The rooms over Boyd Hickling & Co's. store were opened for dressmaking on Wed Mar. 29th, Mrs Willett having secured the services of Miss E. Harper, Toronto, to take charge. Miss Harper comes lately from the dressmaking department of The Robert Simpson Co., of Toronto, and is certainly an artist at the business. Ladies requiring Spring Suits and Dresses, will do well to call early and get the styles and prices, which will be made as moderate as possible, and perfect satisfaction guaranteed.

Mr. Martin Phillips delivered the first spring lambs to Cook & McAulay—a pair of them—on Wednesday of last week, receiving therefor five dollars each. The animals were a couple of months old and weighed about forty pounds. Mr. Phillips is one of the early birds, or worm gathchers. He did the same thing last year.

Word arrived Saturday of the death of Rev. J. W. Shilton at his home in Drayton, and came as a shock to his many friends here, although it was known that such an intimation might arrive at any time, as the deceased gentleman suffered a stroke a couple of years ago and had been in poor health ever since. Mr. Shilton left this circuit fourteen years ago. He was a man of large mind and talents and was probably the most beloved pastor that ever occupied the methodist pulpit in Flesherton. Keen sympathy is extended by many here to the widow and son.

Thomas Henry Lumley, an elderly man who has lived in the north-east part of the township, was committed to jail on Friday last by Magistrate Vandusen as a dangerous lunatic. The old gent. was suffering under the delusion that the Russians were after him and were committing murders right and left. It was feared that he might mistake some of his neighbors for Russians and considering himself a Jap, proceed to annihilate them. Bailiff John Wright took him to the county bastille, Friday night.

Spring Show of Entire Stock.

East Grey Agricultural Society will hold a spring show for entire stock on their fair grounds, Flesherton on Friday, April 28th inst. For full particulars, see posters.

Millinery Opening.

F.G. Karstedt's millinery opening on Thursday, Friday and Saturday last week was visited by a large number of the fair sex who all agreed in pronouncing it a superb display of the millinery art. Under the skilful fingers of Miss Haldane a most bewildering variety of charming headgear had been prepared for this opening, and the lady visitors were all enthusiastic in their praises of her taste and talent in assembling shades, colors, flowers, shapes, ribbons, etc., into that which delights the heart of woman and charms the eye of man—beautiful head decorations.

Among the things most admired, we might mention an exceedingly rich lady's hat of most original shape, difficult to describe and do it justice. It was faced in chiffon shaded from deep brown to champagne The crown was of torpedo shape, covered with shirred brown chiffon and decorated with a handsome combination of small bows in brown satin ribbon making an exceedingly rich creation.

Another pretty shape was made entirely of forget-me-nots, with rim tilted straight up at the back and tilted over the face; lightly trimmed with blue and white meline; the crown small and round. This was an airy, graceful hat, and was much admired.

Among the othor newer shapes, and which is all our limited space will allow us to describe, was a hat of large rolling shape, rolled high at the back and made in pleated white, tulle faced with black tulle, trimmed with two tips falling over the rim at back, making a rich thing for an older person.

Miss Haldane and staff are extremely busy on orders but are never too busy to attend to customers.
