The North Grey Protest.

Mr. George M. Boyd, ex-M. P. P., the petitioner against the election of Mr. A. G. Mckay, M. P. P. swore to the protest particulars in the office of Lieut.-Col. N. F. Patterson, K. C. on Thursday of last week, says the Owen Sound Times. For the sake of the good name of North Grey, for the sake of all that is decent, for the hope of a purer political life in this province, The Times hopes that not half the charges have foundation. There are almost three hundred in all, two hundred and eighty-seven to be exact, and they cover every political crime in the calender. One member of the ministry has dragged his name into the North Grey cesspool, while the Buffalo gang will add sensation to that memorable death struggle of the Ross administration on January 7th. The particulars are set forth briefly in three hundred typewritten pages of foolscap. To index the charges no less than eight typewritten pages were necessary. Personal charges of a serious import are preferred against Mr. McKay and his disqualification is asked for. Nearly all his prominent political workers are mentioned in connection with some charge or other. The particulars are altogether too voluminous to even attempt a detailed summary in this issue. The trial promises to be one of the most starting in the annals of Ontario politics.—O. S. Times.
