Little Miss Evelyn Wilson entertained a host of little girl friends to a birthday party at the parsonage Saturday evening last. Almost every little girl near her own age was present. The little hostess received a large number of nice presents.

It is some time since we Fleshertonians have enjoyed a first class entertainment. Miss Pauline Johnson is a full-blooded Mohawk Indian and a young lady of unusual literary talents. She is accompanied by Walter McRaye, humorist, and together they will give an entertainment worth hearing. Next Tuesday evening in the town hall. Twenty-five all round.

Three loads of young people attempted to drive over to the Priceville Scotch concert on Friday evening last. When within a mile and a half of their dessination two of the teams were obliged to return home. The third succeeded in getting through by unhitching one horse and some of the boys taking his place at the neckyoke, while the ladies walked—or rather, waded. The return journey was made next morning. All speak of it as a delightful ? experience.

Talk about western blizzards! The storm which swept over this section on Monday night and Tuesday was a pure-bred of the Dakota strain. The intense cold accompanying the wind was what made humanity hug the stove. Nothing worse was put on tap last winter Railway men suffered, but a train managed to get through from Toronto Tuesday evening.

A couple of weeks ago a fur coat belonging to County Councillor D. K. Preston of Maxwell was stolen from a hotel at the station. This was the coat advertised in last week's Advance as having been found. Mr. Preston now has possession of his property, and we understand that a warrant is out for the arrest of the party who appropriated the garment.

Highest cash price paid for hides, sheepskins, tallow, and all kinds of fur. Beef sold by the quarter or half quarter at lowest price. Mark Wilson, Flesherton.

Collingwood had another big fire on Friday last, when the big stores of C. Stephens & Co. were gutted. The damage will amount to about $5000 or $7000 on buildings and $25,000 to $30,000 on stock, the firm having received several thousand dollars worth of goods from the Grand Trunk railway warehouse only a few hours before the fire broke out. Insured for about two-thirds its value, the companies interested being the Economical, Equity, Monarch, Gore, London & Lancashire, York Mutual, London Mutual, Montreal and Canada Independent, Cash Mutual and Standard Mutual.

Assistant P. O. Inspector P. H. McCarrow looked through the postoffice here on Friday last and expressed himself as highly pleased with the condition of affairs. Mr. McCarrow also looked into the matter of changing the Epping-Flesherton route. It is thought by making some change Vandeleur will be able to have a daily mail along with Kimberley and Eugenia. In this event Epping would be cut off from this end and a mail route opened through from Kimberley to Thornbury, and a new postoffice opened near Conn's, where it is badly needed. Mr. McCarrow seemed to look with considerable favor upon such a change. There would be no winter blockades on the proposed route and the country would be much better served, while the extra expense would be small.

The New York World says: "Tekahionwake, the Indian girl in whose veins runs the firey blood of the Mohawks, (who is herself a daughter of the late Chief G. H. M. Johnston—Onwanyshon—head Chief of the Iroquois Confederacy in Canada) was one of the sensations of the past London season. For this gifted daughter of the Red Indian race is not only an accomplished reader of her own verse, but her poems are of a quality that stamps them of unusually high order. Clad in her native costume she appeared before some of the most fashionable English audiences, and her rendering of her compositions captured their admiration. Civilization has touched her with its finer qualities. She is cultivated and brilliant. Her figure is imposing and sets off to advantage the Indian trappings of her rich buckskin garments. The force and dramatic vigor of her work has barbaric swing of primal emotion." Town Hall, Flesherton, Tuesday evening, Feb. 21, under the auspices of the public library.

Gladys Earle of Creemore had an elbow joint removed from her arm at Toronto general hospital. The Star says nature will supply a new one in course of time.
