COWBOYS' DUEL.

A Philadelphia Proves that He Was Not a "Northern Coward." Fight in a Well.

A letter in the New York Sun from Camp Rio Pecos, New Mexico, says:—Gus Davis, of Philadelphia, came here some months ago, and was engaged as a cattle herder by Mr. John Shore, a wealthy stock owner. Davis soon showed himself to be a useful man, and gained the esteem of his employer and the envy of other herders. In less than three months he had resisted so many temptations to quarrel with his Mexican associates that he was nicknamed "The Northern Coward."

One morning about three weeks ago while Davis was on duty looking after his cattle, Jesus Garcia, a Mexican, saluted him, as usual, with "Good morning, Northern Coward."

Human endurance has its limit, and Mr. Davis thought he had been insulted long enough. The Mexican was at first surprised at the stand taken by the Philadelphian, but word brought on word, until each determined that the other must die.

The quarrel soon brought all the neighbouring cowboys to the spot. The mode of combat was speedily arranged.

A chain thirty inches long was securely locked about their necks. A Mexican dagger, a two-edged knife six inches long, was given to each of the duelists. The obliging cowboys then lowered the men into a dog canon, a descent of 75 feet. There they were to remain till one killed the other. A key to to the lock was given to each, and no one was allowed to interfere further. The rest of the cowboys then went to work as if nothing unusual had occurred.

For some days nothing was known as to the result of the encounter. Yesterday, however, Davis, very weak and emaciated, returned to camp, dragging after him the lifeless body of Jesus Garcia.

The story Mr. Davis tells is as follows:—"The fight began as soon as we reached the bottom of the canon. Being locked together, each was always within reach of the other's knife. After such deliberation as the few moments during our descent permitted, I decided that unless the first blow were fatal the chances were decidedly in favour of the party assaled. I accordingly allowed the Mexican to strike the first blow. He plunged his knife into my side. As soon as I found his arm thus stretched forward, I cut the muscle of his right arm near the shoulder. Immediately his knife dropped. While he was stooping to pick up his knife, I sent my blade into his body from the back. Before I could strike again he had picked up his knife and cut the cords of my arms, so as to render them both useless.

"Here we both stood for a few seconds when I discovered that his heart had been reached. His body soon fell in the death struggle to the ground. The chain was so short that he brought me down with him. In a few minutes he was dead. I was so weak from loss of blood that I lay down by his side. We lay there for five days and nights, until hunger drove me to make a last effort. I climbed the steep incline of the walls of the canon and reached the camp, carrying Garcia on my back."

VALUABLE CATTLE POISONED.

It appears that some fancy cattle which were poisoned at the United States cattle quarantine at Concord were not poisoned maliciously, and there is no longer any mystery about the matter. In the summer of 1878 the lot where the cattle are now quarantined was worked by the then owner, Joseph D. Brown, jr., and planted with potatoes, on which Paris Green was used to kill the bugs. After sprinkling the vines the farm hand had some Paris Green left, and, expecting to return the next day, he placed the package in a bunch of bushes near by, where it would be convenient for further use. The next day came some other job, and the package of poison was forgotten. It remained untouched until found by the cattle. About three years ago the clump of bushes was cut and burned, and this fact accounts for the scorched paper in which the paper was found. Thus far five of the cattle have died. The others affected are recovering. Thirty of them were yesterday turned out to pasture.

It is very interesting to witness the astonishing effects of nature's medicine, viz., medical electricity. When science goes hand-in-hand with the physician most wonderful results manifested. Rheumatisms of many years standing leap for joy, and throw away their crutches; neuralgia, the bane of many a happy home, flies like smoke before the wind; nervousness, of every kind, debility of the worst description, the hydra-headed monster that fills many of our graves, is immediately relieved and permanently cured by the help of the scientific discovery—Norman's Electric Belts, Bands, and Insoles. Mr. Norman has perfected his belts, till now they are peerless of the whole list of known remedial agents. W. J. Wilson, "The Pharmacy," 185 Princess Street is agent in Kingston: he will be pleased to show testimonials from several in the city and vicinity to those who wish further proof of their efficacy.

Buckler's Arnica Salve.

