Maxwell

Maxwell football team is getting into kicking shape. There should be no swearing this year as they are kicking on the parsonage grounds. We learn there will be a match on Victoria day.

Rev. P. Fleming conducted communion service at McIntyre on Sunday last.

Dr. Scott was absent on the first of the week attending the Grand Orange lodge.

The Methodist quarterly board held a very successful meeting on Monday afternoon. Finances were in good condition and work generally showed a prosperous year. The board unanimously invited their pastor, Rev. Thos. Scott, to remain another year. Resolutions were passed instructing the R. S., Mr. Josiah Gamey, to forward letters of condolence to Mrs. Thos. Hudson and to Mr. and Mrs. Scutt, expressing sympathy of the board with them and their families in their recent bereavement. The late Thos. Hudson was one of the stewards of the Buckingham church.

Miss Washington, returned missionary from Japan, will, under the auspices of the W. M. S., address a meeting in Maxwell Methodist Church, next Tuesday evening, 12th May.

Port Law

Rev Mr. Hurlburt commenced two weeks ago fortnightly service in the Orange hall, 4th line, to be contined during the summer months.

Master Charlie Holman had one of his hands drawn into a cutting box which he was feeding and had some fingers badly hurt. Fortunately the machine was stopped before the hand reached the knives or the result would have been more serious.

Mr. Charles Croft has removed with his family to Rockvale.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Jamieson have both had quite a severe spell of illness, but are now pretty well recovered.

Mr. Wood, sr., of the east backline has been lying very ill the past two weeks with but slight hopes of his recovery. His daughter, Mrs. Sled of Nottawasaga, is at the parental home assisting Miss Wood in ministering to the comfort of their father.

Mr. James Lauchlin, who has lately returned from the Soo, was assisting Mr. Robert McMaster in blasting a large rock one day last week. They placed a charge and retreated to what they considered a safe distance and waited for the result which came near ending the earthly career of Mr. Lauchlin. A fragrament of the rock struck him on the head, inflicting a nasty, though fortunately not dangerous wound.

Rockvale

Mr. C. Croft, who has been working at the mill here since the commencement of business this spring, has moved his family to our "town."

Mr. and Mrs. Sparling and family of Markdale have moved into Mr. George Armstrong's house. Mr. Sparling and two sons are employed in the mill here.

Mr. Henry Udell has taken possession of the residence lately occupied by Wm. Kenny.

Mr. Wm. Chard has completed the stone foundation of a new barn. The work presents a fine appearance.

Arbor day was duly observed at the school, and a large amount of cleaning up of the grounds was done—mostly picking stones, with our teacher as foreman. The interior of the school was also improved.

We understand there were 62 pupils in attendance at the school here this week. Where d they all come from?

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. James Parks, on Monday, May 4th, a daugnter.

H. W. STAFFORD, Teacher.

W. O. Foster a strapping fellow who formerly lived on the tenth con., Sullivan, resigned his position on the Owen Sound police force after serving 16 days and 16 nights. He considered it was necessary for a policeman to take an occasional nap.

Miss E Pauline Johnston, the celebrated Mohawk poetess and reciter, has taken unto herself a companion in her travels, in the person of Mr. Ernest C. Reynolds of Buffalo. She was married to that gentleman in that city two weeks ago.

A certain young man took his girl to church. The evening was warm and the young lady complained of feeling faint. The young man smiled sweetly upon her and took something out of his vest pocket and whispered to keep the tablet in her mouth. Shy shyly placed it under her tongue, rolled it over and over but it failed to dissolve. She felt much better, however. When the sermon was over she slipped the tablet in her glove, being desirous of examining the indissolveable little substance that her "steady" had given her in the house of worship. When alone in her room she pulled off her glove and out fell a trouser button. She is looking for a new fellow now.

Our reporter, says an exchange, was in a butcher shop the other day and was somewhat startled by the boss addressing the delivery boy in these words: "Now, boy, look lively. Break the bones in Mr. Anthon's chops, and put Mr. Gleason's ribs in your basket; and by Jove, here's Mrs. R——'s liver that she left on the counter yesterday; and take Joe Large's feet out of pickle and deliver right off." "All right, sir," replied the boy, "just as soon as I saw Miss J——'s leg off."

We wish our advertisers to read the following carefully: Change your advertisements frequently. No matter how good a trade-catcher an advertisement may be when first issued, to let it stand too long wearies the readers who come to the conclusion that you never change it, and finally he never even glances at it. No good newspaper man will feel put out by frequent requests for changes. It's the man who changes his advertisement that gets the results, and the man who gets the results from his business announcements is the publisher's best friend. His business is built by helping to build yours as he knows it. It is n t the high price you pay for advertising but the results you get from it that determines its value. More than half the battle lies with you. Advertise specialties, seasonable lines and change your announcements frequently. Make your performances as good as your announcements and you will have no difficulty in extending your business.
