The members of Parliament will not have much surplus left this session after paying for their board and washing.

Mr. Tarte appears to be coquetting with the Conservative party. That party will do well to ignore his blandishments. It may be in an unhealthy condition just at present, but this paper would not prescribe a dose of Tarte-aric acid as a sedative.

The Mt. Forest Confederate (Reform) has a justifiable kick at the postal regulations. Yes, Mr Confed., the person who is running the postal department now seems to be an experimenter and newspaper publishers appear to be his especial subject to practice on. Perhaps he will tire of the fun after a time and settle down to business. If he don't, let's put his party out and try the other fellows. A united press could accomplish it.

The Grand Trunk Pacific bill had no more than been sanctioned when from right and left we hear of appointments to the engineering and other staffs. What an army of grafters will be found getting in their "hooks" in this geelorious enterprise for the next five or six years! Unlimited millions at their disposal and the poor Canadian farmer to pay the piper. Millionaire lumbermen, heelers and bloated English Grand Trunk stockholders will derive 90 per cent. of the benefit. It's enough to make the Goddess of Liberty climb down from every pedestal on which she stands in this fair dominion and wail dismally like the Jewish women of old.

Entries for East Grey fall fair are beginning to come in and secretary requests that entries be sent in as early as possible as all entries must be made not later than the day before they are to be exhibited and judged.

W. K. Ireland, Owen Sound, has grown a fine crop of peaches this season from seed planted four years ago, and he is now convinced that it is possible to grow as good peaches in Grey as anywhere else in the world.

Chatsworth is now the dignified possessor of a policeman who promenades the cement sidewalk with majesty and easy grace. The citizens of Chatsworth have designated him "chief."