If you are broken down in constitution and wasting away by sickness, dissipation, too great nervous taxation, or suffer from any chronic disease, do not abandon hope until you have tried Burdock Blood Bitters. What it is doing daily towards restoring others, it might do for you.

Be Advised in time, and do not allow what may appear to you as a simple back ache move, to run into a disease of the kidneys, which invariably proves fatal in the end. Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure will at once ease your pain and positively prevent these unfortunate results. Take it at once. Any druggist will have it.

The Most frightful scourge of humanity is Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Commencing with a little pain in the back, it hurries the sufferer to a premature grave. Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure is the only known remedy that prevents the fatal result. Take it in time.

There is no preparation before the people to-day that so commands their confidence more, or meets with a better sale than does Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry—the infallible remedy for all forms of Summer Complaint.

"Leaves have their time to fall," says the poet, but Wild Strawberry leaves are on the rise just now, being utilized in such enormous quantities in making Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry—the infallible remedy for Cholera Morbus, diarrhœa and other Summer Complaints.

Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters are not an Alcoholic Stimulant, but a purely Vegetable Medicine, Cathartic and Tonic in its action and invaluable in all affections of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

NEGRESS' ROMANCE.

The Strange Adventure of a Slave Girl Only Sixteen Years Old—What She Endured.

"I was born at Nashville, Tenn.," said Mattie Young, "and though I am unable to count or to reckon time, I think I must be about sixteen years old. When I was something more than a year old I was stolen by Robinson's circus. They made a dancing girl of me, and I got so I was a good performer. We went to Cuba finally, and after I had been with them about seven years, I should think, I was put up for sale on the block at Havana. Henry Grannison, who owns a coffee plantation about eight miles from Havana, bought me, and I went to his place as his slave. They have no mercy on their slaves in Cuba, and I was treated like a brute. When I first went there I was branded on the back with eighteen names, and as often as the scars would tlim

I WAS BRANDED AGAIN.

The names were Spanish, and included the name of my master and his slaves. I was made to plow, like a horse. They would hitch three women in harness, and make us drag the plow along, one of us carrying a regular bit in the mouth. The food they gave us consisted of cats, dogs and grasshoppers, and they made us pick tobacco worms and eat them, too. We were sometimes whipped as often as three times a day, and we never knew what Sunday was. Two months ago while I was at the house of my master, one of the little children got mad and declared I had beaten her. They wouldn't hear anything I said, and told me the queen had ordered my throat to be cut.

I BEGGED FOR TIME TO PRAY, and they gave me till the next morning. In Cuba our god is a big snake we call Sarah, and we pray to it for mercy. I believed I would be killed, for I had heard of slaves having their throats cut, and I had been struck on the head with knives before. So that evening I planned to run away. I got a life preserver from a ship where I was sent to carry coal. When night came, I put the life preserver around me, climbed over the wall and jumped into the ocean. I was a good swimmer and wasn't afraid. But the Cuban soldiers heard me splashing in the water and they began firing at me. The first ball struck me in the thigh, the next hit my foot, and before they quit they hit me seven times. My arms were not hurt, though, and

I KEPT ON SWIMMING.

Finally I reached an island, and stayed there five weeks, living on whatever I could. My wounds hurt me terribly, but, as they hurt me worse on land than in the salt water, I kept my life preserver on and swam along the shore of the island most of the time. At the end of five weeks a ship came along bound for Galveston, and I was taken aboard. When we reached Galveston I was put in the hands of some colored church people, and, as I heard that my mother lived in Nashville I was sent there. At Nashville I found that my mother had gone, they said, to Kansas City, and so I got help to come here."—Kansas City Times.

AN EXCELLENT OPPORTUNITY.

For those in need of order clothing having ordered largely for the Fall trade I have decided to sell Summer suits, "made to order," at the following prices: $15 tweed suits reduced to $13; $18 Scotch tweed suit reduced to $16. All other Summer material reduced in proportion. Those in need of the above will save money by calling on Z. Prevost, New York Clothing Store.

Nothing Hunts out Corns

Like tight boots. Corns are very small affairs but apply to them a pair of tight boots and all other concerns of life sinks into insignificance. Tight boots and Putnam's Corn Extractor (the great and only sure cure for corns) may go together, and comfort will be their partner; but don't fail to use Putnam's Corn Extractor. Frauds, cheap, poisonous and dangerous substitutes are in the market. Beware of them. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Polson & Co., proprietors, Kingston.

