THE

Victor Wringer,

Is brought before the public with the fullest confidence that it will meet the wants of all in need of a

FIRST-CLASS WRINGER!

The power is applied upon an entirely new principle, requiring only one half the power to turn of other Wringers. A child can wring a bed quilt with the Victor as easily as a towel by ordinary wringers. The rolls are SOLID WHITE RUBBER to the shaft, and put on by a process which makes them immoveable on the shaft, the shafts are geared upon both ends so that no strain comes upon the Clothes, which is very desirable, particularly if the articles are much worn or of a delicate nature. The handles are put on in a manner peculiar to the Victor, turning in either direction with equal facility; most wringers have the handles screwed on the shaft and if the Machine gets clogged, and the handles are turned back it unscrews, causing great trouble. This is entirely obviated in the construction of the VICTOR WRINGER.

UNRIVALLED SALE OF

The Globe Safety Burner

THE GLOBE is a Burner fitted to receive a chimney having an oblong base, and we do not hesitate to say to our patrons in Coal Oil Lamps that the Globe is unsurpassed by any Burner in the market.

1. It has more good qualities than any other Burner.
2. It gives a bright, steady, white flame.
3. The combustion is so perfect no odor can be detected.
4. It is so constructed as to heat the chimney equally in all its parts.
5. The chimney, deflector, and holder are removed together, giving free access to the wick for lighting and trimming.
6. The chimney and deflector are adapted to each other, producing at all times a perfect and brilliant light.
7. It is substantially made, and easily kept clean, having no pockets or places for charred wick to accumulate.
8. It combines all the advantages claimed of a gas tube for burning light oils, and at the same time has all the desirable features of any heavy oil Burner now in use, thereby making it the most desirable Burner for all persons needing light.
9. The chimney cannot be put on the Burner wrong.
10. We get all the benefits of a flat chimney without any of its risks of breaking, by being misplaced upon the Burner.
11. The chimneys made for this Burner are XX Fire-Proof Flint Glass, and are absolutely Fire-Proof.
12. The Globe chimney will not break from heat.
13. No parties will be permitted to make chimneys for the Globe Burner without license, and no lime Glass or cheap chimneys will be tolerated.
14. If you would save time, patience, and money, buy a Globe Burner and Chimney.

Where Does it all Come From?

Pints and quarts of filthy Catarrhal discharges. Where does it all come from? The mucous membrane which lines the chambers of the nose, and its little glands, are diseased, so that they draw from the blood its liquid, and exposure to the air changes it into corruption. This life-liquid is needed to build up the system, but it is extracted, and the system is weakened by the loss. To cure, gain flesh and strength by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which also acts directly upon these glands, correcting them, and apply Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, the only method of reaching the upper cavities, where the discharge accumulates and comes from. The instrument and both medicines sold by druggists and dealers in medicines.

THE TROUBLES OF AN EDITOR.—The editor of the One Horse Enlightener has got himself in trouble, the causes of which are as follows. He wishes to increase the circulation of his paper, and thought he would try an experiment by devoting two columns of each issue to advertisements, such as "Wants," "Lost," "Found," &c., &c., and not wishing to be responsible for bogus advertisements, he set his devil and companion at writing ads. and signing them with initials. The devil did his work faithfully; in fact he advertised for book-keepers, coachmen, cooks, housemaids, partners in business, &c., &c. But in writing up the "Lost" column his imagination got the better of him, and he advertised for ships, houses, mules, railroad depots, dogs, umbrellas, horses and fire engines lost, offering from fifty cents to twenty thousand dollars in proportion to the value of the articles. The "Found" column read in proportion to the "Lost" column.

Hemorrhoids (or Piles) are permanently cured by Mathieu's Pile Ointment, or money refunded. Price $1 per Pot, or 6 Pots for $5. Sold wholesale and retail by the Wingate Chemical Company, Montreal, and retail by all druggists, or will be forwarded to any address on receipt of price by Dr. E. Mathieu, 198 Notre Dame Street, Montreal.

Health is Strength.—To prevent or conquer disease is one of the grandest attainments ever aimed at by any man, and "Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers" will as sure cure coughs, tickling in the throat and pulmonary complaints, as war and pestilence will destroy. Several colds if not attended to sooner or later lead to incurable consumption, and the strength of the strongest soon fails if neglected. The readiest and best means known for the cure of these complaints is Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers, which have been thoroughly tried for the last twenty years, and have never been known to fail. Singers and public speakers will also derive great benefit from the use of them. Sold by all druggists and country dealers. Price 25 per box.

Loss of Appetite in Horses.—Horses lose their appetite from various causes, but most frequently by the approach of some disease; this circumstance ought not to be overlooked by those who own horses, but should be immediately attended to as by so doing the disease may be checked, and the life of the horse saved. To do this we are positive there is nothing to equal to "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy," it purifies the blood, corrects all derangements of the digestive organs, and as a necessary consequence the appetite is restored, the skin becomes soft, and the coat assumes a soft and shining appearance. Remember the name and see that the signature of Hurd & Co. is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.

Caution to Housekeepers.—Owing to the increasing cost of vanilla beans used in the manufacture of Extract Vanilla spurious compounds are being thrown upon the market, purporting to be pure Vanilla, but prepared principally from Tonqua beans. This nauseating substitute costs the manufacturer less than one-twentieth part as much as the genuine vanilla bean. It can readily be detected by its odor. It is used principally by tobacconists for perfuming snuff and cigars, and was never intended to be used as a flavoring for the various compounds prepared for the human stomach. Burnett's Extract of Vanilla is prepared from selected vanilla beans, and is warranted entirely free from Tonqua or other deleterious substances.

