Industrial Home Notes

(By an Inmate)

The hay crop on this property, which, in the early part of the season, was predicted by some of our wiseacres to be worth when cutting time should come but little more than the trouble of saving it, nevertheless has turned out, though the acreage was small, to be exceptionally good, and was, nearly two weeks ago, in addition to five acres of meadow grass, purchased from Mr. R. Wright, Orange Valley, safely housed in prime condition. This good management may be largely attributed to the assiduous energy of the Superintendant, whom we think, is justly entitled to field pay in addition to his regular salary, for not only in the hay field but also in the garden has he filled the place of a good man, working like a Trojan since the opening of spring, and if there is another man in the province holding a like position, taking a greater interest in and performing a greater amount of manual labor in addition to his regular duties as the governor of a County Industrial Home, we should like to be informed of the fact. The barley is also cut and in the barn, as also the produce of several samples of grain received from the O.A.C., which are very fine and should Mr. H. exhibit some of the products of this county industrial farm, the probabilities are that he will in several instances be a prize winner for he has a great variety both in field and garden crops.

The names of the two old ladies received to the Home, and referred to in last report, were Mrs. Criezer of Artemesia, and Mrs. Elizabeth Waterson of Glenelg. The latter, who was admitted on the last day of July, was, on the 5th of the present month, transferred to Owen Sound jail until she can be received into a proper asylum for the insane. Age undoubtedly renders people feeble, but at the same time insanity frequently adds strength to feebleness, even in extreme old age, making close confinement of the patient, and the careful watchfulness of their attendants, necessary, to prevent them from doing harm in some way or other. Such was the case with Mrs. Waterson, and none of the old lady inmates were able to do it, yet it was done, while here, by the matron, who has at all times a sufficient burden in performing the arduous duties involved upon her, and it was touchingly noticeable when the poor old creature was being taken away, that she seemed to realize that she was being taken from a good home, and from the care and protection of a kind christian friend. We trust the poor old lady will always receive as good treatment during the remainder of her unfortunate life as she received from the Superintendent of this Home of Refuge.

Thursday last had much the appearance of a special day for visitors from a distance. About thirty names were registered, some from New York State, New Jersey, Toronto, Sarnia, and other remote places, among those from this district was the Rev. J.S. I.Wilson, the new pastor of Markdale Methodist church. The male inmates, not otherwise engaged, were enjoying the shade of the verandah. For each of the gentleman had a most cordial and genial conversation and to them a portion of scripture was read in prayer, the fervency of which and his affability left a favorable impression on the heart of every one, irrespective of creed or profession. The reverend gentleman expressed his regret that his duties prevented him from giving a regular service on the Sabbath day, yet he hoped to hold regular meetings as frequently as possible on a week day, and that he would strain a point to hold an occasional meeting on the Sabbath day, but of these Sabbath services, he could not promise to give perhaps more frequently that at intervals of five or six months. These, however, will be most acceptable and duly appreciated. We understand that arrangements are anticipated being made with ministers of other denominations to hold similar meetings so that the inmates of the several denominat ion may receive the benefits of their own church.

It is pleasing to note that the reading of scripture and prayer each morning and evening in the hospital room and instituted a short time ago by one of the inmates, is steadily becoming more interesting and better attended, and it is to be hoped that much good may be accomplished among the needy inmates by the voluntary and laudable efforts of its workers.

The divine service on Sunday last may be justly classed as one of the most successful and pleasant meetings ever held in this institution. The interest taken by outside friends was manifest by the number in attendance, especially ladies. Mr. and Mrs. Erskine of Markdale conducted the singing, assisted by the rich tenor voice of Mr. John Baines and two or three good sopranos rendered the service both impressive and attractive. Mrs. Erskine has a very sweet alto voice, while her husband is possessed with a deep rich bass voice. After delivering a forceful and impressive discourse from Psalm 77, Mr. Harness turned the meeting over to Mr. Ennis to close in such form as he might choose. Mr. Ennis then gave a brief but fervent exhortation, and proposed to hold a fellowship meeting before separating. The proposition was met with hearty response, the intervals being occupied by vocal selections rendered—by Mr. and Mrs. Erskine and Mr. Baines. The benediction, pronounced by Mr. Ennis brought to a close a most successful and enjoyable meeting. May we have many more like it. Mr. Morwood will conduct the service on Sunday next.

A Warning To Mothers

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates, and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlains Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and then a dose of castor oil, and the disease may be checked in its incipiency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For saleby W. E. Richardson.
