WORST FORM ECZEMA.

Baffled Best Medical Skill for Eight Months. Cured in Two Months by Cuticura Remedies.

This is to certify that a child of mine had Eczema in its worst form, and which baffled the best medical skill that could be employed here. The little sufferer was wrapped in agony for at least eight months. Six months of that time its suffering was simply untold, then I began the use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, in two months the awful disease had ceased its vengeance, and my darling boy had rest, and to all appearances the disease had yielded, but I continued the medicine for several months after no trace could be seen of it on any part of his body. The doctors here watched the disease with much interest, and could only say "Well done!" The case was known far and wide, and everybody was much surprised. But thanks to CUTICURA REMEDIES. Could there be anything on earth that would cause a father to rejoice it surely would be when the innocent one could have such a remedy at hand. (See portrait herewith.) J. A. NICOLES, Bunker Hill, Ind.

A child was brought to me with chronic eczema that had defied splendid treatment from many good doctors. As a regular M. D., should have continued similar treatment, but thought it useless. So put it on CUTICURAS. The child is well.

What We Expected

When we announced that we would GIVE AWAY a Baseball and Bat with Boys' Suits we fully expected that some of our would-be competitors would raise a howl about "We Don't Give Away, etc., etc." Well, all this howling don't affect us. We are showing the largest range of Boys' Clothing ever brought to Kingston. All the Latest Styles made by the celebrated Sandford Manufacturing Co, Hamilton, and Burns & Lewis, London, two manufacturers who are noted for turning out the best Boys' Clothing manufactured in Canada. See the immense range we are showing, and we are satisfied to compare prices with any in the city. Remember these goods are not handled by everyone. We adopted this method of giving away baseballs and bats, because we are anxious to build up as large a trade in boys' goods as we have in men's, and we believe in advertising and considered this the best method of doing so. We pay for the baseball and bat. Our customers buy the goods at a lower price from us than elsewhere. Of that you will be convinced when you see the low prices we are quoting.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

THE BUSINESS OF THE LEGISLATURE CONCLUDED

And the House Will be Formally Prorogued on Thursday — The Finishing Touches of Legislation—Inspectors and the Liquor Law—Provincial Aid to Railways.

TORONTO, April 13.—When the Legislature met yesterday at 11 a.m. Mr. Whitney asked Mr. Mowat if the Government intended to employ young ladies as pages next session. He thought this would be but consistent with the position taken by the Government when it forced through the bill to allow young women to practise law. This query was made in such a humorous manner as to cause a good deal of merriment among the Opposition members.

Mr. Mowat congratulated the honorable member on the wonderful progress he had made since the bill just mentioned had passed. He had not thought of employing young women as pages, but since the Opposition had so strongly recommended that course the Government would very seriously consider it before assuming the responsibility of rejecting the services of the young women. This brought a storm of applause from the Government benches.

Inspectors and the Liquor Law.

Mr. Meredith called the attention of the Government to a letter he had received from a temperance man of Waterloo, complaining that the Government had taken no notice of complaints lodged against the license inspector of that district. The letter stated that their inspector had requested a magistrate to stay proceedings instituted against a tavern-keeper who was charged with violating the Liquor Law.

Mr. Harcourt had no recollection of the correspondence referred to by Mr. Meredith. There had been complaints received by the Department against that particular inspector, but nothing of so serious a nature as the honorable member had referred to had come the knowledge of the Department. Investigations had been made, but nothing could be proven against the inspector complained of. Two or three inspectors had been removed during the year as the result of investigations into their conduct by the Department.

Full Pay for Absent Members.

Mr. Hardy moved that Messrs. Fraser, Bronson, Porter and Smith (York) be paid as if they had been present during the whole session, as in reality they had attended during the actual work of the session; Mr. Whitney, that Messrs. Smith (Frontenac) and Miscampbell, who had been absent part of the session through illness, be paid in full; and also that the widow of H. E. Clarke, deceased, be paid the full sessional indemnity. These motions were carried without comment.

Provincial Aid to Railways.

