Priceville

From Our Own Correspondent.

Messrs. T. Bell, Dr. Atkinson and P. F. McArthur attended a political meeting at Hopeville last week.

Miss A. Grant of Durham is spending a few days in town.

Rev. F. W. Varley was in Owen Sound last week.

Mr. Joseph Aussum is improving his residence by building a brick kitchen. Mr. H. McLean is the contractor.

Mr. Walter Nichol is holidaying at home at present. Miss Rebecca Nichol returned to Rochester on Friday.

Mrs. Robert King of Grand Valley is visiting Mrs. Watters at present.

Mrs Delany and Mrs. Dawson of Orangeville are the guests of the former's sister, Mrs. S Henderson.

Mr. T. H. Bell spent the 24th at his home in Laurel.

Mr. Leo. Grier and Miss Whitley of Dundalk spent 24th with Mrs. Grier of this place.

Miss Edith James came home from Owen Sound on Friday, being obliged to give up school on account of illness.

Mr. R. J. Conkey is visiting his sister in Bowmanville.

Mr. George Williamson is on the sick list this week, but we hope to see him around again soon.

Miss Maggie Mead is home from Toronto. Her many friends will be pleased to have her back again.

Messrs. Will and Angus Moore of Port Arthur are visiting their parents and friends around here.

Rev. Dr. Atkinson of Toronto will deliver a lecture and show large limelight views on scenes in the lands of the shamrock and heather. Those who do not attend will miss a rare treat.

Kimberley

From Our Own Correspondent

The twenty-fourth passed off quietly here, some going elsewhere to enjoy themselves and others contenting themselves at home.

Mr. Herbert Fawcett came up from Collingwood to spend Saturday and Sunday at his parental home.

Mr. John Plewis and part of the family have taken up their abode for the summer in their house here.

The Misses Ida and May Thompson of Flesherton have been visiting with their aunt, Mrs. George Lawrence.

Lightning struck Mr. T. Bradbury's barn last week splitting some of the framework and causing a slight smoke but not setting it on fire.

Mr. J. Braniff lost a fine horse, we understand, in the same storm, lightning being the cause.

Mr. Joseph Cherry and Miss Sarah Cornfield were happily united in marriage last Wednesday, Rev. T. R. White officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Burritt of Flesherton spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of his parents.

The home of Mr. W. T. Ellis has been brightened by the arrival of a little boy on the twenty-fourth.

Mr. and Mrs. George Beecroft of Port Law visited Mrs. A. H McLean last week.

Campbelton Hero to the Front

That famous Clydesdale stallion the Maxwell Company have will stand for mares at Maxwell hotel for season 1902 at $10 00. Is one of the greatest stock getters in the county, which is proven by his stock. G. R. GLASSFORD. 29a.

Lucas Again Member.

Mr. Davis Failed to Toe the Scratch in the Last Heat—He "Overlooked" the Hour of Nomination.

One of the funniest political situations that has been heard of for some time developed here on nomination day. Sheriff Moore and assistant Pearce were on hand to receive nominations, and at 11.15 a.m. Dr. Christoe arose and nominated I. B. Lucas. This was seconded by Mr. Jos. Blackburn. Then a long wait commenced. The returning officer announced when the hour was nearly up that if Mr. Davis' mover and seconder were present he would receive the nomination, but there was no response, and at 12.15 I B Lucas was declared elected for Centre Grey by acclamation. Half an hour afterwards, at 15 minutes to 1 o'clock, Mr. Davis sailed into town and wanted to get nominated, but it was all over and he wanted in vain. The amount of guying that Davis had to put up with for the next couple of hours was sufficient to make any man with "feelings" collapse under the strain, but Davis bore it all quite meekly. Pearce informs The Advance that he posted a proclamation on Davis' own building. Next time, he declares, he will put two of them inside the house as well.

About 2 30 a meeting was held in the town hall with Mr. S. McKnight of Euphrasia in the chair. Mr. Davis was the first speaker and expressed deep regret that he had "overlooked" the fact that the nominations were from 11 to 12 instead of from 12 to 1, as he imagined. He said emphatically that he was not put up as a "frictious" (meaning fictitious) candidate. There was no one more anxious than he to have the matter fought out. He deprecated party principles, the principles of taxation, and felt very strongly on the temperance question. He did not think Mr. Lucas had acted right in voting as he did on this question. He thought straight temperance men should be sent to parliament. He also criticized Mr. Whitney's stand on this question, whose platform he said, was cold water and whiskey, while Ross' platform was whiskey and cold water. There was no choice between them. Mr. Davis strongly urged the ratepayers to go out and vote at the coming plebiscite. After again expressing his regret at the outcome of affairs Mr. Davis took his seat.

