Miss Bella McKenzie of the McKenzie farm, back line west, who was on an extended visit with friends in Collingwood and Duntroon, has returned home accompanied by her friend, Miss Russell of Duntroon.

Mr. J. J. Kelso, Superintendent of Neglected and Dependent Children, Toronto, has received from one of the infants' homes of the province a number of small boys to be placed in foster homes. There are five of them—bright, attractive little fellows who would certainly be a treasure in some quiet home where the prattle of children is not known. Anyone thinking of adopting a little fellow should write Mr. Kelso, who will be pleased to give all necessary information.

Quite a ripple of interest was created in town last week by the visit of a couple of gentlemen from the south in the persons of Mr. J. H. Teal of Tilsonburg and G. A. McGubbin, engineer, St. Thomas. The gentlemen are representing the Port Burwell and Georgian Bay railway, for which a charter was given Mr. Charlton at last session of parliament. We believe the road is in operation from Port Burwell to Ingersoll. It is proposed to run the line up through this section to terminate at Collingwood, where Mr. Charlton has large milling interests. The gentlemen above mentinned, one of whom is the present manager and the other an engineer, have been going over the proposed route. They first examined a route through Osprey and out through the Pretty River valley. This we believe they found impracticable and next turned their attention to the beaver valley. They drove from this point to Collingwood via Clarksburg and returned the same way, carefully examining the more difficult portion, which lies within two miles north of Flesherton on the old Hogg property. This spot was found, however, to be not difficult. The gentlemen seemed to be favorably impressed with the Beaver valley route, and it is probable that in the event of the railroad being built this route will be chosen.

TEACHER WANTED—For S. S. No. 11, Artemesia, male or female, 2nd class certificate, for year 1903 Application, stating salary, received up to 15th Nov., 1902. George Warling, Sec., Vandeleur P. O., Ont.

The Advance had a much appreciated call from Mr. W. T. Jackman of the Chilliwack, B. C., Progress, on Wednesday last. Mr. Jackman was at one time foreman of the Markdale Standard. He went out to B. C. thirteen years ago and started the Progress, which has been a paying institution from its inception. A special Grand Army of the Republic excursion to Washington gave Mr. Jackman an opportunity of visiting his many old friends in Ontario. He also visited Washington and Buffalo. Mr. Jackman was some 22 or 23 years ago, a fellow typo with the editor of this paper, in the old Guide office at Dundalk and in Durham. We were glad to shake his hand and note his prosperity.

The Feversham stage driver had a bad runaway on Wednesday of last week. Half a mile the other side of Maxwell a bolt broke and let the whiffletrees on to the horses heels. No self respecting animals would stand this and Mr. Sample's horses bolted. An old lady was in the wagon with the driver. After running a hundred yards or so the wagon pole hit the ground and broke. Here horses and wagon parted company, the wagon fortunately remaining right side up. A pulper was thrown from the rig and badly broken. The inmates were not injured. The horses ran about a mile and a half before being stopped. It was an exciting few moments for Mr. Sample and his passenger until the wagon was stopped right side up.

The first "big gun" of the prohibition campaign was fired at Porlaw on Monday evening when about 200 ratepayers gathered in the school and listened patiently to several addresses. Mr. S. Sheardown occupied the chair. The meeting was first addressed by Mr. T. McKenzie, who was followed by Mr. Hutchinson of Inistioge, a farmer who is intensely in earnest on the prohibition question. Rev. T. R. White of Eugenia explained the nature of the bill before the people, and was followed by the orator of the evening, Rev. J. S. I. Wilson, B. D., of Flesherton. Mr. Wilson went carefully over all the most common objections against the bill, and turned them down as farcial or trivial one after another. His address was listened to with the deepest interest and he was tendered a vote of thanks, which also included the other speakers and Miss Allie Joy of Flesherton who favored the audience with a solo. The meeting certainly augured well for an enthusiastic campaign, and the apathy and indifference which some professed to notice at the beginning bids fair to be thoroughly dispelled before the close this campaign.