Mr. Harcourt's bill respecting aid to certain railways was passed the committee and given its third reading. It provides that there shall be granted out of the consolidated revenue fund to the Port Arthur, Duluth and Western Railway Company a cash subsidy of $3,000 per mile and not exceeding in the whole the sum of $21,000 for the construction of seven miles of railway from a point near the east end of Gunflint Lake to a point near Magnetic Lake, and a cash subsidy of $2,000 per mile and not exceeding in the whole $7,000 for the construction of 3½ miles of that portion of railway known as the Kakabeka branch, extending from a point at or near the junction of the said railway with the Kaministiquia River to a point at or near Kakabeka Falls.

Defining Corrupt Practices.

During the discussion of Mr. Ross' bill to consolidate the acts respecting the election of members of the Legislature Mr. Meredith moved in amendment that—

Every person having any contract with the Government for the performance of any work, the doing of anything or the furnishing of any goods or materials, and having or expecting to have any claim or demand against the Government by reason of such contract, and every person having a liquor license, who either directly or indirectly, by himself or by any other person on his behalf, subscribes, promotes, or gives, or promises to give any money or other valuable consideration for the purpose of promoting the election of any candidate, or of any member, class or party of candidates to the Legislative Assembly, or with the intent in any way of influencing or affecting the results of any such election. And every person who receives such money or valuable consideration or the promise thereof is guilty of a corrupt practice.

Mr. Mowat explained that the clause in the Dominion Statutes was made to apply as much to Provincial as to Dominion elections.

Central Prison Expenditure.

When the House went into Committee of Supply Mr. Meredith moved the following resolution:

A vote of $15,500 for the erection of new buildings for the extension of industries at the Central Prison, and of $20,000 for machinery for the same purpose is being asked, that without any appropriation for the purpose aforesaid by this House or other legal warrant the Government has proceeded with the said works and thereby assumed to commit the House to such expenditure, and that such action is subversive of the principle of Parliamentary control of public expenditure, and in derrogation of rights and privileges of this House.

This was defeated on a strict party division of 28 yeas and 50 nays.

Mr. Gibson (Hamilton) submitted that the Government had acted within its constitutional authority in proceeding to erect the building.

Mr. Wood (Hastings) said the action of the Government was unwarranted and unconstitutional. It was a paltry excuse to offer that a few convicts would be idle if the building had not been proceeded with. Better to have 1000 men idle than that the principles of constitutional Government should be undermined.

Mr. McMahon considered the point at issue differed from that involved in the Upper Canada College matter. The expenditure of money if there was expenditure in this case could not be avoided. He would support the Government.

Some Generous Words.

Mr. Meredith was glad to see in the supplementary estimates an item proposing to increase the Attorney-General's salary. He thought that Mr. Mowat earned even more than the House was called upon to vote, and he was sure the proposal would meet with the acceptance of every member on that side of the House.

Mr. Monk was rather surprised to see in the supplementary estimates several sums for roads in North Renfrew, although no money had been spent in that part of the province for several years. He was totally unable to account for the change in the policy of the Government unless the change in the representation of that riding had influenced the Government.

Mr. Hardy thought such an insinuation ought not to be sent across the House, especially as there were estimates for several other ridings represented in the House by members of the Opposition. If no money had been spent in North Renfrew for several years it was a good reason for spending something now.

The Closing Scene.

Spectators were hardly aware that the business of the session had been ended when Mr. Gibson of Huron rose in his place and started "Auld Lang Syne," singing and clapping his hands as do the Salvation lasses. All the other members sprang to their feet, and crossing their arms before them joined hands and tried to join in the song of the immortal Robbie Burns. Mr. Gibson's voice is a high tenor, and he pitched the tune so high that the other members failed to keep in the same key. The Attorney-General looked round for someone to join hands with, but there were none of his colleagues near, so he struck in, evidently intending to swell the parting chorus. But alas, the tune was too high and the first note stuck in his throat. It gave nearly all the honorable gentlemen a pain to strive to be jolly with the tune soaring away up near "G," so in the middle of the second stanza they all gave a whoop and sat down. They then seized their chair cushions and shied them at one another's heads.

Called on the Premier for a Song.

The Speaker had just restored order when Mr. Hudson rose and moved that the Attorney-General be requested to give the House a song. The motion was soon seconded and the Speaker in his most deliberate tone said: "It has been moved and seconded that the Attorney-General give us a song. 'All in favor say aye!'"

