NORTH GREY IS OPEN.

North Grey is open. Mr. McKay has resigned and the parties have agreed to a new election. The trial, which opened on Tuesday, only lasted a short time when this decision was announced It was thought cheaper for all parties to take this procedure than to go on with the trial,

Only three more weeks of active work before the referendum vote is taken. As the day approaches things are warming up and this week the campaign is in full swing. Whether there is a possibility of carrying the measure or not it is certainly important that the exact strength of the aggressive temperance vote should be known, and every voter should consider it a moral responsibility resting upon him to go out and exercise his franchise. The liquor party is very active in their opposition to the measure and every hotelkeeper is putting up from $50 to $100 to fight it. This money will be used in every way possible to save a vote. It will therefore be seen that it is necessary that every possible vote in favor of the measure should be polled.

The Postmaster General is pluming himself upon the fact that his department has become self-sustaining, and will be able to announce a surplus of $5000. The newspaper publishers of this country are certainly not in a position to congratulate Mr. Mulock on the result of his postal policy. All of this surplus, and a good deal more, has been directly taken from their pockets. First after the reduction to a 2 cent letter rate came the imposition of postage on newspapers, and more recently the postage on all correspondence has been doubled. As stamped envelopes are supplied to all correspondents by newspapers it will be seen that this is another direct pull from the publisher. Again, the parcel post rate on printed matter has also been doubled. Last week we had occasion to mail a parcel of printed matter on which the postage amounted to 41 cents. Last year the same parcel was carried by the mail for 20 cents. We submit that the present condition of affairs is manifestly unfair. Mr. Mulock should not look to the publishers of this country for his surplus without inserting his "digger" into the fare boxes of other industries throughout the country. The business man who has a big correspondence (and we believe Mr. Mulock is himself in this class) appear to reap all the benefit there is by reduced letter postage. The farmer and publisher do not benefit. In fact the balance is on the wrong side of the ledger, at least so far as we are concerned, and the old condition of affairs would be preferable. It is with us, not exactly a case of robbing Peter to pay Paul, but of robbing Peter to pay Peter, with a percentage rake off as pay for doing the job. We are not aware as to how other publishers look on this matter, but for ourselves we are determined to "speak up," and would also like to hear what the rest of the brethren have to say !

The fine weather is a benefit to farmers, giving them a chance to get their roots taken up and fall ploughing done.

Some of the boys here say that taffy is very indigestible, especially nut taffy. They speak of taking action against the young ladies who put the temptation in their way, as it has cost them a good deal for patent medicine, but they thought stolen sweets the best.

The children and teachers of the public school are giving a concert on Friday evening. A good time expected. Admission ten cents.

Buggies must have taken a sudden jump, as one morning recently while going up the eighth your scribe saw one perched on top of a farmer's barn. I wonder can the owner explain how he took it down ?

Mrs. Richard Parks and children paid a visit to her parents in Priceville the past week.

Mrs. John English is still in a very critical condition.

Mrs. George Lawlor is getting some better.

Mr. Emerson Smith has gone to work in Owen Sound. Very soon all our young people will be gone.

Railroad topics are again being discussed here. Everyone hopes it may go ahead, as the section of country it would go through requires a railroad. If something is not done our young people will soon all be gone to more congenial climes, and the farms of Ontario neglected for the wheat fields of the west.

Messrs. James A. Jamieson and Neil McDonald have returned from their trip to Manitoba. They express themselves delighted with the country and intend going back in the near future.

We were wondering if that Kimberley young man got his boots dried yet. What a boom that proposed railroad will be to him, as he will then only need one pair at a time when he comes to take out his lady love for an evening

One of our young men declares he will thrash the villian who stole his horses' bridal on hallowen'en night. The girls say they will sit all evening in the buggies after such a mishap.

Mrs. McCallum spent a couple of weeks visiting her daughter on the Meaford Road.

Mrs Wm. Walker and daughter are visiting with friends in Caledon and Erin.

Rev. J. C. Madill, formerly of this vicinity, but now of Little Britain, Man., has combined farming with preaching, and is making a success of both. Mr. Madill did all his fall ploughing, and cut his grain himself with a binder. A three-acre field of wheat yielded him 120 bushels Fifty acres more yielded him 34 bushels to the acre. He raised 500 bushels of flax on four acres, a quarter of which he sold at $1.75 per bushel. Other crops also did well. Mr Madill never missed a service through the season, and two Sundays he preached in his overalls. He will next purchase a threshing outfit, he says.—Fergus Canadian.

Pa, he sat down on ma's old hat—pa's big around and wide and fat—and when he saw what he had done he rose and seemed to want to run ; but ma she grabbed it with a smile, and said: "Land sakes ? it's just the style.
