TO THE MUNICIPAL ELECTORS
OF THE
CITY OF KINGSTON.
GENTLEMEN:—
I have been informed that many persons in canvassing for my opponent in the Mayoralty contest say that I do not intend to continue in the field.
It is not my intention to retire, and I respectfully ask every Elector favorable to my Candidature not only to work for me now, but to vote for me, and to vote early on the day of polling.
In running for Mayor, I beg to say that I am retiring from the Public School Board, and in doing so I now return my sincere thanks to the Electors to my co-Trustees, and to the Teachers of our Public Schools for the generous confidence they have reposed in me during the years I have been Chairman.
My term of office expires with the year, and while I fully appreciate the honor of being associated with good and earnest men in advancing such important interests as the educational interests of Kingston, I have determined no to ask re-election as a Trustee, but to yield that honor to some other person.
As a member of the Council, I have endeavoured to make myself familiar with its rules, with Municipal Laws, and with the financial position of our city. I have always sought to work in harmony with every member of the Council in furthering any enterprize for the good of the city.
I have been anxious to practice as much economy in the administration of our civic affairs as has been consistent with the proper development and growth of the city.
If elected, I shall continue so to act, and shall devote as much time and energy as may be necessary for the proper performance of the duties of the office.
If elected, I shall endeavor to act in the impartial discharge of my duty as Chief Magistrate of this good city, so that those opposed to me will not regret the defeat of their candidate.
It is not my intention to make a general personal canvass. Both candidates are well known to most of the citizens, and I can only repeat that I respectfully solicit your vote and influence.
Your Obedient Servant,
B. M. BRITTON.

FRIDAY EVEN'G, DEC. 3, 1875.

YOUNG AND OLD.

I have been young and now am old;
I then was weak, I now am strong.
Thus saw I, as the sunset's gold
Is poured the western skies along.

Weak was I, for I loved to see
A pretty girl with blushing cheek,
And if the damsel smiled at me,
I grew that minute twice as weak.

Weak was I, since I longed for fame,
And if there dropt a ray oblique
Of sunshine on my boyish name—
Why, I was twenty times as weak.

Strong am I now: because the maid
Who shall be lovely in these eyes
Must be no foolish flirting jade,
But softly gay and simply wise.

Strong am I, since I cannot care
For fickle fancies of the throng
But love to breathe Olympian air
With the disdainful God of song.

The crowding years are gifts of gold;
He wrongs himself whom time can wrong.
I have been young and now am old;
I then was weak—I now am strong.
—Robert Turner Cotton.

SHORTHORN BREEDERS' CONVENTION.

The fourth shorthorn breeders' convention assembled at the Music Hall, Toronto; there were about a hundred present, the following States being represented besides a large representation from Canada, including nearly every prominent breeder in the Dominion: Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Missouri, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Tennessee and Texas. J. H. Pickrell, of Harriston, Ill., President, presided, and S.F. Lockridge, of Indiana, was Secretary. The President advocated a strong exhibition of shorthorns at Philadelphia, and urged the consideration of the best means of remedying the ravages of the foot and mouth disease. A paper was read by Judge Jones, of Ohio, on shorthorn breeding conducted as a science with a view to maintaining the highest excellence in quality. He opposed "in and in" breeding and said though improving the outward appearance of the animal if tended to diminish its more useful qualities of producing beef and milk. It also lessened their hereditary or procreative power; he thought that breeders had attained sufficient perfection in regard to the symmetrical form and elegance of the animal, and should now turn their attention to its value for domestic purposes. He deprecated fashionable animals being sought for at fancy prices, and expressed the opinion that purchasers were frequently deceived by judging of their outward form alone. He did not wish to be understood as opposing beauty of form, but as advocating the practical utility of beasts; he thought it unwise to pay any great attention to long pedigrees.