The "aye" that followed shook the roof.

"Carried unanimously," said the Speaker.

Mr. Mowat moved in amendment that the hon. member for London be called on for a song.

This was also carried unanimously, but the song seemed not to be forthcoming, so another consignment of flying books and papers did lively duty.

Something Unexpected.

Mr. Mowat then stood up and announced that he was about to call the attention of the House to a duty yet undone which he felt sure would gladden every member's heart. All was expectancy when he plunged deliberately in the proposition to subsidize the Ottawa and Montreal Railway. He said he had long had it in his heart to make this grant because the County of Prescott had no railway at all but he feared losing the support of so many of his followers as to risk being defeated. But now as the Opposition had assured him that they would support the proposition he was glad to move that the railway be granted a cash subsidy of $2000 per mile for 50 miles.

Pleasant Raillery.

Mr. Meredith was glad to support the motion, but he was sorry that our noble province had been so humiliated as to have its Premier compelled to say that he was unable to do what he thought was just and right without the aid of an Opposition which had so far been powerless to prevent unlawful expenditure of the public funds or to defeat unjust and nasty legislation.

Mr. Balfour protested against the proposed subsidy because his own county Essex had never received a dollar from the funds of the province for its railways.

Mr. Gibson (Huron) explained that there was no comparison between Essex and Prescott. Essex had received large grants from the Dominion, but Prescott to this day had not a railway tie within its borders.

Prescott will get its subsidy.

The last session in the old Parliament buildings then closed its business with "God Save the Queen," and three cheers for everybody.

Prorogation will take place on Thursday at 3 p.m.

HE IS GOOD AT FIGURES

Astonishing Feats in Multiplication Performed by a Michigan 6-Year Old.

MANTON, Mich., April 13.—A remarkable boy mathematician is at present attracting attention to this village. Frank Northrup is the lad's name, and his age is but 6 years. The boy's parents are receiving letters of enquiry, many of them from amusement managers, but they are not willing to place him upon exhibition.

His mathematical powers have come to him naturally. He is boyish in all his acts and in his speech, yet is an old head at figures. He solves mentally and with wonderful rapidity any sum in multiplication, no matter how large the figures.

A correspondent gave him any number of apparently difficult examples. In each instance he would readily move his lips, lisp the figures given, and then return the correct answer. When the figures 4, 9, 7, 7 were placed upon a piece of paper the young man could not give the amount they represented, but readily figured it. He simply knows the figures singly, and has not the least idea of grouping them.

Last fall he could not count above 12, and it was at this time his skill in figures was first recognized. He has attended school but two months. That he has a system of his own by which he works is evident by the thoughtful expression of his face and his repeating difficult questions.

Anarchy in Brazil.

LONDON, April 13.—The Brazilian Minister here has made a sensational statement as regards the causes of the disturbances in Brazil recently. He says that the seditious moment has been promoted by Anarchists who have been imported in large numbers into the country lately from Poland and East Prussia. The Anarchists, he says, fomented sedition under the pretence of a celebration of Gen. Fonseca's recovery from his illness. The Government by its prompt measures frustrated the attempt at a revolution. Subsequently it was ascertained by Government officials that many members of Congress had been implicated in the Anarchists' conspiracy. An order was issued that all those implicated be imprisoned and punished. A state of siege was proclaimed and rigidly enforced for three days. The republic is now quiet, and the garrisons remain loyal.

Think He Was Murdered.

NORWOOD, Ont., April 12.—The body of Richard Wigmore, a young man who was found on March 28 last floating in the river at Peterboro, was yesterday exhumed from the Norwood cemetery and a post mortem examination was made by Drs. Ford and Pettigrew. Friends say that young Wigmore had considerable money at the time of his disappearance in January last and claim that the man was murdered.

The Paris Fire.

PARIS, Ont., April 12.—Nearly one hundred men are thrown out of employment by the destruction by fire of the Paris Manufacturing Co.'s knitting mill last night. The flames started in the card room, which was situated in the second flat, and was caused by a gas jet igniting the wood work. A number of the operators were working in the top flat of the mill when the fire broke out. All managed to escape. The loss is estimated anywhere from $75,000 to $100,000. The insurance carried amounts to $70,000.

