The directors of Collingwood library, to which Mr. Carnegie promised to give about $20,000, are waiting patiently for something to turn up. The tenders received for the erection of the library are considered to be very high and the board wrote to Mr. Carnegie about the matter early in June. Andy has been so busy with other matters that he has not had time to reply and, of course, the Collingwood people are getting very anxious, some so much so that they are afraid Andy will go back on his promise. The truth of the old adage, "Beggars cannot be choosers," is being exemplified to their satisfaction.—Shelburne Free Press.

A Sunday school superintendent, in talking to the children about cruelty to animals, said: "Only a coward would abuse a creature that had no way of protecting itself. Why, children," said he, "I once knew a little boy who cut off a calf's tail! Think of it, children—took a knife and cut the tail right off! Can anyone tell me a verse in the bible that would have taught this cruel boy that he should not have cut off the calf's tail?" After a moment's silence, a small boy with a "happy-thought" expression held up his hand. "What is it, my boy?" asked the superintendent, hopefully. "What God hath joined together, let no man put asunder," responded the small boy. The superintendent was so impressed that he never brought his own verse to light.—Harper's Magazine.