Wise People

Are always ready to accept a suggestion, especially one that is likely to minister to their comfort and happiness. The name Nerviline—nerve pain cure—is a suggestion in itself, but a farther and more important one is in pointing out that a trial test bottle can be bought at King's drug store for 10 cents. Nerviline is a most wonderful remedy, for it works so quickly, banishing the most excruciating pain in a few minutes. Polson's Nerviline, in large bottles, 25 cents. Trial bottles, 10 cents—sold by all druggists.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—Wear of Life.—Derangement of the liver is one of the most efficient causes of dangerous diseases, and the most prolific source of those melancholy forebodings which are worse than death itself. A few doses of these noted Pills act magically in dispelling low spirits, and repelling the covert attacks made on the nerves by excessive heat, impure atmospheres, over-indulgence, or exhausting excitement. The most shattered constitution may derive benefit from Holloway's Pills, which will regulate disordered action, brace the nerves, increase the energy of the intellectual faculties, and revive the failing memory. By attentively studying the instructions for taking these Pills and explicitly putting them in practice, the most despairing will soon feel confident of a perfect recovery.

PAIN-KILLER.—The testimonials borne to the efficacy of this valuable medicine are sufficient to warrant its introduction into every house. Our own opinion is that no family should be without a bottle of it for a single hour. In flesh wounds, aches, pains, sores, &c., it is the most effectual remedy we know of. A bottle will last a very long time, and its low price places it within the reach of all.—News, St. John's, C. E.

Do not delay, if suffering any form of Bowel Complaint, however mild apparently may be the attack, but use Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It is old reliable cure for all forms of Summer Complaints that require prompt treatment. Ask your druggist and all dealers in patent medicines.

Samson lost his strength with his hair. Thousands of men and women lose their beauty with theirs, and very large numbers restore the ravages of time by using the famous Cingalese Hair Restorer. Sold at 50 cents per bottle by all druggists.

In Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters will be found a Specific for Biliousness, Dyspepsia and Indigestion. You are foolish, if you suffer, not to try it. For sale by all Druggists.

Smart Weed and Belladonna combined with the other ingredients used in the best porous plasters make Carter's S. W. & B. Backache Plasters the best in the market. Price 25 cents.

If you are troubled with a disordered Stomach, Dr. Carson's Bitters will afford prompt relief. It is the best Family Medicine, as Superior to Pills. All Druggists sell it.

Reader, if you suffer from any disorder of the Liver, Stomach, Bowels, Kidneys, Skin, or Blood, try Burdock Blood Bitters. Nature's specific medicine for acting on those organs for the outlet of disease. 25,000 bottles sold in the last three months.

Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

ADVICE TO INVALIDS.—If you wish to obtain quiet, refreshing sleep, free from pain and anxiety, be calm and sustain the weary wakings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media, and regulate the exhausting exertions of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by Dr. J. Collis Browne, Late Army Medical Staff, which is now the name of CHLORODYNE and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis and Asthma.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Hysteria, Palpitation, and Nervousness.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Metralgia, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Hollow Hall, Sligo, January 8, 1866. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33 Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London. Dear Sir,—We enclose this opportunity of congratulating you upon the wide-spread reputation Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne has earned for itself not only in Ireland, but all over the kingdom, and in every quarter of the globe. We can scarcely conceive a better or more useful medicine, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. To other friends, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and judging from the sale, we have that their imports there will be but transitory. We could multiply instances of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa, and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and in a general sense in almost every case, your personal observation during early years. In Cholera, Spasmodic and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself we have witnessed its astonishing curative power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's, from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of the opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a culpable manœuvre on either part, on your part, or the retailer's, with respect to prescribers and patients. We are, Sir, Faithfully yours, Symes & Co. Members of the Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain. Excellent the Utility's Chemists.

CAUTION.—Vice Chancellor Sir Page Wood stated that that Dr. J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the chemist Freeman was delusive; and that he deserved to be hanged for swearing to it.—See Times, July 13, 1864.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., and 4s. 6d.; and in cases, 10s. 6d., and 21s. each. None is genuine without the signature of Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne on the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimonials accompany each bottle.

CAUTION—Beware of Piracy and Imitation.
