Industrial Home Notes

(By an Inmate)

All the grain crop on this property is now cut, the barley is safely housed and the remaining crop only requires a few days of fine weather to complete the grain harvest. At swinging a cradle our superintendent would down many a much younger man.

Still they come, and still may they be expected to come from this onward. Four more inmates were admitted on Saturday last from the county jail, Owen Sound, one male and three females, among whom was Mrs. Waterson, the old lady who was sent from here to O. Sound a short time ago as insane, but the poor old lady will soon cease to be a trouble to any one. Another of the old ladies admitted is blind and the other one demented, though not very troublesome unless excited, so says her former attendant. The male inmate admitted from the jail, John Lumley by name, is a strong, robust man apparently under sixty years but very much demented, though harmless so far as we know for indeed we have had but little opportunity of ascertaining as he only remained one night, for early on Sunday morning he managed to slip away unobserved, and no one can form any idea where he is gone, but most probably a few days hence he will be brought back. John claims a very close relationship to royalty, with peers, viscounts and marquises galore for nephews and cousins; is possessed with vast estates, a chest of gold, mortgages by the score and great expectations from lots of relations. He has a very intelligent countenance but his intellect is badly shattered. To keep such poor creatures as these in close confinement would be both unreasonable and inhuman, and yet, it would tax the watchfulness of all in the house to keep them within the bounds of the institution Insanity frequently forms cunning devices to elude the vigilance of their keepers and it would not be a difficult matter to quietly slip off unnoticed from this institution.

Mr. Moore, a blind man and a well known lay preacher throughout Holland and Euphrasia, applied to the Superintendent one day last week for admission to the home, but having no committal papers he could not be admitted but he was directed how to obtain admission. It is said that he is a well educated man and a forceful preacher.

There were a large number of visitors on Thursday last. A number of them were obliged to leave without being shown through the house owing to the lateness of their arrival.

Intending visitors to the institution are requested to bear in mind that at 4 o'clock the house is closed to visitors. This is imperative, as the duties of the staff require their attention in other capacities. The hours in which the house is open to visitors is from 10 to 12 a. m. and from 2 to 4 p. m. on Thursday of each week.

The Divine service on Sunday last was conducted by Mr. Morwood, the after part of the service taking the form of a most pleasant fellowship meeting. The service room was full to the door. On Sunday next one of the inmates will (D. V.) assist in the service by delivering a discourse on the confession of sin, a duty.

Since writing the above items, the man Lumley referred to above returned to the Home of his own accord. He was back in time for dinner, but says he is going away again, can't keep him here. He is gone again this morning.

It was generally understood that this house was built for a House of Refuge, a haven for the deserving poor and infirm who were incapacitated from labor with no means of self-support, but it is visibly being converted into a hospital for helpless cripples expelled from regular hospitals because of their helplessness; into a blind asylum, where the blind may lead the blind, and finally into a dumping ground for lunatics, under the plea that they are perfectly quiet and harmless, ignoring the fact that these poor unfortunate imbeciles are at any time liable to become violent and do a great deal of harm either to themselves or their aged and feeble associates. But, perhaps the Owen Sound authorities do not fully comprehend the meaning of insanity. At least it appears very much like it when they would return to the institution a woman who, a short time ago, was sent here, and was pronounced insane by the house physician, a woman whose cries and moans are ringing in the ears of your correspondent while writing these lines. Is the judgement of the House physician to be trampled on or counted nil? Is the evidence of the matron and other respectable witnesses to be treated with contempt? If such be the case it were better for the credit of the people of Grey had the House never been built. As a House of Refuge, as a home for the poor, the institution has filled the bill in every detail, and we think the majority of the inmates are thankful and contented. As an hospital for some such cases as are at present, and have been here it is a decided failure. It is true we have a good, kind gentlemanly physician, but regular hospital requirements or special diet for sick inmates there are none. The small staff is already taxed to its utmost capacity and cannot possibly devote the necessary time and attention required by sick, blind and helpless inmates, and it is a matter for wonderment how the master and matron do so much for them. As to the insane ones, those apparently quiet and harmless ones, are they to roam around at will until their mild form of insanity breaks out into open violence? Surely not. Are they to be penned up in solitary confinement in anticipation of these outbreaks? Surely not. Is the management to be held responsible for safe-keeping when egress from the premises is so easily accomplished? Again, surely not. This is unmistakably an unfit place for maniacs, whether their malady be of a mild or violent form. We do not think that the ratepayers of the county of Grey ever intended this institution to be utilized for such a combination of purposes as at the present time exists, and it is to be hoped that better arrangements for its general management will be considered and adopted in the near future.

Lumbley, the man referred to in these items, is spending to-night in Markdale lock up, having rejected all persuasions to return and resisted all efforts to bring him back to the home. No doubt the good citizens of Markdale have experienced that he is not a fit subject to be at large or an inmate of the H R. He will probably be committed to Owen Sound by a J. P.

A Warning To Mothers.

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates, and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlains Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and then a dose of castor oil, and the disease may be checked in its incipiency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For saleby W. E. Richardson.

Nothing on the Market Like Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

This fact is well known to druggists everywhere, and nine out of ten will give their customers this preparation when the best is asked for. Mr. Obe Witmer, a prominent druggist of Joplin, Mo. in a circular to his customers, says: "There is nothing on the market in the way of patent medicines which equals Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints. We sell and recommend this preparation." For sale by W. E. Richardson.

Eugenia

Harvesting is almost over in this locality, some threshing has been done. A good yield of grain is reported.

Mr. Robert Williams has had an artesian well drilled. Messrs. Lever and Littlejohns had the contract. At the depth of one hundred and fifty feet, six inches they struck a flowing spring. It is the deepest well in this locality. Mr. Williams is looking out for an assistant to help him to pump the water and do some housework, as he dreads the cold weather soon approrching.

Mrs. William Hogg, Toronto, is visiting at Mr. J. R. Hogg's at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Pedlar have returned home from a most delightful visit to Manitoba and the Northwest. They enjoyed the trip and found all of their children settled there, well and prosperous. They met a great many people from these parts, who were Advance readers and say it is better than letters from home. That speaks well for our popular paper to go so far and cheer the hearts of loved ones in their far distant homes.

Miss Robertson, of Carluke, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Fred Deagle at present.

We are sorry to hear that Mr. William Hislop, of the valley, still remains seriously ill.

Miss Rosy Gilbert has been on the sick list; glad to hear she is recovering.

A couple of our citizens settled a dispute recently by using their fists. It was fun for the boys but not a very good example.

A Successful Horseman.

Never allows his horse to suffer pain. He always uses Nerviline which is noted for curing stiffness, Rheumatism, swellings and strains. Nerviline is just as good inside as outside. For cramps, colic and internal pain it's a perfect marvel. In the good racing stables Nerviline is always used—because it makes better horses and smaller veterinary bills. Twenty-five cents buys a large bottle of Nerviline; try it.

Warden McArthur is expected in town today to meet with the county crown attorney and the jail officials with regard to five inmates of the jail who are committed as insane but whom the asylum authorities say are not fit subjects for asylum treatment, the jail inspector says should not be kept in jail, and the house of refuge committee will not admit as proper persons for commitment to that institution. Governor Miller is naturally in a quandary and County Crown Attorney Armstrong has been holding back the order which the judge has given that the quintette be discharged. The cases are most pitiable as the rules of the three institutions do not admit of their transfer to either place and they must ultimately be returned to the municipalities from which they came. —O. S. Times.

A little forethought may save you no end of trouble. Anyone who makes it a rule to keep Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy knows this to be a fact. For sale by W. E. Richardson.