Stomachache And Crime.

BOMBAY, India, April 12.—A native charged with having killed a child for the sake of the ornaments it had on its wrists and neck admitted the deed, but pleaded that it had been committed under the impulse of a severe affection of the stomach. As a proof of bona fides he moreover offered that the organ should be opened in order that the truth of his defence should be demonstrated.

Between the cutting open of a stomach and hanging there is not much choice. The judge, however, seems to have decided on the latter as a safer and more expeditious expedient.

JOSS STICKS ON A GRAVE

FUNG ON LAID TO REST WITH HIGH CHINESE HONORS.

One of the Wealthiest and Most Respected of the Philadelphia Celestial Merchants is Buried With all the Pomp and Ceremony Befitting His Rank in the Masonic Fraternity.

PHILADELPHIA, April 13.—Fung On, the financier of the Chinese Colony on Race-street, who was found dead in his bed on Friday morning by his devoted son, Chang, was buried yesterday at the Philadelphia Cemetery with all the pomp and ceremony that the religion of Confucius demands. The 50 Celestials who accompanied the corpse to the tomb put off for the nonce their customary stoical demeanor, and during the celebration of their peculiar Chinese burial service laughed and joked and chattered in a manner that was, when the solemnity of the occasion is considered, extremely unique.

The Chinese regard a corpse with mortal dread. As soon, therefore, as Fung On had shuffled off this mortal coil his body was removed to the establishment of Undertaker J. Lewis Good, where it remained until yesterday afternoon. It was then placed in a hearse, and about the coffin numerous perfumed joss sticks were arrayed, which, being ignited, gave out a peculiar and fragrant odor. The body was conveyed to No. 907 Race-street, and there the services began. First a chicken was roasted whole and several quarts of rice were boiled, each of the 50 Chinamen who had assembled to do the dead man honor being given some little office to perform in the preparation of this food. Then the rice and chicken, together with several bottles of white rice wine, a large pot of tea, numerous papers inscribed with Chinese hieroglyphics, and many bundles of cigarettes, were carefully packed in a large basket and placed in one of the carriages. The 50 mourners entered the other conveyances, and, after letting off several packages of large fire crackers and a few Roman candles, bade the procession to proceed.

The Ride to the Cemetery.

During the drive down Tenth street the monotony was relieved by the smoking of innumerable pipes and cigarets. Thousands of little sheets of Chinese paper, upon each of which was written: Fung On is dead. He was good," were thrown incessantly from the widows of the cabs, and although the wind blew many of those sheets away, a snowy trail was left all the way from Race-street to the cemetery, which is situated at Twenty first street and Passyunk-avenue. The coffin was borne to the little Chinese burial plot, and the box that was to contain it was lowered into the grave.

"Now, gentlemen, what comes next?" asked Undertaker Good.

"This next," answered one of the mourners, selecting a small brick upon one side of which several sentences were inscribed, from the varied contents of the basket.

Mr. Good, directed by the Celestials, dropped the brick into the box, and instantly a terrific hubbub arose. Fists were shaken in his face; awful maledictions, couched in an unknown tongue, were uttered against him, and when the excitement had partially subsided, he was given to understand that he had dropped the brick upside down. In other words, the writing upon it was invisible. The undertaker parleyed for a while, and finally persuaded a little Irish lad, who was one of a group of about 200 spectators, to descend into the cavity and rearrange the brick.

Threw Tea on the Coffin.

Peace was then restored. A fire, composed entirely of Chinese paper, was lighted at the foot of the grave; the coffin was lowered into the box and five tea cups were placed before the flames. The cups were filled with tea from a large pot and the mourners, grouping themselves in companies of five, approached them, bowed thrice and threw their contents upon the coffin. Then they were filled again and emptied as before, until each Chinaman had performed this office.

Several quarts of wine were poured about the fire, and the diggers were ordered to fill the grave. As the dirt was thrown into the cavity, the chicken upon a china plate, the rice, the teacups and pots, a bundle of joss sticks and the smouldering remains of the fire, which, although of paper, had burned slowly, were tossed upon the coffin and the ceremony was over.

