WATCH REPAIRING

The mechanism of a watch is an intricate and delicate thing. Many good watches have been ruined by bungling repairs. I do expert repairing and I am willing to stand on my record as such I know how to handle a cheap watch and I know how to handle expensive timepiece–yet either gets the same honest atteution by me, If you have watch repairs to be done I want your work. I promise to do it right at a reasonable price.

A Request.

Oh Time give back those scenes so dear
From childhood's happy hours,
Bring back those joys I loved so well
Within life's sacred bowers;
Smooth from my brow each trace of care
That would their furrows bring,
And let me hear just as of old
Those songs we used to sing.

Send back those days when side by side
We roamed the woodland fair,
And let me see again each form
Who wandered with me there.
Oh, fancy bear me back once more
To that far distant day,
And picture to my longing sight
Those loved ones passed away,

That once I knew ere Time's swift flight
Her blightening wand had cast
O'er cherished hopes of earlier years,
That now are with the past.
Oh, let me hear those voices sweet
That made my heart so glad
And grasp once more those hands in mine
Whose parting made me sad.

'Tis vain, they never can return
Those days so bright and dear
Whose visions oft my fancies fill
'Midst changing scenes while here.
But still I love their soothing spell
Like some bright dream that's o'er
That in my saddest, sweetest hours
I ask from memories' store.

B'ars! B'ars!

The Dundalk Herald tells the following bear story: "On Saturday last Mr. Chas. McConnell of this place brought into the village the twenty third bear captured by him in this vicinity. He had trap set on lot 35, concession 6 in the township of Proton, the property of Mr. Richard Paxman. Mr. Paxman was at the trap Friday evening and was astonished to see besides the one in the trap with his paw in chancery, three or four other bear sympathisers waiting around to assist if possible their comrade in distress. On this report being circulated on Saturday morning, Mr. McConnell was not long in enlisting a squad of sports to accompany him to the spot which is six or seven miles out. On arrival, Mr. Barry of De Alva Medicine Co., who was one of the first at the scene, gave a little song and dance which scared the wits out of those bears that were at liberty to leave, and they left immediately for East Luther. The one in the trap, to keep up the jollity, gave the bear dance, stood on his head, climbed trees as far as his chain would permit and cut up dog generally. Captain McConnell came provided with ropes and ladder and gave his orders in a commanding voice which were obeyed to the letter and soon Mr. Bruin found himself tied securely by all fours to the ladder and raised into the wagon for the journey home. No doubt he felt relieved at being freed from the steel jaws of the trap but imagine his agonp in having to listen to the squad repeating over and over again how "We did it." Mr. McConnell has handled so many bears in his day that he knows just how to do it. His latest capture is about a year and a half old and jet black. He takes to his new home on Mr. McConnell's lawn quite resignedly and receives many calls from villagers and others His right paw is a little sore and he don't shake hands with many. His market value is from $25 to $35, and would improve towards the cold weather.

On Tuesday Mr. Godfrey was hauling grain and noticed a sudden commotion among his turkeys, and as the turkeys are worth about $1 00 apiece he ran to see what was the matter with the birds. One large bird was laboring hard to get away from something, and running quickly and quietly up to it, pitchfork in hand, Mr. Godfrey saw the body of a large fox, the head of which was buried in the turkey's tall feathers. A strong thrust sent the tines of the fork through reynards back and he was quickly despatched.

That Lathing Job.

To the Editor of The Advance

DEAR SIR,—In last week's issue I noticed a pretty hard calling down which we got because we did a piece of good work. Now, Mr. Mechanic, you must have been only jollying us a little. You ought to get some of your fast men to show us an example when they come to this town to work. I think we could have lots of time to sleep and then compete with him. We don't pretend to be the fastest and best men in this place, but we can generally keep our eyes open long enough to do our work pretty near plumb, which some folks appear unable to do. About house Mechanic mentions with the 400 yards. You had better get your contractors to measure it again. I think they must have made a slight mistake, at least if I had let the lathing there would have been more than 400 yards. Mechanic talks about us taking a lather from Flesherton. Only there was a man or two with him who could lath he might have been at the job yet. We would like to hear of some big, fast work that Mechanic can do. Maybe he would come over some day next week to the Boyd Bros. buildings and sling the hod for a day or two, and I'll bet a hundred to one if he does he will keep his eyes open—or I don't know, probably they would soon close. —PATTON BROS.

Completely Fagged Out.

The world is full of sickly, despondent, tired, enervated people, all hoping to be well some day. The surest road to health is along the way of taking Ferrozone after meals. Ferrozone is a great appetizer and enables one to eat plenty of wholesome food without fear of indigestion or dyspepsia. This results in the rapid formation of an abundance of red, vitalizing blood, which will restore the nerves, increase flesh and vigor, and nourish and feed every organ of the body. Ferrozone is an ideal restorative and invigorant. It is a tonic of unequalled merit and any one can use with benefit. Price 50c per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at druggists, or N. C. Polson & Co, Kingston, Ont.

A new Ontario girl advertised for a husband and landed him successfully. The total expense for advertising, wedding outfit, etc., amounted to $11. Within a year's time her husband died, leaving her a $20,000 life insurance policy Yet some people claim that it does not pay to advertise.

The liquor dealers of this province are arranging to fight the referendum. An official announcement sent to the members of the Ontario License Holders' Protective Association, states that Edwin Dickey, the Provincial Secretary, expects to hold two or three meetings a week throughout the province. The announcement contains this exhortation: "In those districts in which such meetings are called, it is hoped he will receive active support of every license holder, so that the meetings may be largely attended and arrangements necessary to be adopted in connection with referendum perfected."