Mr. Lucas then addressed the audience. He thought that he had nothing to regret, so far as the campaign just closed was concerned. He referred to his musicians and the wonderful reform they had brought about in Mr. Davis. At the first meeting of the series that gentleman fairly thundered, but as the campaign advanced he got milder and milder until today he was as mild as a lamb. Certainly "music hath charms." He had some things to complain of in Mr. Davis, who had appealed specially to the farmers as against a lawyer. The speaker was not born with a silver spoon in his mouth. His father was a farmer, and the proudest boast he could make was that his father was one of the pioneer farmers of this country. Mr. Davis' appeal as a farmer was unfair. As for his record in the Legislature, he was not conscious of having done a single act or made a motion that was not in the interest of his constituency. He had asked Mr. Davis to point out one single vote of his in which that gentleman would not have voted in the same way, but with one exception he could not do it. That exception was the matter of taxing corporations, railways, etc. Mr. Davis would not have railways taxed, fearing that it would cause them to put up rates to to shippers. Mr. Lucas could not understand Mr. Davis' reasoning on this point. Referring to the temperance question, Mr. Lucas had and did say that he would vote for prohibition if it came to a straight vote on this question. He was clear and decided on that point. He charged Mr. Davis with having failed to mention prohibition at the Keady meeting, where mostly all were Germans opposed to prohibition. At this juncture Mr. Davis interposed by explaining that he had forgotten! During Mr. Lucas' speech that gentleman indulged in a little bantering of the candidate who had overlooked the hour of nomination, but said he did not desire to rub it in too hard. After taking his seat Mr. Davis was given a short hearing to explain some of Mr. Lucas' references and the meeting adjourned. It was rather a tame nomination throughout and the number present was not nearly so large as is usual on such occasions.

Vandeleur

From Our Own Correspondent

Mr. Issac Holley spent the 24th with friends of this vicinity.

Mrs. McMaster of Toronto spent the 24th with her sister, Mrs. Geo. Wright.

Miss Carson of Bolton is visiting her cousin, Miss L. Buchanan.

It is our sad duty this week to chronicle the death of two of our oldest and most respected residents, the first being that of Mr. John McGee, who passed away on Friday morning at the home of his son, John, after two weeks illness of paralysis, aged 74 years. The remains were interred in the Meaford Road cemetery on Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Melville, who for many years resided on the farm now occupied by Mr. S. Turner, but who of late has made her home at Mr. Geo. Shannon's, passed away on Saturday evening at the ripe old age of ninety-two years. The remains were interred in the Meaford Road cemetery on Monday.

The prospects for the fruit crop are immense.

Eugenia

From Our Own Correspondent.

The 24th passed off very pleasantly. Picnic parties from several places came to spend the day, as Eugenia still remains a favorite resort for pleasure parties.

During the severe thunder storm on Thursday afternoon Mr. Braniff of the townline had a valuable horse killed by lightning. It was not insured, which makes the loss the greater His son, Mr. John, jr., was beside the horse when struck. He was rendered unconsious for some time but fortunately escaped without serious injury.

Mr. Fred Munshaw of Toronto and Mr. Laurie Munshaw of Markdale spent the 24th with their parents at Eugenia.

Mrs. Whitby of Newbury and her daughter, Mrs. Fredrick of Dollarville, Michigan, are visiting at Mr. Linton's, who is very low at present.

Mr. Lou Akitt has returned. The attraction at Eugenia was rather strong for him to resist. His many friends welcome him back again.

Mr. Joseph Williams had a good horse die the past week.

Some of our local fishermen are catching lots of speckled beauties at present. No end to the wonderful stories being told.

On Friday afternoon the teachers and pupils of the public school celebrated Empire Day on the school grounds by raising a new flag, which they had purchased. Invitations were given to their numerous friends to be present, to which all heartily responded. Rev. Mr. White was chairman and very ably filled the position. Patriotic speeches were given by the chairman, Mr. Walker, Mr. F. T. Carr and Mr. Madill. The flag was raised by Mr. Cairns, while all joined in singing the National Anthem. Readings were given by the Misses Eva Turner, Annie Wilson and Millie McMullen Miss May Wilson gave a recitation, while Mr. Jake Williams fired off the cannon. Altogether a most enjoyable time was spent. All hope that our present teachers may long preside over out school as they have enshrined themselves in the hearts of the people of this community.

Miss Allie Williams is visiting her aunt, Mrs. White, of Markdale.

Miss Minnie Graham of Burlington Beach paid a short visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Graham, of the valley, the past week.

The Day of Miracles Not Past

A Toronto Star reporter investigated the case of Mr. Geo. Warner, and found that after thirteen years of almost total deafness, he had been cured by inhaling Catarrhozone.

This proves that where Catarrhozone treatment is employed, impaired hearing and deafness can be cured. Catarrhozone always brings quick relief and is warranted to give lasting satisfaction. All sufferers from impaired hearing, deafness, head noises and ringing in the ears are advised to inhale Catarrhozone and derive the great benefit it is capable of affording. Price $1, small size 25c. Druggists or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ontario.

Grey County's Biggest and Cheapest store

New Clothing Offerings For Men and Boys.

Not old, shop-worn goods, but new stock that have hardly been in stock long enough to feel perfectly at home. This lot of specials that we will place on our bargain counter Thursday morning would take too much space to explain how we were so fortunate in securing these bright and new goods at prices quoted below. That don't interest you—its the low prices They are striking examples of the unequalled buying facilities this store commands.

Four important points we pay particular attention to when buying clothing which prevents the purchaser of any fault-finding after he has given them a fair trial. FIRST—The cloth must not contain any shoddy; SECOND—The linings must be durable; THIRD—The style must be up-to-date; FOURTH—The fit must be perfect.

Here are a few facts shown in figures—

Boys 3-piece suits, sizes 33, 34 and 35, actual value $5, on sale at 3.19