More wine was poured out and toasts were drunk to the happiness of the departed. Cigarettes, heavily charged with opium, were lighted, and the mourners, laughing and joking gaily, departed.

DIDN'T KNOW HE WAS HIT.

But Two Hours Later Fell Dead from a Bullet Wound.

RAT PORTAGE, April 13.—Monday some Indians living at the Northwest Angle were examining a new revolver, not being aware of the fact that it was loaded. One of the cartridges was discharged, the bullet entering in the head of an Indian. He claimed that the bullet did not hit him. Several hours afterwards one of the Indians discovered blood on the injured man, and upon examining the head found the bullet imbedded near the right ear. Two hours after the Indian fully realized that he was shot he died. Duncan Begg brought into town the Indian who did the shooting and brought him before Judge Lyon, and after a couple of witnesses were heard the judge decided that it was an accident.

Turned the Pictures Toward the Wall.

BRANTFORD, April 13.—A number of prosecutions for truancy have occurred here during the past few days. Last night some persons broke into the White school house and damaged everything in sight. Ink was thrown around the room indiscriminately. Books, maps, papers, etc., were torn and destroyed. A hole was broken in the woodwork of the organ, the pictures were punctured and turned toward the wall and demolition occasioned generally.

OTTAWA NEWS.

Little Doing at the Dominion Capital Yesterday.

OTTAWA, April 13.—Colonel Fred Denison on the motion to go into Committee of Supply, rose to a question of privilege and read from the pay sheets of the Militia Department to show in connection with the Slater charges that the men who fancied they had been insufficiently paid were wrong, as they had been paid all they were entitled to, all that appeared on the pay roll. He demanded a retraction. Mr. Somerville made the amende honorable. This no doubt settles this matter.

The House then went into a Committee of Supply on military matters which gave an opportunity for the annual airing of the military clothing contracts.

The afternoon session was taken up in discussing the legal aspect of Sir John Thompson's motion that permission be given for the use in the prosecution of Connolly, McGreevy and others of the evidence taken before the Privileges and Election Committee last year.

The motion passed without division.

Public Buildings at St. Mary's.

Mayor White and Mr. John Clark of St. Mary's waited on Hon. Mr. Ouimet, Minister of Public Works, Tuesday urging that a customs house and postoffice be erected at that place. The minister promised that he would call the attention of his colleagues to the matter, and it is very probable that a vote for the building will appear in the supplementary estimates. The deputation was introduced by Mr. Pridham, M.P., and was accompanied by about a dozen other Ontario members.

His Excellency came down to the Senate Chamber this afternoon and gave assent to a number of bills.

AFTER A BONUS.

To Help to Build a Road Between Tilsonburg and Port Burwell.

OTTAWA, April 13.—A large delegation arrived in the city yesterday from Brantford and vicinity. The object of their visit was to press upon the Government the desirability of granting a bonus to that part of the Tilsonburg, Lake Erie and Pacific Railway which lies between Tilsonburg and Port Burwell, a distance of about 17 miles. This forenoon the visitors, accompanied by Mr. Ingram, M.P., East Elgin, and Lieut.-Col. Tisdale, M.P., took in the various sights around the Parliament, and, according to appointment, had an interview with Premier Abbott and Mr Haggart, Minister of Railways, shortly before 4 o'clock. They laid their claims before Mr. Abbott, who promised that the matter would have the careful attention of the Government.

Banking and Commerce Committee.

OTTAWA, April 13.—A meeting of the Committee on Banking and Commerce was held yesterday. The first bill taken up was an act to authorize the Boiler Inspection and Insurance Company to insure motor machinery generally against accidents, and also to insure persons against injury or loss of life from boiler explosions or breakage of machinery named under the act. The bill was passed without any important amendments.

The bill to authorize the Montreal Board of Trade to hold a million dollars of real estate instead of half a million and authorizing the board to collect fees and dues was passed. The Bell Telephone Company made application to increase their capital stock to five millions. The bill was passed.

A Canadian Journalist's Death.