Inflammation of the Lungs.—Clifton, N.B., February 17th, 1873.—Sir: In behalf of my family, I wish to acknowledge a debt of gratitude I owe Mr. James I. Fellowes. My daughter had been ill with inflammation of the lungs, had raised large quantities of blood and purulent matter, attended with every system of consumption. After obtaining the attendance of two eminent physicians, who afforded her no relief, she was persuaded to try Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites. Upon taking two bottles we had every reason to believe she would be cured. Her physician was surprised to find her improvement so rapid, and advised her to continue its use, which she did until her complete recovery. Two years have elapsed, during which time she has neither taken nor required any medicine, enjoying good health, and urges all who are afflicted with any lung or chest trouble to use the Hypo. without fail. My wife, also having been in bad health for some time, and having had typhoid fever in December last, which left her much prostrated, was advised by the physicians to use this remedy to build her up. Before taking half a bottle she found herself much benefitted, and still continues to use it. I believe, under kind Providence, Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has been the means of restoring both my wife and daughter, and I hope the afflicted will avail themselves of its use, for although it is wisely used I think its value is not appreciated. Yours truly, JOSEPH A. EVANS.

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of these Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Read the following and be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P.Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since then have had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all." —J. H. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P.Q., writes, "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, etc., and think it is equally as good for horse as for man."—A. Maybee, merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Eclectric Oil, and are pronounced by the public, 'one of the best medicines they have never used;' it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Rusan, Township Percy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit."—A. M. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes, "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle, which annoyed me very much. Mr. Maybee of this place induced me to try Eclectric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured. It is a most remarkable medicine."

CHANGE.

The following free version of the celebrated lines of Horace are applicable the present time:

The lamps are lighted early,
The air is raw and chill,
The brown leaf whispers sadly
As it struggles down the hill;
The sleepy sun looks dusky
From behind the solemn cloud,
And all things lie as if they'd opted
In a soul depressing shroud;
But the sign which tells most sadly
That the year is growing old,
Is that thy morning sponge bath
Is getting beastly cold.

ASKING.

He stole from my bodice a rose;
My cheek was its color the while;
But, oh, the sly rogue! he well knows,
Had he ask'd it, I must have said no.

He snatch'd from my lips a soft kiss;
I tried at a frown! 'twas a smile;
For, ah, the sly rogue! he knows this,
Had he ask'd it, I must have said no.

That "asking" in love's a mistake;
It puts one in mind to refuse,
'Tis best not to ask, but to to take,
For it saves on the need to say no.

Yet stay—this folly I've said;
Some things should be ask'ed if desired;
My rogue hopes my promise to wed,
When he ask me, I will not say no.

MARY COWDEN CLARKE.

Saved by a Hair's breadth.

"You ask me to tell you a story, my dear young ladies; I will, with all the pleasure in life." Folks say I can tell a story pretty well. There's a knack in telling a story, my dears; it isn't only to know what to say, but to know how to say it."

The speaker was a fine old grey-haired dame, housekeeper to Sir John Paulinson of Mannington Park, Yorkshire, and the listeners were Sir John's three daughters. It was the cosy twilight-hour, at which the old lady always took her tea, and, as the young ladies had plenty of time to spare, prior to the late eight-o'clock dinner, they had come in a body to the housekeeper's room, to beg a story from dear old "granny," as Mrs. Raites was affectionately styled by all the members of the Paulinson family. Well did the worthy woman deserve the title; her age was nearer eighty than seventy, and she had been a good and faithful servant to Sir John and to his father before him for nearly sixty years.

As the venerable old lady, in black silk dress, and old fashioned cap trimmed with white satin ribbons, sat in her arm-chair by the quaintly-formed hearth, the glow of the firelight falling on her neatly banded gray locks, she looked a fine specimen of the old fashioned retainer in an ancient family (more friend than servant) as eye could desire to see. The young ladies, three in number, were fair, pleasant girls, whose ages varied from twenty-three or so to eighteen.

Mrs. Raites paused a moment to put an extra lump of sugar into her teacup, and to press the muffins and sweet-cake upon the young ladies, and then continued.

"It's a story, dears, I don't think you've heard before, though I've told it to many hundreds; but I've told it to Sir John many a time when he was a boy, and so maybe you'd like to hear it.

All three girls answered in the affirmative.

"It's about a member of this family, too, continued the old lady—"Miss Paulinson—at least, she was then Miss Paulinson,—Sir John's aunt, and consequently your great aunt, my dears."

"So much the better granny dear—let's have it."

Mrs. Raites, delighted, settled herself comfortably in her arm-chair and complied.

"Between forty and fifty years since, Miss Adela Paulinson was the reigning belle of the largest English county—Yorkshire—and, being the only sister of the then Baronet, who was a widower with one son, a child four or five years old, was entitled to a considerable fortune. The knowledge of this, added to her own great personal beauty, naturally procured the young lady many suitors. Among these was a certain Sir Luke Hendon, a dark handsome man of perhaps five-and-thirty, and of somewhat austere demeanor, but nevertheless a great favorite with the ladies. He was a man well known and, on the whole, popular throughout the country, and especially was he talked of as a bold, fearless and even reckless horseman. Sir Luke's estates was scarcely ten miles apart from those of the Paulinson family, and consequently Sir Richard Paulinson approved of Sir Luke's suit to his sister Adela, and thought that in every respect the match would be a suitable and advantageous one.

"Not so, however, the lady herself. Miss Adela would have none of Sir Luke. It happened than amongst her many suitors, there was a Mr. Durncastle, a younger son of a good old family, whose pedigree was longer than his banker's account. So it stands to reason the young gentleman wasn't encouraged by Sir Richard Paulinson, Mr. Everard was a slight, fair young man of about three and-twenty and almost girlish in appearance but
