From Our Own Correspondent

"Leaves of Healing" and other Zion City periodicals have been modestly dropped at gate posts all along the road here recently, probably with the intention of instilling into the minds of other people the inducements offered by Zion City. The nucleus of Mr. Dowie's religion (?) seems to be summed up by a sentence on the first page of the paper, viz.: "Let your first step be to secure a stock investment in this association." We are not so easily ensnared.

Miss Maggie Kennedy, who has for some months been in Toronto, has returned home.

The sick reported last week are steadily improving, but we are sorry to have to chronicle this week another victim of inflammation. This is a little daughter of Mr. Robert Fisher, who has for several days been in a very critical condition, but we hope to hear of her recovery.

Miss T. Hoy, who has gone to Toronto, will remain for some time.

An addition to the mill is being pushed to completion for the purpose of enlarging the shingle production. This being necessary in order to reduce the large stock of cedar on hand.

Mr. Brook's has rented a farm and is moving his family this week.

Mrs. Moses Sherwood and her son, from Collingwood, visited their many relatives here the latter part of last week.

Port Law

From Own Own Correspondent

Last week's items.

Seeding is still the order of the day. We have heard of some farmers being through, but the great majority are just in the midst of work.

Arbor day was observed at our school by teacher and pupils as a day of general renovation.

Rev. L. W. Thom of Flesherton visited members of his flock and others around here on Tuesday of last week. He is always welcomed, not only by his own own people, but his liberal spirit brings out a hearty reception from all other sects as well.

Mr. Wm. McLennan has been in a poor state of health for some time, but is now somewhat improved.

Mr. Samuel Shier is nursing a very sore hand, having got one of his fingers burst by being jammed.

Messrs. Napier and Hepburn have their shingle mill now running in full blast. May success attend their new venture.

Messrs. J. W. Lyons and S. Warling attended the trial at Brampton recently against the C. P. R. Co, re the Proton smashup.

Mr. Wm Fisher's new barn is being slowly but surely raised stick by stick with the aid of block and tackle. Mr. T. Boyce is the contractor and is pushing the work as he has other contracts awaiting him.

Priceville

From Our Own Correspondent.

Messrs. Alex. and Donald McMillan have bought up a carload of horses, and Mr. Alex. McMillan leaves today (Monday) for Manitoba in charge of them.

Mr. Arch. Burnet of Hopeville was in town on Monday of last week.

Allie McLean of Markdale spent Sunday at the parental home here.

Mrs. Jacob Parslow, O. D. R, is spending a couple of weeks with her parents in Proton.

Mrs. King is holidaying at the old home on the D. R at present.

D. K. McArthur and wife of Hopeville Sundayed at Mr. John McArthur's of this place.

Miss Marie McArthur arrived home from Toronto on Friday.

Mr. Hennie and Miss Mamie McLean Sundayed with friends near Boothville.

Miss M. Sinclair is visiting her sister, Mrs. McKinnon.

Mr. D. A. Brown of Bunessan wheeled up to this burg on Sunday. We are pleased to see Dave able to run the wheel again after his long and serious illness.

Mrs. Higgins of Toronto spent a few days at P. Bolger's.

Vinegar Hill.

Mr. Wina Large of Listowell has been a guest at the Eugenia House for a couple of weeks. This place seems to have great attraction for Mr. Large.

The Misses Stubbs of Caledon have arrived and are about starting operations at Sloan's mill. We hope they will have good success in their work.

Miss Jones' Voice Greatly Improved

A starting improvement is noticeable in Miss Jones' singing. Her voice is stronger and sounds clearer and sweeter than before using Catarrhozone, which is wonderful aid to singers, speakers and ministers. Catarrhozone inhaler insures absolute freedom from colds, coughs and Catarrh, clears the nose and throat, and prevents hoarseness and huskiness. Catarrhoze makes the voice brilliant and enduring, and is uncommonly well recommended by Prima Donnas, members of Parliament, lawyers, doctors and thousands that use it daily. Better try Catarrhozone. Price $1.00 ; trial size 25c. Druggists or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Moth Catchers Again

Editor Advance.