NEW YORK, April 13.—James McCarroll, a newspaper man, died of pneumonia yesterday at 99 Clinton-place. He was born in 1815 at Lanesboro, County Longford, Ireland, but went at an early age to Canada, where he soon engaged in literary work. He was a contributor to The Morning Chronicle of Quebec, and was at one time the musical critic of The Leader and The Colonist of Toronto. On leaving Canada, where he had held several offices under the Government, Mr. McCarroll came to this city, and many scientific articles from his pen appeared in the daily papers here. Latterly he was connected with Belford's and was co-editor of "Humanity and Health." A great quantity of this work proceeded from his pen: poems, of which a volume has been published; essays, reviews, dramas, novels, etc. He was also a lecturer, a musician, a musical composer and an inventor.

Seal Skins Advance.

VICTORIA, B.C., April 13.—"Seal skins are on the raise," said one of the sealing men yesterday. The reason advanced is the very poor coast catch. Mostly all the schooners have lost money and some of them have not made a cent, and consequently skins will be scarce this season.

The seals are not plentiful this year and the very rough weather outside has made it impossible to get seals. The coast catch has been a decided failure.

The local buyers were paying $10 and $10.50 per skin yesterday. Mostly all of the owners were glad to get this price, as it is only a few days ago that $7.50 and $8 were the best prices offered by the local buyers.

Lady Macdonald to Remain in Canada.

OTTAWA, April 13.—Some absurd rumors have been published to the effect that Baroness Macdonald will in future divide her time between the United States and England. Lady Macdonald and Hon. Mary Macdonald will return to Ottawa for a visit immediately after Easter, and they will spend most of the summer at Les Rochers, their summer residence at Riviere du Loup.

More Divorces Granted.

OTTAWA, April 13.—The Senate Divorce Committee sat yesterday for the purpose of hearing the application of Dr. Herbert Mead of Pincher Creek, N.W.T., for a divorce from his wife on the ground of adultery. The case was adjourned until to-morrow.

The committee also considered the proofs of the six months' publication of notices of application to Parliament in the Wright v. Harrison cases and decided to report to the Senate that the proofs were sufficient.

For Robbing G. T. R. Cars.

BRAMPTON, Ont., April 13.—Frank Edney of Toronto has been remanded to jail for 8 days on a charge of trespass on the G.T.R. Three men entered a car and threw off two 25 lb. caddies of tobacco, subsequently jumping from the train and making off with the plunder. Edney is suspected of being one of the gang.

Killed by a Chip of Wood.

PHILADELPHIA, April 13.—Harry Charlton of this city died in the Philadelphia Hospital yesterday of a fractured skull by a blow from a large chip, which flew from a block of wood, which he was chopping recently.

Drowned in the Flume.

OTTAWA, April 13.—A laborer named Daniells was drowned in the flume at Eddy's mill at Hull yesterday.

Across the Continent.

Wm. Renwick, M.D., M.R.C.S.E., Victoria, B.C., writes: I have used Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil in cases of indigent patients with the most gratifying results. It does not upset the stomach, is easily assimilated and possesses undoubted power in rebuilding weakened constitutions, where the ordinary form of administering Cod Liver Oil is not admissable. For the future, whenever I have occasion to prescribe any preparation of Cod Liver Oil, I will give Miller's Emulsion the preference, being perfectly satisfied with its therapeutic efficacy. ANOTHER CLUE AGAINST MURDERER DEEMING.

Portions of His Murdered Wife's Clothing Found in an Unclaimed Basket at a Railway Station—Shocking Murder by a Jealous Lover in England.

LONDON, April 13.—The British authorities have applied for a warrant against Deeming, the murderer, so that he may be brought to England and prosecuted for the Rainhill crimes in case the prosecution in Australia should result in failure to convict. The application has been made at Widnes, Lancashire, within the magisterial jurisdiction where the Rainhill murders were perpetrated. One of the newspapers republishes an account of the banquet given by Deeming, alias Williams, at the time that he left England with Miss Mather, the wife whom he murdered at Melbourne. It reads queerly now:

On Wednesday evening, Mr. Albert O. Williams, an inspector of the Indian Army Service, who is on a short visit to England, and has taken up his residence in Rainhill while in this country, entertained at the Railway and Commercial Hotel, Rainhill, a number of the residents of the village whose friendship he has made during his sojourn among them. The menu was of an excellent character. After full justice had been done to the good things provided, Mr. Williams presided and Mr. Short occupied the vice-chair.

