Industrial Home Notes

(By an Inmate)

Mr. Editor,—Your correspondent returned to the Home on Thursday last after a two weeks visit among friends in the old neighborhood in which he spent so many years of his former life, and reviving his memory with the many pleasant recollections of those long past days when the beloved old settlement was comparatively new. The visit would have been most enjoyable had it not been marred by a very severe attack of his old time complaint, which, for the most part confined him to bed or kept him closely within doors, nevertheless his many friends did not forget to call on him and express their good wishes for his future welfare, and for which he feels most grateful. He was very much pleased to note the progress that had been made in the neighborhood since he left it a year ago; a large portion of the old, worn out, tumble down rail fences has entirely disappeared and are replaced by new and substantial wire fences, while other crooked ones have been made straight, which materially betters the appearance, until they too will disappear to be replaced by better. In addition to the long stretch of new fence. Mr. W. Hill has raised his large frame house which only awaits the masons and bricklayers to finish what will be a commodious and handsome residence. Mr John McLeod has veneered with brick his spacious house and painted the roof, cornice etc., in bright and attractive colors, and now possesses as handsome a residence as is to be found in the locality, while Mr. Harrow, who, after years of indomitable perseverance, has made a success where all his predecessors failed, and is now putting the finishing touches on a commodious and handsome brick house built last fall. May you live long to enjoy it, old friend. We also noticed that Mr. Frank Cairns has greatly improved his residence, making it comfortable and attractive. These and other improvements in the neighborhood are a guarantee of the thriftiness of its people, and may their prosperity continue to increase.

Your correspondent desires to express his sincere thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Collinson, of Ceylon, for their kind entertainment of him, while waiting for the return of his lodge on the evening of July 12, also to Mr. and Mrs. J. Cairns of the Globe Hotel, for the kind and comfortable accommodation extended to him on that night, free of charge. He also desires to acknowledge his thanks to those of his old friends whom he met in Flesherton for their kind expressions towards him, as well as to Mr. Fred Wright for kindly bringing his team and driving him to Stone's line on the following morning. Thanks to every one.

In my last report from the Home, a slight error was inadvertently made by stating that old Doc Falls and Archie Lockhart had been discharged from the Home. Falls went, but at the last moment, and after the items were posted, Archie changed his mind and decided to stay, hence the error. A few days later the old Doc's mind was changed for him, and much against his will he was sent back to the Home where he will likely have to remain until he can leave under more favorable circumstances, or be removed by death.

Little Miss Ruby Stone accompanied your cor. on his return to spend a day with her sister, Miss Robinson of the Home Staff.

One old lady was admitted to the Home during your scribe's absence, and another to day, Monday, but I have not yet ascertained the name or the wherefrom of either.

Mr. W.J. McFarland of Toronto visited the Home a few days ago and presented the management with a life size portrait of himself. We understand it decorates the mens' dining room.

Eugenia

Haying is almost over in this locality; fall wheat is ready to cut, a splendid crop of hay and all sorts of farm produce. This is making our farmers wear a happy smile on their faces. The man behind the plough has the best of it this year.

You may read our nation's history and the lives of men of note and you'll find with few exceptions that the ones on whom we dote were not the sons of wealthy men, and you know that even now the best men in the country have been seen behind the plough. Although the remarks of that piece in your last paper would infer that farmers and pathmaster in general were a very ignorant clas of people. Perhaps the Khan, whoever he is, has been some old navvy and has been a professional hand at road making. Let him come and see our Eugenia roads. He will find our pathmasters, altho farmers, understand all about the making of good roads.

Mr. Vandwick used different kinds of asthma remedies, both internal and external; but got but little relief. He had to get up in the night and use smoking powders to get relief. He heard of Cameron's Asthma Cure and purchased one bottle. After taking the first three or four doses, he got relief. He has only taken one bottle and since then he has not had to use any smoking powders. A Warning To Mothers

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates, and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlains Cohc, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and then a dose of castor oil, and the disease may be checked in its incipiency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by W. E. Richardson.

Nerviline has a direct action on ague and chills and removes their exciting causes. In stomach and bowel disorders Nerviline has held first place for nearly fifty years. It is powerful, swift to act, thorough and perfectly safe. Being pleasant to taste it's popular with everybody. Your druggist sells Polson's Nerviline in large 25c. bottles; satisfaction guaranteed.
