To Harness Eugenia Falls.

The Toronto Star of Saturday says:

Hidden away among the hills in Grey county, about six miles north of Flesherton Station on the Canadian Pacific Railway, is the snug little village of Eugenia, whose only interest to the outside world has arisen from its proximity to Eugenia Falls, on the Beaver River, a swift-running stream skirting the edge of the village on its way northward to the waters of the Georgian Bay. The Falls and their surroundings form one of the most beautiful and picturesque landscapes in Canada, and year in and year out the nearby banks have been the camping ground of summer holiday parties attracted thither by the charming environments.

Several industries, including saw mills and veneer mills and a small electric plant which supplies Eugenia and Flesherton with light, have been established at Eugenia, deriving their power from small waterfalls on the river, but the energy represented by the Falls proper and by the rapids below during all these years gone past has run to waste.

Like many another of Nature's creations, however, Eugenia Falls has been simply waiting the coming of the day when it would be called upon to give up its resources for the benefit of man. The property is now controlled by a corporation in which Mr. Thomas McLaughlan, 16 King street west, is interested, and which proposes to proceed to the development of the power. Essentially this power consists of about ten feet head above the main falls, thence a perpendicular fall of seventy feet, below which there is a succession of cascades and swift rapids covering a descent of 202 feet, making in all a total head of over 280 feet in a distance of 1,730 feet. It may be noted that such a high head is seldom obtainable in eastern Canada, although on the Pacific coast and in Mexico and South America they are not uncommon.

The plan of developemnt decided upon calls for a dam across the river at the head of the falls. From this dam the water is to be conveyd through a concrete pipe along the north bank of the river to a level to a point above the power house, which will be situated in the gorge below. A steel pipe will connect the end of the concrete pipe on the bank above with the power house. The power house will be built of stone and concrete, abundance of stone and gravel being on the spot. The concrete pipe will also be made at the falls, all the necessary material for its manufactere being at hand with the exception of cement. The hydraulic and electrical machinery will be of the latest and best types and specially suitable for high head plants. In placing the contracts for the machinery, steel pipe, cement and all other material, preference will be given to goods of Canadian manufacture, it is said.

During the last few months no fewer than three engineers of wide experience in modern waterpower development have separately investigated the property and have in each instance reported favorably upon the possibility of a simple and comparitively low-priced developement of power there. It has been decided to make an initial development that will yield 2,600 horsepower net, and plans for same will soon be completed.

The Star could not learn to-day what specific use is to be made of the power produced at Eugenia Falls, as the management declines to make any statement on this point. Toronto capitalists will furnish the money, and if the venture succeds it is possible that power will be transmitted to this city.

Champion Liniment for Rheumatism

Chas. Drake, a mail carrier at Chapinville, Conn., says: "Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the champion of all liniments. The past year I was troubled a great deal with rheumatism in my shoulder After trying several cures the storekeeper here recommended this remedy and it completely cured me." There is no use of anyone suffering from that painful ailment when this liniment can be obtained for a small sum. One application gives prompt relief and its continued use for a short time will produce a permanent cure. For sale by W. E Richardson.

Priceville

The weather for the past two weeks has been very pleasant and we hope it will continue so.

We are pleased to hear that Johnnie Whyte, who went under an operation for appendicitis last week, is slowly recovering.

A number of the young people are going West this week. Among them we notice Messrs. Tom Conkey, Donald McMillan (Donald's), John McMillan (John's), C. E. Watson and also Miss Tena McDonald.

Miss Kate McKinnon leaves this week for Buffalo.

Mr. T. A. M. Ferguson, representative for A. O. U. W. 140 is in Toronto this week attending Grand Lodge. A very successful parlor social under the auspices of the painting committee of the Presbyterian church, was held at the Manse, Thursday evening, March 9th, A lengthy programme consisting of solos, choruses, voilin and gramophone selections was rendered and highly appreciated.

Mr. James McLeod, of Owen Sound, is visiting his mother at present.

Mr. John McInnis had a very successful sale on March 10th. It was well attended and things went at good prices.

Mrs. M. McDougald, aged 69 years passed away at her home, on O. D. R., on Saturday morning after a short illness. The funeral took place to Priceville cemetery.

Our "Review" correspondent noted the fact last week that our village was proud for the first time in its existance of having a county warden in our midst. Yes, we are for the second time in the history of our village, far away—back in the 60's John McDonald, Esq. one of our popular business men was elected Warden, and we do not see how this fact could be so soon forgotten by some of our pioneers, especially as Mr. McDonald was a good Scotchman although he did not "spoke the Gaelic."

Is your Doctor Bill Large?

Best way to keep it small is not to call the doctor, but use Nerviline instead. For minor ailments like colds, coughs, chills, cramps, headache and stomach trouble Nerviline is just as good as any doctor. It breaks up a cold in one night, cures soreness in the chest, and for neuralgia, toothache and rheumatism you can't get anything half as good as Nerviline. The fame of Nerviline for cramps, colic, and pain in the stomach extends far and wide. Good for everything a liniment can be good for and costs but 25c. for a large bottle.
