The North Grey election case is set down for trial at Owen Sound on Nov. 11.

The Liberals now say they never did think much of Tarte, anyway. Many Reform papers are reading him out of the party. He is still a Conservative at heart, a National Policy man of the John A. school—a Protictionist, as it is now called, is not attempting any and longer to suppress his sentiments.

A Sure Cure for Constipation

Some remedies cure this distressing complaint in a day, some in a month, but Nerviline never fails to cure in a few minutes. Just ten drops of Nerviline in sweetened water—that's enough, and away goes the dysentery, cured to stay cured. Nerviline also cures cramps, colic, pain in the stomach and sick headache. It has five times the strength and curative properties of ordinary remedies, and should be in every household. Better buy a 25c bottle and try it. Nerviline is all right.

The Ontario Education Department has issued an official statement which announces that candidates for teachers certificates will not in the future be required to study Latin. The study of chemistry, however, will be made compulsory. It also announces that after 1905 no foreign languages will be either optional or compulsory.

Executors of estates should take every pains to see that all requirements connected with their important trust are carried out to the letter. Recently this fact was very strongly impressed upon the mind of a Toronto executor who neglected to advertise in the proper manner for all claims against the estate to be put in by a certain date. After the estate was distributed a claim was put in amounting to several hundreds of dollars, which the courts compelled him to pay, together with the costs, out of his own pocket. An heir to an estate can make it exceedingly disagreeable in case of neglect to advertise properly.

On Monday night Magistrates Rae, Pickell and Marsh had some knotty questions of law to consider. It appears that one James Watt of Bentinck, before taking a trip out west rented his farm to James McIntosh, also of Bentinck On his return from the West, Watt, seeing some weeds in the summer fallow, thought McIntosh had not been doing his work properly but said nothing until one day McIntosh drove home the seed drill with of Watt's wheat in it, when he sent for some McIntosh and after charging him with stealing the wheat and threatening to have him arrested, promised to consider the whole thing settled if he would pay him $75 00 for not working the summer fallow properly. This McIntosh paid, but after considering the matter for a few days came to the conclusion he had been "done up," and decided to see a lawyer. Information was laid against Watt charging him with having obtained the $75.00 by means of the threat to charge McIntosh with stealing the wheat. Assisted by Mr. I B. Lucas, who acted for McIntosh, and Mr. A. G. McKay, who defended Watt, the Magistrates wrestled with the facts for a couple of hours, and finally decided they must commit Watt for trial at Owen Sound for obtaining the money by means of a threat.—Standard.