The usual loyal and patriotic toasts having been submitted and responded to, one of the guests in a felicitous speech proposed the health of their host, Mr. Williams. He said that whilst that gentleman had been with them in Rainhill he had made many friendships which he sincerely hoped, now that he was going away again to foreign service, would tend for many hours, when ennui set in, to bring back to his mind the many pleasant and social evenings he had spent with them at Rainhill.

The toast was enthusiastically drunk with musical honors. Mr. Williams, in reply, thanked his guests for the hearty way in which they had received his name. He had been in many climes and countries, and had mixed with many nations, but he must say that he never in his life met a more sociable number of friends than he had done at Rainhill. During the evening musical selections were given by the host (Mr. Williams) and others. The party broke up at 11 o'clock, a happy evening having been spent.

His Murdered Wife's Clothes.

MELBOURNE, Australia, April 13.—An unclaimed leather-covered basket, which has lain in the Burnsdale Railway Station since January last, has just been forwarded to the police here. It has been found that the name, "Mrs. Dole," inscribed upon a label on the basket, is in Deeming's handwriting and a key found upon Deeming fitted into the lock.

The basket contained apparel formerly belonging to the murdered Mrs. Williams or Deeming (Emily Mather) and a portion of a Liverpool paper, another portion of which was found at the scene of the murder of Mrs. Deeming at Windsor.

Deeming continues to pretend that he is insane, although a number of physicians have testified that he is perfectly sane.

HE LOVED HER.

And Killed Her Uncle Because He Came Between Them.

LONDON, April 13.—A man named Hamilton, residing at Melksham, in Wiltshire-on-Avon, was engaged to be married to a young lady of that place. He, however, became convinced that the uncle of his fiance was seeking to influence her to break the engagement. Hamilton brooded over the matter and finally determined to kill the uncle. He procured a revolver and accused the uncle of taking advantage of his relations to the girl to prejudice her against him. But few words were exchanged, when Hamilton drew his revolver and shot and killed the uncle. Hamilton fled to Warminster, where the police found him yesterday. A sergeant attempted to take him into custody, but Hamilton made a desperate resistance. Finding the policeman was getting the better of the struggle, Hamilton drew his revolver and shot the officer dead. Other officers seized him before he could fire again and overpowered him.

THE TOKYO FIRE.

Six Thousand Houses Succumb to the Flames.

LONDON, April 13.—A despatch from Tokyo says the conflagration that broke out there on Sunday last did enormous damage. The despatch is vague as to which portion of the city is burned over, but states that 6000 houses were destroyed. The loss of life was heavy. Up to the present it is known that 50 of the natives lost their lives, and a number are still missing.

Another Charge Laid.

DETROIT, April 13.—Prince Michael and Lizzie Courts have been unable to secure bail.

Yesterday Ellen Rawlinson, aged 19, arrived from Toronto and swore out another information against the Prince, for assault. The character of the information is such that, if convicted, Mills may receive a sentence of imprisonment for life.

Suit Over an Option.

BRANTFORD, April 13.—At the assizes Tuesday, Isaac Hazel obtained a verdict for $658 against S. R. Potter, the amount of a promissory note given by defendant to plaintiff for an option for one year on the sale of a mining limit at Port Arthur. The defendant was to sell the property and get 10 per cent. of the proceeds of the sale. He gave this note for the option of selling.

Fixed for July 12.

HALIFAX, N.S., April 13.—Judgment has been delivered in the Supreme Court in the election case of Hon. Angus McGillivray v. Sir John Thompson. This was a motion to fix the day for trial. The court granted the motion and fixed the hearing for July 12.

Body Washed Ashore.

WINDSOR, April 13.—The body of a man was washed ashore at Pelee Island on Sunday. It was that of a middle aged man, dressed in working clothes, with high boots. The body was buried on the beach.

A Steam Barge Burned.

WALLACEBURG, Ont., April 13.—The small steam barge, W. S. Ireland, was badly burned at the Erie and Huron railway dock here last evening. She is owned by John Cooper, and has just been fitted out for the season's work and intended loading for Detroit to-day. The fire is supposed to have caught around the boilers. She was valued at $6000; insured against fire in the Queen for $3500.
