REMEMBER WHEN . . .

Remember when a citizen named Caruso ran a small store on Lindsay Street South?

When there was a small store at the west end of King Street and on the west side of Lindsay Street?

When the first Grand Trunk Railway station was on King Street at the east end of the present Northern Casket Co. plant?

When there was a lovely fountain on the lawn of the old Sylvester residence on Victoria Ave., at Peel Street.

When Morgan Terrill lived on Lindsay Street North and worked on a machine of a rotary type, which he claimed would revolutionize the world — perpetual motion.

Remember when a man named Orwin worked at the Sylvester plant developing the gasoline engine?

When a man named Dennis lived on Lindsay Street, South and manufactured the Dennis pumps for deep wells?

When the old Grammar School was located a hundred yards east of the Lindsay Collegiate?

When the Presbyterian Church was situated on Francis Street between Albert and Sussex Streets?

Remember when the fire hall was on Kent Street, east of the present Tangney block?

When Geo. Mills had a store at the corner of King and Caroline Streets?

When Robert Pogue manufactured baseball bats in a small shop on Sussex Street, South?

When Frank Dennison, tinsmith, turned out the Dennison fish bate and sold hundreds to fishermen from the States?

When the Machine Telephone Company had a plant and office on William Street, north of Kent Street?

When the post office was on Kent Street where Court's Music store is today?

When lawn bowlers played on two greens on the lawn adjacent to the Town Hall on Kent Street?

When the R. M. Beall leather tannery was at the southwest end of the Wellington Street bridge?

When the Thomas Shoe Company was at the corner of Sussex and Glenelg Streets and how many citizens lost a bundle of money when the plan folded and the operation vanished?