A PRACTICAL JOKE.—On Saturday a good practical joke was played on the different sewing machine agents. On Friday night an envelope was shoved under the door of the different offices, and on Saturday morning when the managers went to work they found them. They were found to be orders for sewing machines, and the agents were naturally jubilant. About ten o'clock the same morning quite a sensation was created by the appearance, at the door of No. 121 Church street, of eight vehicles, each one containing a sewing machine. The lady of the house protested that she had never ordered a machine, and the men, in proof, produced their orders. Upon comparing them it was found that the orders were precisely the same, and the fact that they had been the victims of a practical joke dawned. And now they have decided to pay no attention to orders that are shoved under their doors. The besieged lady thought at first that it was the arrival of Christmas presents, but could not imagine how her friends all thought of presenting her with sewing machines, and so early in the month.—Toronto Sun.

THE HARD WORKER.—Biographical sketches of Mr. Astor, just published, say that there was no period in the life of that gentleman when he deemed himself entitled to neglect his business. From an early hour of the morning till 4 or five every afternoon he was constantly to be found at his desk—and this assiduity was not relaxed even in extreme old age. He never attempted to transfer his cares or responsibilities to the shoulders of others. He employed many persons, but none of them were so familiar with the details of his affairs down to the most intricate and minute, as himself.

A FEW WORDS TO FEEBLE AND DELICATE WOMEN.—By R. V. Pierce, M. D., of the World's Dispensary, Buffalo, N. Y., Author of 'The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser,' etc., etc.

Knowing that you are subject to a amount of suffering, that delicacy on your part has a strong tendency to prolong it, and the longer it is neglected the more you have to endure and the more difficult of cure your case becomes, I, as a physician, who am daily consulted by scores of your sex, desire to say to you, that I am constantly meeting with those who have been treated for their ailments for months without being benefited in the least, until they have become perfectly discouraged and have almost made up their mind never to take another dose of medicine, or be tortured by any further treatment. They had rather die and have their sufferings ended than to live and suffer as they have. They say they are worn out by suffering, and are only made worse by treatment. Of any thing more discouraging, we certainly cannot conceive, and were there no more successful mode of treating such difficulties than that, the principles of which teach the reducing and depleting of the vital forces of the system, when the indications dictate a treatment directly the reverse of the one adopted for them, their case would be deplorable indeed. But, lady sufferers, there is a better and far more successful plan of treatment for you; one more in harmony with the laws and requirement of your system. A harsh, irritating caustic treatment and strong medicines will never cure you. If you would use rational means, such as common-sense should dictate to every intelligent lady, take such medicines as embody the very best invigorating tonics and nervines, compounded with special reference to your delicate system. Such a happy combination you will find in my Favorite Prescription, which has received the highest praise from thousands of your sex. Those languid, tiresome seperations, causing you to feel scarcely able to be one your own ascend a flight of stairs, that continuall drain that is sapping from your system all your former elasticity, and driving the bloom from your cheeks, that continual strain upon your vital forces that renders you irritable and fretful,—may all be overcome and subdued by a persevering use of that marvelous remedy. Irregularities and obstructions to the proper working of your system are relieved by this mild and safe means, while periodical pains, the existence of which is a sure indication of serious disease that should not be neglected, readily yield to it, and if its use be kept up for a reasonable length of time, the special cause of these pains is permanently removed. Further light on these subjects may be obtained from 'The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser,' in which I have devoted a large space to the consideration of all forms of diseases peculiar to your sex. This work will be sent (post-paid) to any address receipt of $1.50. My Favorite Precription is sold by druggists.

Power of Speaking Restored.—Newash, Ontario, D.C., March 30, 1870: Mr Fellows—Sir: Some two months ago my son lost his voice. I became very anxious about him. None of the physicians could do him any good. Having heard of your Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, I obtained a bottle. Strange to say, my son's voice was restored about two hours after taking the second dose. You are at liberty to publish this for the benefit of other sufferers. JONAS FOTHERINGILL.

To Owners of Horses.—It is a well attested fact confirmed by the experience of thousands that "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy" for horses is superior to anything of the kind now or ever known. We know that it has been used in many cases the horse has been considered almost worthless with the most satisfactory result, the horse having been restored to perfect soundness or so much benefitted that the complaint could scarcely be observed. Many such horses have afterwards been sold for from $50 to $100 more than they would have previously brought and were well worth the difference. Let all interested codsider this. Remember the name and see that the signature of Hurd & Co.'s on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., proprietors. Sold by all medicine dealers.