DEAR SIR—As some are hard to convince re the moth catcher and others are wishing light on the subject will you please give us the following by J. M. Steadman, Professor of entomology, University of Missouri and entomologist Exp. Station, Columbia, Mo., in Western Fruit Grower, St Joseph, Missouri, Jan. number, 1902. After fully describing the life history of the codling moth, and how to destroy them, he ends by saying: "Nature is doing something to help you to lessen the number of codling moths. If you will notice the insects enlarged in in figure 7 and 8 you will see a picture of ichneumon flies. Note the ovipositors or stings. These two species of insects are busy in your orchards laying their eggs in the codling moths and thereby killing them since their eggs hatch into grubs that feed on the tissues within. Now note that these ichnuemon flies are parasitic on other insects and sting and lay their eggs in other insects and never in apples or other fruit or other parts of plants. Also note that these are the very insects that the moth catcher circulars picture as the "stinging fly" and which they say "sting" your apples and which are caught in vast numbers in the moth catchers. Let us emphatically warn you again in this connection those called stinging insects do not sting your apples at all but are a great benefit to you, and that when you use moth catchers in your orchard you do great harm to yourself by catching these beneficial insects and furthermore let me emphatically warn you that the codling moth is not caught in these moth catcher traps or any other trap lantern except now and then one by accident, and that even though the lanterns did you no harm they would not and could not do you any good in this codling moth crusade. Do not be fooled by the moth catcher agents or circulars or by the vast number of small and harmless moths the traps do catch and which these agents may say are codling moths. Never use moth catchers or trap lanterns in your orchard for codling moth or to prevent stings in apples or plums or any other orchard fruit." How like Prof. Loughead!

Something New in Silos

Much has been written in regard to silos and silo building, and numerous plans have been published, but in actual experience none of them has proved entirely satisfactory. Some are too expensive for ordinary farmers, others are cheap but last only a few years. The round stave silo is one of the cheapest sorts, and if it were not liable to collapse on account of shrinkage of the staves, and the expansion of the iron hoops, it would be very satisfactory.

There is now a prospect of these disadvantages being overcome. A number of farmers in the United States have adopted the plan of using wooden hoops, which cannot shrink or lengthen endwise. The inside sheeting is of one inch Georgia pine, which seems to be the best kind of lumber for silos, on account of its non shrinkable character. It is so full of pitch that moisture has practically no effect upon it. This lumber has been recently laid down at Ottawa for $27.00 per M, and at that price should be one of the most economical our farmers could use.

The foundation of this new sort of silo is in its wooden hoops, six inches wide, and made of half inch elm lumber, sprung around a form, and built up with well lapped joints, using a trifle longer nail each time, until the hoop has a thickness for the three bottom hoops of five layers. The remaining five top hoops require only four layers each. The average silo will not require more than 500 ft. of lumber, and 20 pounds of nails, for the hoops which are easily and quickly made and should not cost more than $1.25 each., or $10.00 for the lot. This is a good deal less than the cost of the usual iron hoops and lugs. A three-cornered frame is erected at the exact outside circumference of of the silo, and the hoops placed in position and fastened.

The lining of the silo is then put on, and should be of inch Georgia pine lumber three inches wide, matched and nailed to the hoops the same as the flooring. When the lining is on within twenty inches of the starting place, stop and put in 2x4 studding, on each side of the door for door stays and jambs. Make the doors of the same lumber as the walls, cutting them into joints on the insdie of the hoops.

If the silo is outside the barn it can be covered with tarred paper and cheap siding run both up and down as a protection against frost. The roof and foundation is the same as for any silo and the outside covering could be of any sort the owner wished, or it might go without siding, the same or any other tub silo. If protected from the weather the wooden hoops should last for years, and if at any time the inside lining became dozy it might be lined with tarred paper, and then sheeting, thereby making it serviceable again for a number of years at a small cost.

John Gould, the well known Ohio dairyman and Farmer's Institute lecturer, who has seen a number of these silos in operation, thinks highly of them.

A Sure Cure for Constipation

Some remedies cure this distressing complaint in a day, some in a month, but Nerviline never fails to cure in a few minutes. Just ten drops of Nerviline in sweetened water—that's enough, and away goes the dysentery, cured to stay cured. Nerviline also cures cramps, colic, pain in the stomach and sick headache. It has five times the strength and curative properties of ordinary remedies, and should be in every household. Better buy a 25c. bottle and try it. Nerviline is all right.