Port Law

Mr. Nicholson of Oakville, formerly of this neighborhood, came up to attend the funeral of his brother-in-law, the late Mr. Dyson, and is since visiting members of his family here. His old friends are glad to see him looking so hale and hearty.

Mrs. S. Sheardown received the sad intelligence of the sudden death of her nephew, a son of Mr. Angus Bolton of Bolton, who was for some years a resident here. Mr. and Mrs. Sheardown attended the funeral.

Mrs. McLean and sons have purchased a 100 acre farm on the fourth line, Osprey, to which they intend removing in the near future.

The Badgerow brothers and their sister have taken up their residence on Mrs. White's farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Blakie have removed from Osprey and taken possession of one of Mrs McNally's houses.

Threshing is now about completed. The work has been long and tedious on account of the unusual bulk of straw and although there is considerable light grain the yield, generally, has exceeded expectations.

The services of our teacher, Mr. J. A. Hutchinson, have been secured for another year. This has been hailed with satisfaction by the people of the section of whom he has won the confidence and esteem.

The first volley in the Artemesia prohibition campaign was fired in our school house on Monday night. The people of this polling subdivision turned out in a body besides many from surrounding districts, including a large load of enthusiastic temperance workers from Flesherton, among whom were Rev. J. S. I Wilson, the Misses Joy, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Sheppard, Messrs. W. H. Bunt, J.E. Fawcett, and Editor Thurston of the "Advance," and just here in passing we might say that temperance people should feel pround of the "Advance" and do feel proud of it in the stand it has taken in support and advocacy of our just and righteous cause. Mr. S. Sheardown was elected chairman and filled the position in a creditable and efficient manner. The singing of the inspiring campaign songs was entered into with great enthusiasm. Miss Joy favored the audience with a solo, "The Sunday school man and the brewer," which was much enjoyed. Short addresses were delivered by the chairman, your humble scribe and Mr. Thomas Hutchinson, Rev. T. R. White, who is heart and soul in the work, dealt with the Ontario Liquor Act of 1902, going minutely into its provisions and explaining them in detail and showing that the electorate were asked to discharge their franchise for any visionary thing, but that unlike former plebiscites they had now something definite—something tangible before them, and that it now rests with the voters to say whether or not we are to allow the drink traffic to continue. Rev. J.S.I. Wilson, president of East Grey association, who is a host himself and peculiarly adapted for the work assigned him, delivered a masterly speech, and in his own unique, dramatic and entertaing way successfully combatted almost all the arguments advanced by antiprohibitionists. We will not attempt to report his speech ; it would be impossible to do so, as well might we attempt to report thunder and lightning—he must be heard, he must be seen to be appreciated. To conclude, if this meeting with its numbers and enthusiasm is to be a criterion of the sentiment of the province then it is safe to take it as an assurred fact, that not only will the temperance act of 1902 become law but the prohibition cause be overwhelmingly victorious.

Valuable Advice to Rheumatics.

Eat meat sparingly, and take very little sugar. Avoid intoxicants, keep away from dampness, drink water abundantly and always rely on Nerviline as a quick reliever of rhuematic pains. Being five times stronger than ordinary remedies, Nerviline's power over pain is beyond belief. It cures also sciatica, lumbago, neuralgia and all pain, whether internal or external. Large bottles, price 25c.

A tramp who visited George Robinson's residence, East Garafraxa, in the search for something to eat, while Mr. and Mrs. Robinson were out in the field topping turnips, helped himself to $39 in cash and some eatables, and then, having an important engagement elsewhere, left hurriedly to fill it.

A good story is told by an inspector in a neighboring county. While on a trip of inspection on Saturday night he went into a hotel and found the bar locked and the lights out. When leaving the place he met an old man and asked him if everything was locked up tight, The old man did not know the inspector and replied: "Come around in half an hour, the inspector is now making his trip."
