The reeve and clerk were in Toronto last week attending the Good Roads Association, and waited upon the government with a large delegation to advocate amendments to the Municipal Act whereby it will be made impossible for every Tom, Dick and Harry who get their ankles sprained to mulct the townships in doctor's bills and damages. Premier Whitney will do something along that line. He thinks the whole Municipal Act is so ambiguous that it will require a complete remodelling. He is right. It has been patched too much, like some old bicyle tubes, won't hold wind, and needs to be replaced with a new one.

If the hurricane and little blizzard of Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday was the expiring kick of winter it was a particularly vigorous one. In this connection it is interesting to note that Hicks foretold for this very period unseasonably warm weather with thunder, lightning and such spring paraphernalia. The contrast with this forecast was very marked. This is twice he has called the wrong weather article this spring. If he does it any more we'll begin to lose faith in him as a prophet.

The entertainment given by the Mission Band on Wednesday of last week proved a success from every point of view. The evening was fine, the attendance was large, the church was beautifully decorated and the children seemed to have been well trained. Misses Lillian and Laura Armstrong sang a duet, and four little girls in costume gave a dialogue entitled 'The four dollies who went as Missionaries"; then followed the Cantata "Crystal and Coin." A dainty lunch was served, the waiters being young misses in kimonos, and with their hair dressed high on their heads in Japanese style. The proceeds amounted to eleven dollars and thirty five cents.

Mr. Frederick Sykes, aged 73 years, passed away at his home, near Rob Roy, on April 12 last. He was the victim of a runaway on April 1st, when he was badly shaken up and sustained internal injuries which proved fatal on Wednesday last. The children are as follows: Edmund, who lives near Flesherton; William, at Collingwood; Charles, who lives with his parents; Mrs. McKennie, of Collingwood, and Aggie, at home. Prince Arthur lodge, No. 338, A. F. & A. M., spent a pleasant and enjoyable evening last Friday night when they received an official visit from R. W. Bro. E. A. Wakefield, of Orillia, D. D. Grand Master of Georgian District No. 9. After having observed an exemplification of the work of the order in the several degrees, he complimented the officers of the Lodge particularly and the brethren in general for the beauty and neatness of the lodge and refreshment rooms, and the adaptability of the same, and the officers particularly for the very creditable manner in which they exemplified the work of the order in the several degrees. He also highly complimented the acting secretary Bro. Jos. Blackburn, for the neat and proper manner in which the books of the lodge were kept by him. After the work in the lodge was over, the brethren, with their distinguished visiting brother, repaired to the refreshment room and there partook of a sumptuous repast, very kindly provided by the good wives of the bretheren of the lodge, and after the inner man was supplied, all spent a pleasant hour in toast and song, which were ably responded to, particularly that of the Grand Lodge of Canada by R.W. Bro. Wakefield, and also many of the brethern present. R.W. Bro. Wakefield is a splendid and pleasing speaker, also a good singer, hence added very materially to the enjoyment of the evening.
