children's Page. Don't miss this great year of The Youth's Companion; subscribe now and receive:

1. The Youth's Companion—52 issues in 1925, and the remaining issues of 1925. All for only $2.
2. Or include McCall's Magazine, the monthly authority on fashions. Both publications ,only $2.50.

A FREAK CALF

Darling & Kaufman, Mildmay, drovers, have a freak calf on exhibition The animal is four months old and its heart is placed in its neck, directly in front of its shoulder . Normal bovines usually carry their heart behind the left shoulder. This calf's heart, bulging the neck quite noticeably can be seen pulsating some distance away. The calf is in fine condition and the displacement of its vital organ does not seem to inconvenience it in any way.

Heavy Pruning Waste of Energy.

Very little difference was noted in the behavior of heavily-pruned plum trees and trees receiving much less pruning in tests conducted over a number of years, with several standard varieties of plums on the grounds of the New York Agricultural Experiment Station at Geneva. In the opinion of the station horticulturists, mort varieties of plums require but little pruning following the proper shaping of the trees after they are planted. Since little pruning gives just as good, if not better trees, it is regarded as a waste of time and effort to pay too much attention to the pruning of plum trees. The chief recommendation is to thin out thick growths where necessary and to remove broken or injured branches.

When the orchard has not been pruned in the winter, a time should be taken to do this work in the summer, but not later than the middle of July. It is not good to prune as heavily in the summer as in the dormant season. Summer pruning is said to aid in fruit bud formation, but this has been disputed more or less by experimental stations.

Approximately 20 per cent of each potato pared by ordinary household methods is lost in the process. The loss includes much and sometimes all of the portion of the tuber containing important soluble salts. Potatoes that are boiled and baked in their skins lose practically none of their food value.

Vitamines.

Growth and development in animals are dependent upon a diet containing vitamines and correctly balanced chemically. Vitamines are widespread, and sufficient quantities of them occur in animal oils, green feeds, and yellow corn to properly develop young animals.

Autumn Cutting of Alfalfa.

In the Field Husbandry department of the Ontario Agricultural College alfalfa has been under test for twenty-six consecutive years. In each of twenty-four years the alfalfa gave three cuttings per annum. In 1907 two cuttings, and in 1896 four cuttings were produced in the one season. The spring of 1896 opened up very early and that of 1907 very late. The third cuttings were made on September 17th in the average of the twenty-four years. It is important to cut alfalfa before the 20th of September so as to enable the crop to make a good growth before the approach of winter. So says Dr. C. A. Zavitz of the Ontario Agricultural College.

Harness and Belting.

It is important to note that any leather improperly used, or neglected, will deteriorate rapidly. For example, belts for driving machinery often become impaired, if not useless, in a very few years whether on straight drives or not, but when they are kept clean and oiled they will last ten to thirty years.

Apply the grease lightly to driving harness and more liberally to work harness. The grease or oil should be rubbed thoroughly into the leather while it is still damp from washing.
