In Memoriam.

Edith, eldest daughter of M. K. Richardson, died April 15, 1902.

There were three gatherings of a social nature in town on Friday evening. Miss Ethel Trimble entertained her Sabbath school class, the Misses Joy gave a party to a number of friends, and a few of the older heads foregathered at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Mitchell, where pleasure reigned supreme for the evening.

Miss Flossie Thurston of Flesherton, who is attending the O. S. business college, at the Easter examination held last week received the silver medal for the "greatest improvement in writing." The presentations were made by Mayor Grier and A. G. McKay, M. P. P. The medal is a handsome maltese cross with bar on blue background and suitably inscribed. While home for Easter Miss Flossie received warm congratulations from her many friends. She returned to her studies on Monday.

"Canadienne," writing in Saturday Night, has the following to say of the smile which belongs to friend I. B. Lucas of Centre Grey. The writer is an authority on smiles, too:—"But when you seek a veritable sunbeam, watch the radiance that beams from the youthful face of the 'boy of the House'—Mr. I. B. Lucas of Centre Grey. Mr. Lucas can talk well and argue forcibly—but his smile might win a response from the Sphinx herself (for we believe that the Sphinx is a lady). It can readily be believed that Mr. Lucas was elected by acclimation. There isn't a riding in Ontario that could be so unkind as to shake its head when the winsome smile was turned upon it. Centre Grey succumbed at once, and gave more than was asked. It matters not whether the member referred to be a follower of Ross or of Whitney, the warmth of that smile is even the same. It shines upon the just and the unjust, upon the shores of Man toulin and the hills of Peterboro."

Two Clever Girls

Miss Maud Richardson of this place has for some time been taking lessons with McGilvary Knowles, Toronto, one of the best portrait artists in America. Last week while in the city we had the pleasure of examining some of Miss Richardson's work, which is of a very high order indeed. She paints altogether from nature and some of her studies are certainly worthy of hearty commendation. We were simply delighted with the evidences of genius which we saw displayed in Miss Richardson's pictures, and we confidently expect that she will be heard from in the world of art.

Another young lady, who is making a name for herself in the musical world, is Miss Rita Damude, formerly of this place, who has for some time been attending the Toronto Conservatory of Music. At a recent rehearsal she received much favorable comment upon her performance, which was said by those who understood music to be exceedingly creditable. We also have the pleasure of hearing Miss Rita play—and it most assuredly was a pleasure. We believe she proposes putting in another year at the Conservatory, which will complete her musical education.

Sinclair—Jewett

A very pleasant event took place on Monday, April 12, at the home of Mrs. Jewett, 11 Lakeview avenue, Toronto, being the occasion of the marriage of her daughter, Edna F., to Rev. W. A. Sinclair of Thornton. A large company of immediate relatives and friends were present to join in congratulations to bride and bridegroom. Rev. I. Tovell, D.D., performed the marriage ceremony. The bride was beautifully attired in white organdie and lace and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and bridal roses. She was assisted by her sister, Miss Edith Jewett, who was attired in white organdie over buttercup silk and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was ably supported by Rev. T. R. White of Eugenia. After the ceremony the party retired to the dining room, where luncheon was served, R. J. Colville being toast master. A number of congratulatory addresses were made. The bride and groom left for their home in Thornton on the 5.30 train, followed by best wishes and showers of rice from their many friends.

A span of horses ran awaw in Chatsworth last week. The News says:—"Mr. Arthur Philips of Massie had his horse and buggy standing in front of the drug store, and when the runaway reached it they simply jumped over it and if the wagon had not been atttached to them all would have been well so far as the buggy was concerned. But the big team hadn't descended from their flying exploit to terra firma when the wagon came in contact with Mr. Philips' buggy and—well, such a wreck. The buggy was broken almost beyond repair, the harness was stripped off the horse, the bit being bent double in the horse's mouth and the steel harness torn from the collar and straightened out by the force of collision. It was all a complete wreck, and fortunate that nobody was in it. Both Philips and Cook took the matter cool, the former telling the latter that he would have to repair the buggy and the latter replying that it was too bad that it happened, and that he was a poor man and the former couldn't take anything off him."

The Cape Croker correspondent of the Wiarton Echo says:—"On Monday night last week the 4 year old son of Louis Solomon strayed away from his home and got lost in the bush. As soon as he was missed an alarm was given, and an army of ten men and two women started out to search for him. These were added to in the morning and the search was continued till 4 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, when the little one was found sitting on a small bridge near the lighthouse, ten miles from home. Though the night had been very cold, the child appeared none the worse for his experience, the thick cedar bush through which he tramped all night or slept at times, protecting him from the cold. When picked up by Mr. Alex. Taylor, who found him, he remarked that he was hungry and went quietly to sleep in the man's arms. The people were much surprised and greatly rejoiced at recovering the child alive and uninjured."

To Consumptives.

The undersigned having been restored to health by simple means, after suffering for several years with severe lung affection, and that dread disease consumption, is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure. To those who desire it, he will cheerfully send (free of charge) a copy of the prescription used, which they will find a sure cure for consumption, asthma, catarrh, bronchitis and all throat and lung maladies. He hopes all sufferers will try his remedy, as it is invaluable. Those desiring the prescription, which will cost them nothing and may prove a blessing, will please address, Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON, Brooklyn, New York.

Millinery Opening . . .

AT

T. J. SHEPPARD'S,

Wed. and Thurs., April 7 and 8

WE will make our annual display of Spring Millinery and invite every lady who is interested in the great question of "WHAT TO WEAR" to visit our opening and find the answer to the question here.

The Millinery styles are prettier, daintier and more striking than ever. This year our buyers took pains to secure the prettiest and newest Millinery they could find, and we think when you see what we have to show you, you will realize that this search has been a success and that Millinery is quite different from what is usually shown; then our lovely models of French, English and New York hats, and original conception from our own trimmers, which for variety, elegance of style and artistic beauty have never been equalled in any of our displays.

The Gentleman

—WILL PLEASE NOT FORGET OUR—

Spring Suitings!

And new styles in Felt Hats. Everything right up-to-date. Order your suit early to avoid the rush. You will always find us leaders in our lines.

We are also well supplied with a choice stock of Ready-to-wear clothing to suit your prices right.

T. J. SHEPPARD,

To the Farmers and Cattle Feeders. . . . .

I would call your attention to the

Blatchford Celebrated Cattle Food

AND CALF MEAL. This food is very highly recommended by the Great Stock Breeders in the States, and is now being tested by Mr. R. McGill at our Station, on his farm, where he has some forty head of feeding cattle in stall. Those wishing to try it can get any quantity for a trial, and from the recommendation I have no doubt it will repay any feeder of stock.
