Sun Spots

For the past week a very large black spot has appeared on the face of the sun, which can easily be seen through smoked glass with the naked eye. Correspondingly we have experienced an extremely cold week. What affinity these two facts have with each other has not been fully decided, but in all probability the condition of the atmosphere is a natural sequence following the decrease in the sun's heating and light-giving power. Our luminary has a diameter of 850,000 miles, and the black spot now visible on his face has a diameter of over 100,000 miles, shutting off about one-eighth of the heat and light, which will readily be recognized as quite a serious matter. Fortunately these sun spots are very evanescent, disappearing as quickly as they appear. As to what they are, astronomers are somewhat divided in opinion, but Dr. Wilson of Edinburgh probably gives the most satisfactory explanation. As the sun is an immense gaseous body, he maintains that the spots seen on its surface are simply indentations or holes in the mass, which move and sway something after the manner of our clouds, the inner portions appearing black. This explanation appeats reasonable, at least.

One of the Vilest Diseases

Is catarrh which first attacks the nose and throat and finally spreads all through the system. The one sure cure is fragrant healing Catarrhozone which is sent by the air you breathe direct to the root of the trouble. Mr T. MacVicar of Yarmouth suffered for years from catarrh and says, "In my long experience with this loathesome disease I never used any remedy that relieved and cured so promptly as Catarrhozone. When my nostrils were so stuffed up that I couldn't breathe I found a few inhalations of Catarrhozone was sufficient to clear away the mucous. I am perfectly cured by Catarrhozone and free from the disease entirely." Use only Catarrhozone. Complete outfit $1 00 trial size 25c.

W. J. McKelvey, of Mono, had his barn burned last week. The exploding of a lantern set fire to the straw and the building was soon a mass of flames. Mr. McKelvey succeeded in saving his stock. The building was insured in the Dufferin Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Co.—Free Press.
