In the Telegram's report of the Methodist conference it says:—"During the calling of the roll a humorous incident occurred. Josiah Gamey, treasurer of Osprey Township, Grey Co., and uncle of R. R. Gamey, M. P. P., was a member of conference, and resented his name being pronounced by the secretary as Gamey. "Gammey," he cried after his name was called, and a laugh went round, some of those present saying, "He doesn't wantt to be taken for R. R."

Mr. and Mrs. Davidson, organizers for Royal Templars, have been in town for the past week endeavoring to revive the work in that society, and have met with good success. Two public meetings were held—one on Friday evening and another Sunday evening after church. These meetings were well attended. An organization meeting was held Tuesday evening of this week when a goodly number were initiated into the mysteries of the society. The R. T. of T. is a strong society and offers a cheap and safe insurance for those who wish to take up insurance.

Refering to an incident mentioned in The Advance two weeks ago regarding a cow which got into Mr. Mark Wilson's cellar, the Durham Chronicle thinks the cow also exhibited much courage by tinkering around a butchershop in that manner, as well as Mrs. Wilson, who got up in the night and put her out. The Chronicle claims Mrs. Wilson as a Durham girl and says Durham girls are all brave. "Some have even been known to tackle a man" That statement we take with a grain of salt, being suspicious of most statements which are not based on personal experience. If it is any satisfaction to Bro. Irwin we might also inform him that the cow was a Durham cow.

An early pioneer of this village passed away at his home in Merritton on Friday morning last in the person of Mr. John Jones, at the age of 75 years. The deceased gentleman was born in Albion township and came to Flesherton forty-eight years ago, where he opened a tannery on a small scale when there were only two or three houses here and Flesherton was not known as Flesherton. Later for five years he kept the Boyne Water hotel—an old log building near the present school house, which disappeared only three or four years ago. From here he removed to Owen Sound and followed his trade of currier and tanner, and later worked at various other points. For the past nine years he has lived with his family at Merritton. Deceased leaves behind a widow and three children—Mrs. Chas. Bellamy of this place, Miss Bert at home, and James at Owen Sound. The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon to Flesherton cemetery and was largely attended.

A young man living not far from town took a girl buggy riding one day last week, and the conversation turned to fortune telling. He asked her whether she believed in palmistry. She looked up demurely and said: "Well, I don't know, but I think I could foretell more enjoyment if I saw the lines in your hand." The young man, who was slow to comprehend her meaning, sat with bowed head and wrinkled brow until at least two miles had been traversed. Then a great light broke upon him and an expansive smile illumined his features. He took the lines in one hand and grasped the situation.

A young man named William Lee, a spinner by trade, who came to Dundalk about ten days ago to work in the woollen mills, died suddenly Saturday evening at his boarding house. Deceased was about 63 years old, and was troubled with asthma. Doctor McWilliam was called in and pronounced cause of death to be heart failure. He was burried in Maple Grove Cemetery, Sunday afternoon at the expense of the town.

There has been some litigation with regard to the McPherson estate of this township, a claim having been put by a sister of the deceased for $2700. His Honor Judge Morrison has handed out his finding in this matter stating that he believes the note to be a forgery from a signature attached to a letter in the possession of the claimant. This contention was supported by expert evidence. J. W. Frost appeared for the claimant, W. H. Wright for the executors and H. E. Sampson for the widow. Of claims amounting to almost five thousand dollars only $64.64 was allowed, the widow's right to almost the entire estate being thus recognized.

WILSON, Brooklyn, New York.
